DELEGATES POUR INTO NEW YORK

Political Experts Figure Actual and Potential Strength of Leading Candidates

Silzer, Glass, Underwood and Cox Open Headquarters in New York

Main Test Between Smith and McAdoo on K. K. K. League and Prohibition

NEW YORK, June 20.—With the increasing influx of delegates to the national democratic convention, the political mathematicians are busily engaged in figuring the actual and potential strength of the leading candidates, complicated as their task is by the arrival of favorite sons and dark horses in candidates' row.

Two separate movements to groom John W. Davis of West Virginia, former ambassador to Great Britain, for the nomination developed in Washington and Chicago and were growing stronger every minute, when it arrived here after Davis let it be known that he was in a receptive mood.

Party chieftains admittedly against McAdoo and neutral regarding Smith, immediately began sounding out state leaders on Davis as a possible compromise candidate in the event that the Smith-McAdoo contest developed a deadlock.

SISTER OF SLAIN FRANKS BOY THREATENED

CHICAGO, June 20.—A letter threatening Josephine Franks, sister of the kidnaped and slain Robert Franks, to whose murder Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb confessed, has been received by Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court.

The letter is regarded by Chief Justice Caverly as the work of a crank. It was signed "George Johnson" the name used in the ransom note sent by Leopold and Loeb. It is only one of 100 letters received by Chief Justice Caverly concerning the Franks case and was turned over to the police with the others.

Because the latest letter came so soon after a note threatening to kidnap the son of Irvin H. Hartman, wealthy furniture dealer, who has sent his two children to California, the police believe a number of cranks and mischievous persons are spending their spare time writing such notes.

REFUSE TO SIT IN R. I. SENATE

Attack Follows Gas Attack Which Caused Collapse of Five Members

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 20.—(By Associated Press) As a result of the flooding with poisonous gas of the senate chamber yesterday and the collapse of five senators, the republican senators announced through the State Central committee today that they were leaving the state and would not sit in the senate chamber until means were taken to protect them. The senate is scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. In the formal statement of the central committee, Mr. Pelkey as its chairman declared that "well known" were constantly circulating among the spectators at the republican sessions, would remain beyond the reach of legal process until Gov. Flynn and Lieut. Gov. Toupin. (Continued to Page 12)

REGATTA COURSE, NEW LONDON, Conn., June 20.—The Thames racing lane was smooth as a mill pond and there was little wind this morning when the Harvard and Yale freshmen eights came down to the starting line of their two-mile race up stream. Conditions were ideal for racing. Yale won the two-mile freshman race by four lengths. Yale made an easy race, taking an early lead which she steadily (Continued to Page 12)

WARNING OF COAL SHORTAGE

Large Part of Next Winter's Anthracite Supply Should Be Purchased Now

(Special to the Sun) BOSTON, June 20.—Warning that there may be a shortage of coal next fall and winter, and higher prices, is issued today by the state commission on necessities of life. The commission points out that production of anthracite has decreased this year about ten per cent as compared with last year, while the mine price has advanced twenty cents per ton since the first of April. Householders who insist upon using anthracite, even at any cost, are told by the commission that they "should purchase their supply, or at least a (Continued to Page 8)

thing that particularly impressed him, he said, was that the majority of those present were men well along in years. "You could count the men under 35 years of age on your fingers," said Mr. Martin. John J. King, Murderer of Dracut Pastor, Adjudged Insane by Board of Alienists

John J. King, Jr., charged with the murder of Rev. Michael C. Gilbride at Collinsville on the morning of June 5 and charged also with assault with intent to kill Capt. David Petrie of the Lowell police department, has been adjudged insane by alienists of the state bureau for feeble-minded, who reported their findings at East Cambridge today.

REV. FR. GILBRIDE AND MAN WHO SHOT HIM

CITY LABORER DROPS DEAD AT STABLES

Thomas F. Dunlavey, used about 55 years, of 134 Grand street, collapsed at the city stables in Broadway this noon and died before medical assistance could be rendered. Mr. Dunlavey was employed by the city as a helper on one of the sparrow wagons and had just finished his dinner when he fell to the ground. Fellow-workers rushed to his assistance and the ambulance was summoned, but he was dead before it arrived. The body will be viewed later this afternoon by Medical Examiner Marshall L. Alling.

Examination of King by the state alienists was conducted yesterday, and although their report is not final, it is expected that a second examination to be made by Dr. Utley, Middlesex County alienist, will substantiate their finding. If such is the case, King will be confined to a state insane hospital, probably the one at Bridgewater.

The report of the alienists means that King will not go to trial on either the murder charge or the assault charge. Grand jury indictments in both have been returned and preliminary arraignments were made a week or so ago. Yesterday, in this city, Judge Pickman held an inquest on the death of Fr. Gilbride, several witnesses being heard.

LAWRENCE NARCOTIC CASES ON TRIAL TODAY IN DISTRICT COURT

Expert Testimony at Forenoon Session in Cases of Samuel and Anna Buckley Charged With Violations of Drug Laws and Possession of Hypodermic Instruments

Samuel Buckley, of 45 Bartlett street, heard, the hearing was adjourned at street, Lawrence, and his wife, Anna, 1230 1/2 street, to be resumed this afternoon. Buckley, alleged confessed drug addict, went to trial in district court this morning in connection with violations of the narcotic laws, for which they were arrested in this city on May 27, summoned by defendant's counsel, Gen. last, by state and local police. Owing Gardner W. Pearson. Among these to the long list of witnesses to be (Continued to Last Page)

SINKING LINER WITH 700 ABOARD RACES AGAINST TIME AND WINS

Thrilling Story Told After Two Battered Steamers Found Their Way Into St. John's After Colliding In Fog Off Cape Race—Loss of Life Miraculously Averted

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 20.—How a liner, half crippled and slowly sinking, raced against time with her 700 passengers through a blind fog, off the Newfoundland coast, and won—was told after two battered steamers found their way into this port last night after colliding in the fog off Cape Race. The vessels were the Italian steamer Clara Camus which crept into port with her forward peak driven back to the foremast which by the force of the collision and the Canadian Pacific liner Montserrat, bearing 700 passengers bound for Montreal from Glasgow. The Montserrat, listing heavily to port with the rushing water gaining on her pumps, was heading for a shoal in St. John's harbor. Both ships reported that, almost miraculously, they were saved.

Hundreds of Other Unusual Values in Every Department—Thousands of Pretty New Wash Dresses at LOWEST PRICES—COME AND SAVE

In New York

NEW YORK, June 20.—Richard Gimbel, 26-year-old scion of the fabulously wealthy department store family, just returned from his European honeymoon.

Turned with the suns of two continents, he flatteringly refused to pose for photographers. They were astounded. The wealthy Philadelphia had always been so graciously accommodating.

Kingdom, but firmly, they asked for an explanation. He gave it.

Last year when he returned from abroad he was single. There was a beautiful Chicago girl on board. He had struck up a ship's acquaintance during the homeward voyage. The photographers induced her to pose with the gay Gimbel—as delightful atmosphere to an important picture.

By the time the innocent picture was printed in Chicago an enthusiastic caption writer had engaged the girl to young Gimbel.

Two days later she appeared in his office in a reign of terror, following a frantic trip from St. Louis. She explained that she had been in love, engaged to be married. But when her fiance had seen the picture and mislaid title in the home town newspaper, he had snapped the love strings and gone his broken-hearted way.

Gimbel patched up the fragments of the love disaster over long-distance telephone immediately, and all went well with the Chicago couple. But as for himself—he was through with newspaper photographers. He was reminded that conditions were different this year. He was married—and his wife was with him.

As though he had forgotten all about his marriage, his face brightened at this ready argument of the crafty photographers.

"Sure," he said to his wife as they sat within range of the camera. "It doesn't make any trouble if they do say we are engaged. If they do say we are married."

Every tattered beggar woman who pounds the streets in quest of small coins has sung a long time.

There must be some beggar's dentist to create them. It seems impossible that they could all grow so commodiously in the months of beggary.

The most luxurious office I have seen in all New York is the executive suite at the United States custom house, downtown in Bowling Green.

The ceiling is artistically done in gold leaf. Oil paintings depicting every part of the world adorn the side walls. The furniture is staunch and stable as the government that owns it.

This one suite, occupied by the collector of the port, cost $35,000.

JAPANESE ORDERED TO LEAVE LOS ANGELES
LOS ANGELES, June 20.—While speakers addressing the California yearly meeting of Friends, in session at Whittier, were urging that the "voice of the church" be raised against Japanese exclusion, a crowd of men and women at Belvidere, nearby, last night called at the home of M. Kawamoto, Japanese, and urged him to leave the town. Arrival of police broke up the demonstration but signs stating that "Americans are being misled by the Japanese and Japanese are coming to be misled here" remained posted in conspicuous places.

LANDIS AND MACNIDER INJURED IN AUTO CRASH
OSAGE, Ia., June 20.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, and Sanford MacNider, manager of the American League, were slightly injured in an automobile accident near here. An automobile driven by MacNider collided with another machine. MacNider's car was hurled into a ditch, but the occupants escaped serious injury.

REFERENDUM FAILURE G. O. P. NEEDED DAWES CANDLER ASKS DIVORCE

Few Votes Cast by Lynn Shoe Workers—Ballots Burned in Church Furnace

LYNN, June 20.—Votes cast in the referendum sponsored by Rev. Chester J. Underhill, pastor of the Washington Street Baptist church, during the past few days, were so few that they were burned this forenoon by the tellers in the church furnace without being counted.

Only several hundred of the 10,000 shoe workers in the city saw fit to express their preference for one of the four propositions, appearing on the ballots printed in the newspapers, which were the Boot and Shoe Workers union, Amalgamated Shoe Workers, open shop and plan of shop representation.

The others followed the advice of their labor leaders and Rev. Joseph L. Wheeler, a local pastor, and declined to vote. Members of the Lynn Interchurch union failed to endorse the referendum idea.

Rev. Mr. Underhill stated today that he interpreted the failure of the shoe workers to vote to mean that they were satisfied to remain with the Amalgamated Shoe Workers.

He had previously stated that this was an organization with a good purpose, which had been handicapped by radicals. He will give a post mortem talk on the referendum at his church Sunday evening and believes that his labor talks have been effective.

WIFE OF U. S. SEN. CURTIS DEAD
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Mrs. Anna Bard Curtis, wife of Senator Curtis of Kansas, died early today at her home.

Mrs. Curtis was a native of Topeka, Kas. She had been ill for a number of years and had been unable to leave Washington even during the recesses of congress. Hope for her recovery was abandoned for many months.

DEATH CAR DRIVER GIVEN THREE MONTHS
NEW BEDFORD, June 20.—Mamuel Delgado, driver of the automobile truck that ran into a roadster on the F. R. Dexter road Oct. 23, 1923, causing the death of the Rev. Alfred E. Conlon, pastor of St. George's church in Westport, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge Henry T. Lummus in superior court. Delgado was convicted of a charge of operating an automobile in a dangerous manner and endangering the safety and lives of the public.

TO STIR THINGS UP

MONTCLAIR, N. J., June 20.—That the republican party has been helped by the nomination of Gen. Dawes for vice president, was the keynote of an address by Senator Edge before the Montclair branch of the Essex county republican committee last night. He said he believed the nomination would add the vital punch to the republican campaign.

"We are going to have a pretty warm campaign," he declared after a resume of the administration of President Coolidge, the man "who could sit in the White House and without effort resolve the overwhelming vote of congress that he did."

"We needed Dawes in this campaign to stir things up, and on this ticket he is an asset. He will be more than an asset with a little of his hell and his fire before the campaign is over."

STEVENS STREET TO BE PAVED WITHOUT WIDENING

Protests of Abutters Heard By Public Service Board, While Those in Favor of Additional Width Fail to Appear—Hearing Held Last Night at City Hall

The Stevens street widening project met its death in the board of public service last night when, following a conference with residents of the street, two members of the board announced they would vote to disapprove the proposed widening. Chairman Dennis J. Murphy and Frederick E. Meley made their statements as favoring the abutters following over an hour and a half of argument on the merits and advantages of the plan.

Former Mayor James B. Casey and Councilor Arthur H. Chadwick both stepped into the breach when they seen the abutters were having things pretty much their own way. Both favored widening the street. They did not receive, however, the burst of applause that marked the end of speeches against the widening. Not one person owning property in that portion of Stevens street which would be affected, and expressing that property as their home, spoke in favor of the plan.

In stating that he would vote against widening, Chairman Murphy roundly scolded those who, he said, had come to him and favored the street widening privately but were lacking in the courage to "come down and stand up to be counted." Mr. Murphy said he believes every street in the city, if less than 40 feet in width, should be widened if feasible, and added that a car line in any narrow street is a detriment. After adding that the movement for the street widening did not originate in the board of public service, Mr. Murphy stated that he would vote against widening.

Mr. Meley said he was responsible for the conference called last night, a public hearing having already been held, and that he had hoped some amicable and equitable agreement might be reached. He agreed with Mr. Murphy that several residents of Stevens street had spoken to him privately in favor of the widening, and that his opinion that the street should be widened is unchanged, but, he added, he would bow to the wishes of the majority of those who had the interest and courage to attend and be counted. Fred G. Leary, the third member of the board, made no statement.

Plant Action Next Week

No official vote was taken by the board, Messrs. Murphy and Meley simply expressing public statements of their attitude. The official interment of the widening project will undoubtedly be at the next regular meeting of the board on next Thursday afternoon. Many other matters on which public hearings were held last night will also come up for action next Thursday afternoon.

Bernard P. O'Neill, 654 Stevens st., was the first to speak against the widening plan. He said he did not care to lose any land and that the majority of neighbors feel the same way. To cut two feet off the front of his lawn would depreciate his property to the extent of $1,500 in valuation, he said.

"If I were you, I'd keep quiet about that—the assessors might hear you," said Mr. Murphy. Mr. Meley and Mr. Murphy produced the engineer's drawing of Stevens street and stated that Mr. O'Neill would be one of the least affected should the widening go through.

Would Need Side Door

Mrs. Ethel Webster, 658 Stevens street, said her property is only three feet from the sidewalk now and that should the widening project be approved, it would be necessary to close the front porch and build a side entrance to the house. She suggested a standing vote of those present to show the board how sentiment stood.

Fred Harrison, 653 Stevens street, said he'd be willing to take up the statement of Mr. Meley, made earlier in the evening, to the effect that he stand by the majority.

"He didn't say that," said Chairman Murphy. "He said he wanted to do what was best for the majority." Mr. Harrison also suggested a standing vote.

Mrs. Webster said that if the board would straighten the line of telephone poles, define the sidewalk lines and repair the present street, that the most good for the greatest number would be done.

Frank H. Hull, 656 Stevens street said his front steps are right on the sidewalk now and the widening would necessitate the building of a side entrance and abandonment of a front entrance. "It'd make your property look like a joke," interrupted Mr. O'Neill.

Would Be Third Side

A Mr. Durrell, who said he lives at Parker and Stevens street, said that if this project went through it would be the third time the city had chopped a slice of his land there for one purpose or another. He said he objected to continued invasion of his home rights. He was roundly applauded. The applause which greeted each speaker who was against the widening apparently was beginning to irritate Mr. Murphy for he said sharply:

"Gentlemen, there is no sentiment in this. Applause will not affect the board at all. What we want is sound, logical, convincing arguments, pro and con, on this question."

Chadwick Takes Blame

Councilor Arthur R. Chadwick introduced himself as "the party who started all this trouble," stating that he realized the wrath of the abutters will fall on him, he wished to continue to recommend the widening of the street. While he was convinced, he said, that a five foot widening on either side might be too damaging to none, he wished to favor a widening of at least two feet on each side.

Mrs. Webster and Mr. Hull both said they wished they knew earlier of this plan and they would certainly have tried to sell their properties while they were marketable. They doubted very much if they would be marketable after the proposed improvement was carried out. Two others got up to say that they had just bought property in the street and feel that somebody must have known something about it for they are commencing to feel afraid that the widening would pass and they'd find themselves "holding the bag."

Says Imperative

James R. Casey said he was speaking for Rev. Fr. Galligan of St. Margaret's church who wished to say he would abide by whatever the board decided. "He wishes to take a public-spirited attitude," said Mr. Casey, "and would be more greatly affected than any other abutter."

Mr. Casey said his personal hope is for an amicable arrangement with the abutters which would permit the improvement of the street as desired. "There is no question but the widening is imperative," he said. "I dare say that if widened and improved as contemplated, the abutters one year hence will be pleased. If the attitude of these abutters was followed out everywhere no improvements would be made—we'd still be paving streets with cobblestones."

Statement is Doubtful

Mrs. Webster took exception to the former mayor's statement that the widening is imperative, stating that it is not necessary but simply desirable.

"The tendency of all cities is for wider thoroughfares," said Mr. Murphy. "The wider the street the better street it is."

John Kilpatrick spoke in favor of the widening. He owns land in Stevens street, but does not live there. He asked the board if it were true that the board had decided that should there be no widening there would be no improvements in the street.

"I'm not so sure that I'll vote in favor of widening," said Mr. Murphy. Mr. Chadwick urged the board to take a vote before leaving so that the residents would have a definite answer.

The statements by Messrs. Murphy and Meley, stating they would vote against the widening of the street, followed. There was no attitude taken on the matter of improving the street, but this may follow at the meeting of the board next Thursday afternoon.

Hearings on Petitions

The following hearings were concluded and action will follow at next Thursday's meeting:

Petition of Christos Nervous for a sidewalk in front of the premises numbered 110 Washington street. No one appeared to speak for or against the petition.

Petition of Edward T. Goward that 117 feet of edgestones be laid in front of the premises at 183 Butnam road. No one appeared.

Petition of Thomas W. Johnson, et al, that Barnard avenue be accepted as a public street and that a sidewalk be laid there. No one appeared.

Petition of Arthur J. Roux that Crawford street be accepted, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. No one appeared.

Petition of Morris Schulman for a sidewalk in front of the premises numbered 144 Bellevue street. No one appeared.

Petition of Marie Turcotte that a sidewalk be laid in front of the premises numbered 149 Bellevue street. No one appeared.

Petition of William W. Greene et al that a portion of Holbrook avenue extending from Andover street to beyond what is known as Lot 117 be accepted as a public street. No one appeared.

Petition of Patrick F. Muboney for approximately 300 feet of sewer at 188-208 Parkview avenue. The board expressed approval of this petition. No one being opposed, the hearing was closed.

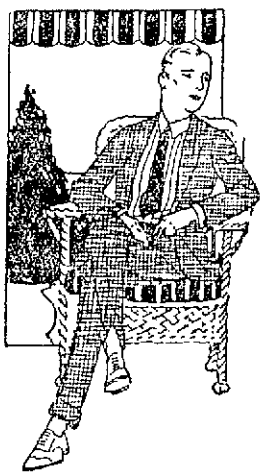

Petition of Nellie F. Murphy for a sewer to drain the premises numbered 189 Parker street. One protest. Taken under consideration.

Petition of Charles U. Stickney that the unincorporated portion of Warren st. be taken over by the city for use as a public way. Hearing postponed and action deferred at request of Arthur C. Spalding, counsel for the Middlesex Co., owners of the land.

Question of New Oil Price

A regular meeting of the board preceded the hearings. The board spent

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

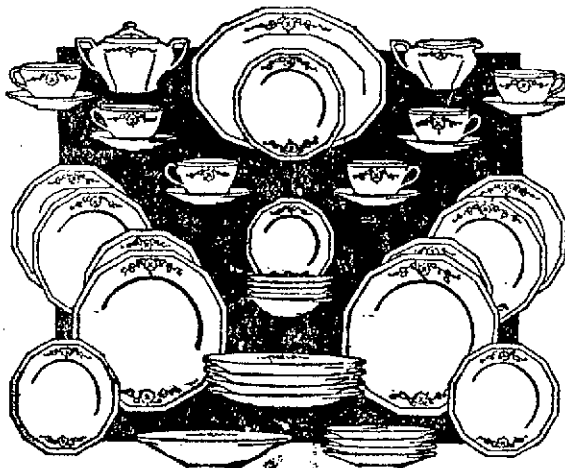

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

CHEX REBUS CONTEST WINS PUBLIC INTEREST

H. G. Semler, district manager for the Pioneer Products Co., today declared that the contest now being conducted by his company for the purpose of obtaining an effective advertising slogan together with the contest for competition for children, has surpassed in interest all expectations for this community. Mr. Semler said reports from his headquarters indicate that the number of entries from his district equal in number those from any other district in the country.

"Citizens and children in this district have caught the spirit of the contest and a hearty enthusiasm for taking part in it has resulted that is highly gratifying to all concerned," Mr. Semler said. "I think it shows not only that our people here are careful newspaper readers, but that they are of an individual type that is appealed to strongly by any problem or matter which requires study and mental originality."

The contest, which carried prizes totalling $75 in gold for the best advertising slogan for Cheo, put on the market as a remarkable new soap that cleanses and deodorizes the skin perfectly and the only thing of its kind ever produced, the prizes totalling $25 for children under 15 years whose solution of the Cheo word puzzle was begun June 3. Mr. Semler said that so great has been the response that the board of judges, headed by Judge Alfred McCray of the common pleas court of Dayton, expects to have many days' work selecting the winners after the contest closes.

Secret of Keeping Young

Why is it that some women look older at thirty-nine than others do at fifty? Why is it that so many women are always run-down, weak, pale, nervous, irritable and unhappy? Health, vitality and freedom from pain and disease alone can prevent the signs of age from fastening themselves upon a woman. All our country women are awakening to the fact that the ill, aches and pains of women may be relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the result is renewed life, energy and the glow of health. In fact, the secret of keeping young is to ward off all the usual ailments that can produce age, which is easily accomplished by this remarkable root and herb remedy.—Adv.

"ONE-EYED" CONNELLY READY FOR WORK

NEW YORK, June 20.—"One-Eyed" Connelly, famous gate-crashing character of the sporting world, is ready to go to work.

After 20 years of roaming the world, outwitting promoters of sporting events out of admission fees, railroad companies of fares and cafe owners of food, he is ready to quit—the recognized champion of his art.

He had one dollar—less the price of a package of cigarettes—when I talked with him yesterday.

James—for that is his name—is 42 years old and was born in Lowell, Mass. His left eye was put out with the strings of a boxing glove, when, as a boy, he was performing as a preliminary fighter. He is single.

Connelly has made eight trips to Europe, two to Australia, 20 to the Pacific coast, eight to New Orleans and two to Cuba. His journeys haven't cost him a cent. He rode "13 inches below the floor of Pullman" on boards, placed on the car rods, and did odd jobs on steamers.

"ONE-EYED" CONNELLY

"But what has it gotten me?" he pleaded. "Pages of publicity, an international acquaintanceship, a fund of romantic experiences—but I can't sell them for a dime."

His ingenious efforts devoted along productive lines would have made him wealthy.

Though Connelly is dissatisfied with his plight, there is many a man of wealth who would pay well for his experiences, adventures and acquaintances.

Connelly says he is through as an itinerant gate-crasher.

Our guess is the newspapers will tell of his attendance at the next championship prize fight, whenever and wherever it is held.

But today his one sincere ambition is to get a job—and of his thousands of acquaintances not one will take him seriously.

—STEPHEN HANNAGAN.

SYMINGTON SUES WIFE FOR DIVORCE

NEW YORK, June 20.—Thomas H. Symington, manufacturer and clubman, has sued his wife, Mrs. Ida Symington, for a divorce. It was learned today when Mrs. Symington asked for payments at the rate of $200,000 annually until the case is decided. Symington charges his wife with misconduct with unknown persons.

He postponed his third attempt to fly from coast to coast between dawn and dusk. The flight may be attempted tomorrow morning, he announced.

Clear weather obtained along the entire route to San Francisco, except at the very beginning of the flight, according to meteorological reports, and Maughan was anxious to take the extra chances caused by the heavy fog. He was dissuaded by Major Davenport Johnson, commandant of the field and Captain John Platt, Jr., meteorological officer.

AT THE THEATRES

RIALTO THEATRE

Rex (Snowy) Baker, said to be the world's greatest athlete and who is also making himself just as famous as a movie star, is now appearing at the Rialto theatre in his very latest film sensation, "The Empire Builders." Local theatregoers will recall Baker's splendid work in both "His Last Race" and "The White Panther," which were shown recently on local screens.

Baker is the "Snowy" Baker, who won world applause by capturing the individual honors at the Olympic games, the youthful amateur boxer who was one of the last opponents to face Champion Fitzsimmons, the holder of six world titles, in as many different sports and known everywhere as the exponent of clean and strenuous living.

As Baker's ancestors were among the first colonists of the barbaric New Zealand, it is fitting that he plays his part in a drama of civilization's conquest over savagery. "The Empire Builders" tells a thrilling dramatic story of West Africa today.

If you can't go to Paris, the nearest you can approach it is to see "Man's Man" with John Gilbert, which is the companion feature. In addition, to John Gilbert, the star, there is Renee Adoree, who portrays the role of an Apache girl of Paris.

The seventh round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood" and a Fox News conclude the picture program.

An added attraction especially suited for the kiddies and that is equally as entertaining for the grown-ups is "Chief Tom," a full blooded Indian chief who appears in person at both afternoon and evening performances.

He has arranged a special program for Saturday afternoon for the children who will be admitted for 10 cents at all performances.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Emory Johnson's latest production, "The Mail Man," is proving even more successful in its run at the Merrimack Square theatre than that director's former attractions, "The Third Alarm," "In the Name of the Law" and "West-bound Limited." Ralph Lewis' popularity in "The Mail Man" is even greater than that in previous vehicles. The veteran actor carries the house by storm at every performance in his interpretation of the most dramatic of all characters—the mail man. The picture will close its engagement Saturday night.

BOSTON MAN PAYS $1500 FOR TEN STAMPS

PARIS, June 20.—At the continuation of the sale of the famous stamp collection of Count Ferradi De La Motiere yesterday the highest price paid was by a London dealer for account of Arthur Hinds of Utica, N. Y. This was $3000 for a block of six eight-penny new South Wales stamps of 1850. W. H. Colson of Boston paid $1500 for a block of 10-penny stamps of new South Wales of 1850. The aggregate sales of yesterday were nearly $40,000.

NIFTY REVIEW AT MERRIMACK PARK

Jack Sheehan and his Pretty Nifty Revue, America's gayest girliest show comes to the Merrimack park for the first three days' engagement starting next Monday, June 23.

Jack Sheehan's Pretty Nifty Revue represents the very newest type of musical show combining musical comedy with vaudeville, not a so-called tab show but a big singing and dancing musical comedy revue with a talented cast of artists.

Each individual performer of the cast of Pretty Nifty Revue has been carefully selected for his or her own particular talents and the result is as fine an array of talent as was ever assembled to entertain the patrons of musical comedy.

The cast is headed by Jack Sheehan, comedian. Mr. Sheehan is a performer of years of experience in musical comedy and vaudeville and in his inimitable light comedy character in Pretty Nifty Revue proves himself the born comedian, entering into the routine of his work as though he thoroughly enjoyed the performance himself.

Miss Nina Dunfrey, the leading lady of the company, is pleasing to look at and delightful to hear. Frank Seger, straight man, handles his lines in an easy, unaffected manner and is instantly a favorite with audiences. Ann Owens, ingenue, is a vivacious little personality whose numbers with the girls are a delight to hear. Frankie Wheeler, juvenile, Bob Akerman, sou-brette, Jack Taylor, specialty dancer and Bob Haly and Ed Seger, complete the big cast of principals.

In the repertoire of plays are included "Hello, 1923," "Scandals of Broad-

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

Dodge Brothers Motor Car retains its basic design year after year.

Improvements are made constantly, but there are no radical, annual changes.

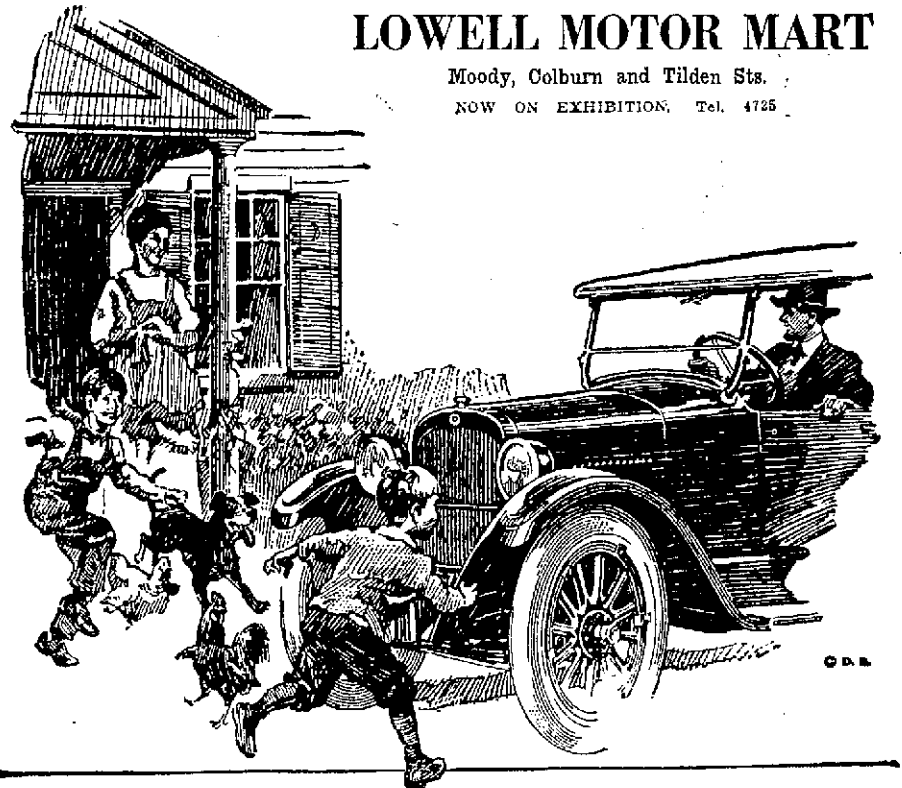

This policy protects owners from the rapid depreciation-loss which invariably attends the periodic announcement of new types.

It also enables Dodge Brothers to effect an appreciable saving in manufacture; and this saving is faithfully returned to the buyer in the form of surplus value.

considerable part of it, during the summer months. These persons, the commission says, "complete the economic chain controlling the industry," other factors in that control being the complete unionization of the anthracite industry, and the fact that the known deposits of anthracite are somewhat limited. Because of these factors, the commission declares, those owning the mines are able to insist upon high prices for their product.

On April first of this year Massachusetts dealers had on hand 723,373 tons of anthracite, as compared with only 153,952 at the same date last year. Receipts since that time, however, have been only 555,000 tons, compared with 1,020,277 last year; deliveries the past two months have amounted to 804,575, compared with 879,168 in the same period of 1923, leaving supplies on hand, June 1 last, of 804,575, as against 879,168 tons June 1, 1923.

"If the receipts of this fuel in Massachusetts for the balance of the year are at about the same rate as in April and May," the commission says, "there will probably be little or no trouble. But representative dealers have advised the commission that during April and May a large number of small orders were received, probably due to the cool spring, and that orders from householders who usually put in their winter's supply of coal in the spring and summer months are much less this year than in other years."

"When consumers of anthracite do not take a proportionate share of their supply in the summer the receipts are restricted, and with an accentuated demand in the fall and winter, the market manipulators are enabled to boost prices."

Many householders, the commission finds, are demanding sizes to bulk with the larger sizes of anthracite for heating purposes. These cost about $6 per ton less than anthracite, and can be profitably used for one-quarter or more of total requirements. Still others are effecting even greater savings by purchasing low volatile bituminous coal, containing more heat units than anthracite, which can be bought for from $7 to $7.50 per ton.

This fuel can be advantageously used for protection. When the threatened in most heating apparatus, at least to the extent of one-half of the annual industrial and commercial users had large stocks on hand. Consequently the demand for and production of bituminous since March has been lower than in any year since 1913, except 1922, when the big strike occurred. During the present spring the process of reducing stocks of bituminous on hand has been going steadily on, and it is predicted by those with knowledge of conditions that if the demand does not materially increase within another six weeks prices will rise as was purchased by Massachusetts users.

He Gets "Hooched" Each Week in Cause of Science

"JIMMO" THIS TACITURN APE GETS ALL HE WANTS TO DRINK AND HIS "OLD STUFF" BOYS FOR THE MONKEY IS USED IN EXPERIMENTS BY THE U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE IN TESTING THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL.

"Jimmo," peering from behind the bars of his cage, is frankly puzzled. Doubtless he wonders why he gets all he wants to drink, without question, when everyone else has at least some little difficulty. Furthermore, "Jimmo" gets his supply direct from the government and, hence, is assured that it is "the real old stuff."

"Jimmo" goes on jags as often as three times a week—but it's purely in the cause of scientific research, for Jimmo's family drank nothing stronger than coconut milk centuries before the modernists and fundamentalists began arguing over the progress of the ape family.

The monkey is subject of an experiment—such an experiment as costs humans large sums—concerning the effect of liquor upon the body. The United States public health service specialists have been getting him

"stewed" at regular intervals and noting the effects. Just now, however, Jimmo's taste for liquor is said to have reached the point where doctors are worried. He sobs up quite quickly and it seems impossible to keep him "lit."

GREATEST DOPE CACHE IN HISTORY

Hidden carefully beneath a shipment of brushes $1,500,000 in morphine, opium, heroin and other drugs were found hidden by customs officers at New York. This greatest dope seizure in the history of narcotic smuggling has resulted in the disclosure of an international ring with headquarters at Bremen, Germany. Two men are under arrest as American agents of the ring.

HOW FIRST BALLOT MAY AFFECT M'ADOO

BY ALEXANDER HERNAN, N.E.A. Service Staff Writer. (Copyright, 1924, by N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, June 20.—McAdoo may get less than 270 votes on the first ballot of the democratic convention—even though the group of Al Smith, his closest opponent, concede some 400 votes to him, and his own managers claim that they have close to 600.

The strategists of the McAdoo drive want to hold back their full strength and increase it gradually to create that "hand-wagon" psychology which plays so important a part in the political convention. At the same time, they believe that this move will check the momentum of any other drive—either of a dark horse or of Smith. For the latter is favored by the very setting of the convention hall—in the very front yard of his own East Side.

With the blare of brass bands and the ringing of "East Side West Side," and other Tammany hits, unwary delegates may find themselves swept into the Smith spirit—particularly if the full McAdoo strength is shown on the first ballot, and losses are noted on the subsequent roll calls.

So the McAdoo directors have issued strong warnings against this mob psychology—even going to the extent of hiring their own leather-lunged cliques who will lead the demonstrations at the desired moments. And they have decided to "soft pedal" an early display of strength and increase slowly their vote ballot by ballot, developing a crescendo that will, they hope, roll into a full note of triumph.

Whether they succeed with this psychology is problematic. No one, not even the most hopeful, can say definitely.

But the strategists seem set for any emergency. If McAdoo decides to make a fight against the two-thirds rule, his workers are ready to modify their tactics without slowing up their machine.

They claim more than 20 members of the committee on rules—composed of one delegate from each state—which will have to decide this two-thirds issue. If they get a majority report and succeed in carrying it on the convention floor, they may increase the tempo of their delegates' vote—sounding their candidate's fullest note on the second or third ballot.

But the soft pedal will be kept on the vote, until the psychological strategists give the word.

DAWES' FAMILY

"Hurrah! We can roll eggs on the White House lawn on Easter Sunday." That is the way Dana and Virginia Dawes, adopted children of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, received the news of their "dad's" nomination for the vice presidency. The children, both pupils of Miller public school in Evanston, were adopted by the general and his wife following the death of the Dawes' only son, Rufus F. Dawes, several years ago. The Dawes also have a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Ericson.

press open hostility to the system on which it is now wholly satisfactory in its present form.

Senator Frank O. Farrington of Augusta, apparently has been nominated as republican candidate for governor, the margin of 300 in a total of 95,000 votes being so slender that an examination of all these ballots, a prodigious task, might change it. Ralph O. Brewster, who is defeated on the face of unofficial returns, may undertake to win a recount.

Great mischief is possible in a primary which would not be tolerated in a party convention. Any voter can enroll as a member of any party and not change that enrollment within six months of any election. A voter not enrolled may enroll on election day in a voting precinct. In Portland, Monday, 1000 did so. More than 10,000 votes were cast, a little more than 500 democratic. A single contest, nomination of the legislative ticket, featured the democratic ballot.

More than 500 republican ballots were cast in ward 2, which is overwhelmingly democratic in every election, nearly 22 votes in excess of the normal republican vote there. In ward 4, nearly 800 similar ballots were cast, double the real republican vote of the ward. Democrats, it is declared, enrolled as republicans to vote for Farrington because of the utterances of Brewster against appropriating state funds for sectarian schools and because of the Ku Klux Klan's espousal of his cause.

ROSE FESTIVAL OPENS AT ST. MICHAEL'S

Favored by clear warm weather, the two-day rose festival of St. Michael's parish opened auspiciously last evening with hundreds of parishioners in attendance.

The festival grounds are in the school yard, which has been gallily decorated within which are a number of booths where ice cream, tonic, candy and other articles of refreshment are for sale. Last evening the booths did a very satisfactory business and it is expected that with the closing of the festival this evening, everything will have been sold out.

Last night's entertainment was given in the school and consisted of a sketch entitled, "The Graduate's Choice." This was given under the direction of Sister Constantine. An entirely different program of entertainment will be given this evening.

MAINE IS DISGUSTED WITH PRIMARY LAW

PORTLAND, Me., June 20.—Maine is disgusted with the direct primary law. Republicans, democrats, men and women, are agreed that it has gone from bad to worse. Monday's primary election is said to have proved conclusively that the system is a failure.

Clayton Farnes, secretary of the democratic state committee, writes: "The primary law must go. Last Monday's election demonstrated the political dishonesty which it makes possible. All honest voters should unite in replacing the present primary with a honest law."

This committee, the republican state committee and nearly all prominent republicans and democrats either ex-

POSTAL SERVICE BADLY DEMORALIZED IN CANADA

TORONTO, June 20.—Postal service was badly demoralized in several cities and towns of western Canada today, as negotiations between representatives of the striking members of the Federation of Postal Employees and Dominion officials remained in a deadlock.

In several places a skeleton service is being maintained largely through the employment of men who have taken the places of the strikers. The province of Ontario is the hardest hit in the Dominion. In most cities and towns in this province the strike had disrupted business. The railway mail clerks last night joined the strike, completing the blow. Montreal also was hard hit.

Indications early last night were that an agreement soon would be reached between the strikers and the government but at midnight members of the Federation announced they had determined to continue the strike.

Postoffice and other government officials have reiterated their stand that none of the men on strike would be reinstated, declaring that the substitutes will be kept in the service.

BRITISH-AMERICAN CLUB

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

TWO MONTHS' TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST

Superior Court Officer George H. Stevens of Lowell will leave shortly on a two-months' trip across the country, accompanied by his wife. Such an event could not go by unnoticed on the part of his fellow officers at Cambridge and accordingly a surprise was arranged for him yesterday noon, when in behalf of the members of the Deputy Sheriff and Court Officers' association of Middlesex county, Chief Deputy Sheriff William R. Davis presented him a handsome bouquet of roses as well as numerous valuable articles, which will come in handy on his trip.

The presentation was made in the officers' room and in presenting the gifts Mr. Davis extended to Mr. Stevens the best wishes of the organization. "While we feel sorry that you will not be with us at the outing at Wellfleet on the 24th," he said, "still we rejoice over the fact that you and Mrs. Stevens will enjoy a cross country trip. You may take along with you to the Pacific coast the best wishes of your fellow officers and may you come back to us as healthy and jovial as you leave us."

Although taken wholly by surprise Mr. Stevens thanked his fellow officers for their thoughtfulness and briefly outlined his trip, stating he and his wife will leave Lowell on June 23 and, journeying by rail, they will go across Canada to Vancouver and as far as Alaska. They will return by way of the states, stopping at San Francisco, and other points of interest in California. They will visit Mr. Stevens' brother, a brief stop at Cleveland, where they will be the guests of their son, Frederick Stevens, who last week received his degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They expect to return to their home in the early part of September.

There were also brief remarks yesterday by Special Sheriff Charles A. Everseth, Court Officers J. Willard Jones of Somerville, Charles Lounsbury of Concord and Deputy Sheriff Henry H. Walker of Medford.

CLASS SPIRIT "BABY" BORN AT HIGH SCHOOL

Members of the high school graduating class, proud of their success collectively and individually in studies, social affairs and sports, at a recent meeting decided that a new "baby" had been born to the school during the past year and the baby's name was "school spirit."

As such events are rare at the school, in their opinion, they decided to commemorate the occasion by purchasing a silver loving cup, having it engraved suitably and placing it in the trophy cabinet which they will present to the school at graduation. The cup was placed in the cabinet this morning and it is engraved, "The birth of a class spirit, 1921," and the names of the class officers.

Stevens Street to Be Paved

The afternoon making views in localities which would be affected by proposed public improvements, most of the time being spent with the city engineer and superintendent of streets in Stevens street.

The board in session withheld approval to the award by Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly of the annual contract for asphalt oil, used for sealing at 17 cents per gallon. It was and would like a formal contract. This the board is only paying 12 1/2 cents per gallon and it was voted to ask the purchasing agent to explain the proposed change to the board, action being deferred until the next meeting.

Vote for Roof Repair

Supt. Gardner of the water department was authorized to make necessary expenditures for the repair of the roof of the pumping station in West Sixth street.

Complaints as to the condition of Vernon street, Andrews street, and Aiken avenue were referred to the superintendent of streets. Frank A. Maloney, who is supplying recent granite blocks to the city, appeared and said he has been doing the work for some time now with a contract and would like a formal contract. This matter was taken under advisement.

Seeks More Time Off

Complaints as to the condition of sidewalks in Park street were referred to the superintendent of streets. A letter from Joseph Davidson, a blacksmith, was received. The letter asks a vacation. The writer worked 28 of the past 52 weeks and during the past 24 he had under the provisions and benefits of the matter was referred to the city solicitor for opinion and action deferred until the legal department is heard from.

2050 to Fly Crusher

It was called to the attention of the board that the crusher at the city is out of commission. The Good Roads Machinery company was authorized to repair same at an estimated cost of $300.

TRAIN RUNS INTO OPEN SWITCH; TWO INJURED

DENVER, Colo., June 20.—The third section of Union Pacific train No. 21, known as the Pacific Coast Limited, carrying Pacific coast delegates to the International Kiwanis club convention here back to their homes, ran into an open switch at LaSalle, 50 miles from here, late last night. Two dining car porters received slight injuries and were removed to a hospital here.

The engineer, Zolner Moore, did not know the train was on a side track until it struck these freight cars, which were thrown from the track. The train was running slowly through the little town but the impact put the engine out of commission. Another engine was obtained after a delay of half an hour and the train then proceeded.

REAL INDIAN AT THE RIALTO

Chief Tom, who is now appearing at the Rialto theatre today and tomorrow where he is presenting a novelty in show act, is a very interesting character study and is internationally known.

One of the most powerful of the old Indian tribes was the Sioux, so brilliant and qualified by nature that they readily accepted the opportunities of embracing education, and even today, one of the greatest institutions for the education of the Indian is the college of the Indian at Carlisle, Pa. It is that Chief Tom was sent by his father to study in the white man's school for grammar and his graduation was celebrated because of his brilliant attainments, to pursue his studies in the leading schools of Europe. At the completion of his education abroad, he returned to the soil which he was born on and possessing a voice unexcelled even by many of the white man's leading character actors, he sought his way to the pinnacle of success. He appears in his native dress, which is his hereditary right.

DE LONG FINED $100 IN SUPERIOR COURT

Harold M. DeLong of this city was fined $100 in Superior criminal court at East Cambridge yesterday for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. In the DeLong case several months ago, in one year in the house of correction and appealed. He was the driver of the automobile which struck a tree in Westford street last winter and resulted in serious injury to two Lowell men.

HOUSING SCHEME FAILS IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, June 20.—Various Irish local bodies have carried out schemes for the housing of workers. In Clontarf, ten houses have been erected at a cost to the ratepayers of about $12,000. Applicants were sought at a rent of $1.50 weekly, but they refused to pay more than 50 cents and threatened that they would permit nobody to pay a higher rent. The council refused to let for less, and has asked permission of the government to sell the houses at public auction.

Attends Convention At Providence

The most part to be men well along in life.

The convention opened at the Billmore hotel in the Rhode Island capital on Monday morning. The address of welcome being given by Governor William S. Flynn of Rhode Island, Mayor Joseph H. Gahner of Providence, followed, after which Albert C. Press, president of the association, named the regular committees.

The afternoon session was devoted to three business talks. W. M. Stewart, director of the United States census, and Hon. C. C. Pashley of Memphis, former president of the association, spoke on "Financial Statistics of Cities." C. E. Higgins of the Rochester Bureau of Municipal Research, read an interesting paper on "The Problem of Financing the Increasing Costs in Municipalities." The final talk of the day, on "Progress in Municipal Accounting," was given by George M. Rex of Providence. During the evening session, George D. Regale, auditor of the city and county of Denver, addressed the convention on "Fundamental Principles of Public Business."

The next day was devoted to the main part to recreation. The various accounting officers left early in the morning aboard ship for Newport. There they took a 10-mile auto trip around Ocean Drive and enjoyed the usual shore dinner.

Memorial services were held at the grave of John M. Taylor, former city treasurer of Newport, and a visit to the United States Naval Training station followed. Here the entire personnel, several Lowell boys among them, was turned out for an hour and a half of maneuvers, for the education of the visitors. An old-fashioned clam bake on Newport beach ended the day's session and the party returned to Providence for the convention business of the evening. During the evening there was a general discussion from the floor of "The Proposed Amendment to the Federal Constitution Authorizing Tax on Income from State and Municipal Securities," and Walter R. Darby, commissioner of municipal accounts for the state of New Jersey, spoke on "The Advantages of Uniform Municipal Accounting."

The final day of the convention, Wednesday, was devoted to reports of committees and a series of beneficial talks.

Joseph T. Tracy, state auditor for Ohio, spoke on "State Limitation of Municipal Tax Levies" and was followed by City Auditor Clifford E. Cook of Springfield, who discussed the purposes and aims of the association. H. E. Akers, member of the Rochester board of education, spoke on "School Finance" and Zenas W. Bliss of the Rhode Island State Tax commission, read a paper on "Taxation." The convention ended with a dinner given by the City of Providence.

Mr. Martin met at the convention the association treasurer, Richard E. N. Dwyer of New Rochelle, N. Y., deputy comptroller in that city. Mr. Dwyer has been in that position for several decades and is an intimate friend of William J. McAloon, former local man, who served for several years in New Rochelle as deputy city clerk.

PETS AT WEDDING

The four pet terriers of Mrs. George Virginia Hendrick will attend her wedding at Stansbury, Conn., to George W. Patterson, an assistant dean at the University of Michigan, in a few days. The terriers will accompany a special pet during the ceremony, which is to be a fashionable society affair.

SPORTS BRING LATINS AND AMERICANS CLOSER

WASHINGTON, June 20.—In some respects the United States and Latin America have each its own peculiar sports, in which the other never can be expected to develop a great deal of interest except occasionally as a matter of curiosity.

For instance, bull fighting, which, by the way, is frowned on as cruel in the more advanced even of the Latin republics—never can be counted on to attain much popularity among Americans of the north, though, as visitors they do frequently attend bullfights in cities like Mexico, Lima and Santiago.

On the other hand, outside football and some of the small Central American states, where North American influence is strong, baseball doesn't impress particularly well. Just why it's hard to say. The game simply doesn't seem to appeal to the Latin temperament.

But there are other sports on which Anglo-Saxons and Latin Americans are agreed. South America is full of box-fight fans. Every South American is crazy over boxing. By the tens of thousands they throng bare and open arenas, making the dust pile players in the world. Along the coast they swim as naturally as they breathe. At far-removed with the pistol and as savagely, they can also shoot. Even up to the average North American. They have to possess these accomplishments, for the dual flourishes in some other parts of the world—quite frequently somebody killed.

Wrestling is in a class with boxing, immensely popular. Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay are strong in soccer. They have an international league among themselves and the games are tremendous drawing cards.

The Paraguayans think they have the best long-distance runners on earth and make their best. Spanish is about 50 per cent. Spanish. The rest is Guarani and Malaga Indian as tough and enduring as rawhide, and the marathon runs at the union are events throughout the whole region of the River Plate, which is a big territory as New York and the New England states. Golf is not more popular in Scotland than among the well-to-do of cities like Buenos Aires, Montevideo and Rio de Janeiro, and all the east coast attends the annual tournaments at Mar del Plata, the famous Argentine links.

"The idea now," says Counsellor Franklin Adams of the Pan American union, "is to get these South American sports enthusiasts to come to the United States and to send enthusiastic of our own south, to compete with them on their own ground. There's no way of getting the continents together on a more friendly footing."

Sinking Liner Arrives Safely

Continued

Cool-headed action on the part of the Metacama's officers averted a panic aboard the craft when the passengers rushed for the decks after the force of the collision had sent the craft reeling. Further cool-headed action, under the supervision of the officers, while the water poured in to the forward stokehold, resulted in the filling of the port side ballast tanks and the consequent lifting of the injured starboard side high out of the water.

The ensuing 36 degree list to port resulted in reducing the flow of water into the hold and made it possible for the pumps to keep up the unequal struggle until the liner was safely beached.

Passengers Praise Crew

Passengers highly praised captain, officers and crew for their handling of the situation, as they found their way ashore. During the long race, one seaman, a skilled pipefitter had provided a set of ladders, the ship's strong band played continuously, symphonies and phonographs had been pressed into service on the vessel's tilted decks, to help maintain the courage of those aboard.

Although within a few hours of the collision, other ships had appeared, among them the steamer Roseland, and all had been made ready for launching lifeboats and transferring passengers, but the captain did not try to attempt a transfer in the dense fog.

Stories which are at a variety were told by the crews of the two vessels. Members of the crew of the Clara Camus stated their ship had been stopped when the crash occurred, owing to the dense fog.

Beached on Mud Banks
According to the crew of the Metacama, she was running slowly through the fog about nine o'clock in the morning, sounding her whistle every minute, when another craft crashed into her, then whistled three and backed away.

There was a sudden rush of passengers to the decks but through the exertions of stewards and officers, order was restored, and measures taken to insure their safety as the race in port was begun. Boats were made ready and arrangements for transfer made when, hours later, other vessels reached the crippled vessel.

As the ship came to anchor in St. John's harbor, she appeared in a critical condition and passengers implored boats and tugs to take them off. But with time apparently too short for safe transfer, her captain rushed the Metacama toward a shoal, where she was beached on a mud bank.

The Metacama arrived this morning to embark the passengers and convey them to Quebec.

THE STARTLING TELEGRAM ANNOUNCING THAT OLD MAN ROBBINS'S SON EGGERT, WHO HAS BEEN AWAY EIGHTEEN YEARS IS COMING BACK-HAS EXCITED MUCH CURIOSITY.

TELEPHONE SERVICE AND INFORMATION

"Over 700 new telephones are placed in service in New England every day and nearly 500 are removed," said Manager Charles Leathers of the Lowell exchange today. "In the course of time the numbers of the new telephones are printed in a telephone directory for use in making calls. "When you fail to find the number you want in the directory, you ask 'Information' for it. She gives it to you promptly, for that's her job. "Frequently 'Information' is asked to give numbers which appear in the directory. She is a very busy person and when you take her time to find a number which you know you can get yourself, it is hardly fair to her or other subscribers. "It seemed desirable a few years ago to discontinue telling people the location of a fire. Some time later giving the time of day and acting as a clearing house for 'no school' information was generally discontinued. Such calls clogged our wires, placed an unnecessary burden on our information operators and resulted in delayed service on proper information calls. "If you now find that information operators ask you to look in your own book for numbers listed there, it is for the same reason-keeping information lines and operators free for prompt handling of calls on which the information operator's services are a necessity. It is a change making for the greatest good of the greatest number."

ANNUAL RECITAL IS MUCH ENJOYED

The pupils of William C. Heller gave a most entertaining program of piano selections in Edison hall of St. Ann's parish house last evening assisted by Alessandro Niccoli, violinist of Boston. The program, including interpretations from Beethoven, Chopin, Liszt, Schumann, and others, was excellently given by the participants without the assistance of manuscript. Among those taking part were Evelyn Morris, Joan Quinn, Rhea Cohen, Shirley Cohen, Eleanor Robbins, Marjorie Robbins, Mary Willey, Priscilla Fox, Ida Lozano, Sadie Loshinsky, William Pearson, Greta Arnold, Helen Dow, Lillian Arnold, Sarah Gardner, R. Welford Rugg, Marjorie Robbins and Eleanor Robbins.

To Protect Convention Visitors From Crooks

DON'T FORGET
YOUR WITS AND WIFE
WHEN PACKING

MRS. MARY HAMILTON, ATOP OF A NEW YORK SKYSCRAPER
OVERLOOKING THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION DISTRICT, WITH HER WARNING FOR DELEGATES.

By N.E.A. Service

NEW YORK, June 20.—Here are the latest tips from the democratic convention. They come not from any of the many political camps and, therefore, may be accepted with the utmost reliability.

They are inside steers for delegates, given by the convention's chief watcher—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, leading policewoman of New York, whose special job it is to shield the visitors from the onslaughts of the city bunco artists.

These tips are good for any visitor to New York at any time.

"Don't forget your wits—when packing and after. And if married, don't forget your wife. She is always a good stabilizer.

"Don't think you know it all, and don't believe everything. Not everything that sounds well ends well.

"Remember not to depend upon all public porters and taxi drivers. If at any time you feel that you have not been treated fairly by either a porter or taxi driver, report it to the police.

"Be careful of hotel runners. There are many unscrupulous ones who will take advantage of you. There is not the best way to secure accommodations."

Because New York has long been a Mecca for con men and film-fam artists, Mrs. Hamilton issues a special warning against the lost uncle, the flapper's lament, and other stories.

"Many of these plausible-sounding tales," she says, "are developed from remarks overheard in public places.

"Remember conversations in hotel lobbies are public property. They can be turned against you any time.

"Don't be surprised if what you mentioned to a friend is brought up by a total stranger. Such a play for your good graces, is simply a scheme against you."

"Don't fall for beautiful and flirta-tious women or suave men.

"Don't buy tickets for Central park.
Don't squander money on worthless relics or antiques with questionable backgrounds.

"Don't take a chance on the gilded Minerva which ornaments the tower of Madison Square Garden. It is not going to be raffled off at the end of the democratic convention."

Under Mrs. Hamilton's charge, a women's bureau of information has been organized at police headquarters.
At it all kinds of questions are being answered.

"The other morning," she says, "a prominent minister called at 130.
"What shall I do?" he asked. "There's a stranded girl here in my house. I'm a bachelor. I can't turn her out in the street."

"Of course we took care of her.
"Another time a man called excitedly.
"My servant has erysipelas. What shall I do?"

"There is a ward at Bellevue for such cases, and we took his servant to the ward."

Before the convention's over, there even may be hectic queries from delegates wanting a tip for whom they should cast their ballot.

"And that will be about the only thing we will not be able to give them," concludes Mrs. Hamilton.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS STILL AT POSTS

OTTAWA, Ont., June 20.—The rumored general walkout of railway mail clerks in Toronto and Quebec city has failed to materialize, and all mail trains leaving those cities were manned, according to a statement issued by the postoffice today.
Charles Stewart, acting postmaster general, said that all mail trains throughout the Dominion were now manned, and that there was practically no strike in this part of the system.
An official communication issued from the department declared that the strike is "petering out," according to telegraphic advices received.

Yale on Top in Both Events Continued increased by using a stronger and steadier stroke. Harvard never threatened her opponent. After the first mile Yale pushed out ahead and soon had four lengths of open water between her and the Harvard crew.

The official time was: Yale 10:33;
Harvard 10:45 3-5.

Yale also captured the two-mile junior varsity race, nosing out
Harvard by one length.

Yale grit won the race after Harvard had taken a slight lead after the start. Harvard carried the lead to nearly the half way flag, when Yale successfully challenged the crimson crew and swept into the lead which she increased to a length. Harvard tried to cut the lead down but to no purpose and Yale captured the contest by one length. Both crews finished in good shape.

The official times were: Yale
10:41; Harvard 10:45.

presiding officer of the senate, agreed to have all unauthorized persons ejet-ed from the chamber and corridors.

"This is an honest to goodness fight against mob rule and mob violence," William C. Pelkey, chairman of the republican state central committee, told an Associated Press representative. "We are not going to give in until we are assured that the republican senators will not have their lives endangered. Until the executive head of this state and the lieutenant governor are willing to carry out their duties and preserve order in the state house, the republican senators will refuse to attend sessions there."

"It would seem to me, myself," the statement read in part, "for any of the republican senators to return to the senate today. The result would almost undoubtedly be that many would be injured and perhaps some persons killed, particularly if the republican senators attempted in any way to participate in the proceedings."

The senate has been deadlocked since last January on the refusal of the republican majority to vote favorably upon a measure for a popular referendum on a constitutional convention. The lieutenant governor, a democrat, refrained from recommending republicans from the floor and the democratic majority has filibustered and used other obstructive tactics. There is now a deadlock in the senate. It consists of 22 republicans and 12 democrats.
It was considered probable that the democrats would be unable to do more today than continue the process in which the senate now is.

COMPLETE LISBON TO MACAO FLIGHT

HONG KONG, June 20.—(By the Associated Press) The two Portuguese aviators Lis, Beiras and Pires, virtually completed their Lisbon to Macao flight this afternoon when they passed over Macao and at 2 o'clock landed at Sanchun, on the frontier of the British new leased territory.

The landing was a forced one, however, Lis, Pires being bruised and the machine slightly damaged.
The aviators, finding a landing at Macao impracticable because of the bad weather, had intended to continue to Canton, but trouble, however, caused a sudden change in their plans.

WANTS ALL TO KNOW MERITS OF TANLAC

Matthew Gramm Says
Medicine Has Overcome
Stomach Trouble and Nervousness

"If anybody wants to know what Tanlac will do, just let them write me." is the hearty suggestion of Matthew J. Gramm, 172 Union St., Leominster, Mass.

"I will gladly tell anybody about Tanlac for it has made me feel like my old self once more. Stomach trouble and nervousness had been pulling me down for two years and I was just about worn-out. My appetite was mighty weak, what little I did eat made me miserable, and many a night I would lie awake until day-break.

But I now eat good and hearty, sleep like a top and haven't a complaint. In fact, Tanlac has given me new life and energy and from now on I am going to keep a bottle handy. My wife also used Tanlac with fine results."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute.

LOTS OF SWANK—EH WOT?

Some style setter is the prince, who here is shown in the proper sartorial get-up for the races. It may look like the musical comedy pattern, but it's "correct." With the Duke of York, the Prince of Wales is seen going to the Derby, England's race classic.

associations are seeking to avoid the operation of the law of supply and demand. Quite the reverse is true. The purpose is not to defy the law but only to make the law serve the farmer fairly.

"Coordination is possible only through co-operation. Co-operation is one of the watchwords of Rotary. You were among the first to recognize the interdependence of all business and industry. If you were to become the instrument of effecting a complete coordination between the farm and business generally, it would be a mighty accomplishment for good. The farmer's difficulties can only be overcome promptly if the merchants, manufacturers, bankers, and civic groups wholeheartedly co-operate with the farmers."

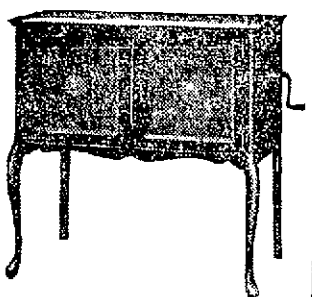

Several houses in Lisbon, England, collapsed during violent rain storms recently.

PLENTY OF DASH

An enormous bow and long ends of black satin ribbon add a certain dash to what would regularly be only a very simple frock of black chiffon, embroidered in white. It is worn over a sheath slip of black satin and there is no extra fullness or trimming to mar the silhouette Paris approved so thoroughly. Almost any straight line frock can be given a festive touch by the clever use of a sash or a bow, and the ribbons of this season are so beautiful in themselves that they can make any costume.

LOWDEN SPEAKER AT ROTARY CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 20 (By the Associated Press).—The several spasmodic movements toward general prosperity in the post-war years have started when agricultural products had sufficiently advanced in price relatively, but the movement was halted because prices of other products began to advance again, thus destroying the improved position of the farmer. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois declared in an address before Rotary International here today.

There can be no permanent general prosperity until the disproportion between the prices of farm products and services and other commodities and services are wiped out, he asserted, and how to "rid ourselves of this disparity is not the farmer's problem alone but the problem of all."

"The disparity between prices of the things the farmer has to sell and the prices of those things he must buy is the main cause of placing agriculture in the hardest times it has had in the present lifetime of the generation," Mr. Lowden declared. "I am speaking more particularly of the United States, but I imagine they are not far different in Canada or in other countries."

where agriculture is still thought to be the basic industry.

"When the depression of 1920 set in there was a large accumulation of goods of all kinds on hand but industry, being highly organized, was able to resist more successfully than the farmer the pressure for lower prices. If the farmers are to put themselves upon terms of equality with the great industries they too must organize. Agriculture now finds itself freely competing among themselves while it is obliged to sell its products in a highly organized industrial and commercial world.

"It is not desirable that farmers should imitate the great industries, adopt the corporate form of organization and operate their farms through corporate management. It would weaken our whole social structure if our millions of farmers would surrender their individualism in this way. Nor is it necessary. While much improved efficiency in production is still possible, the farmer has made constant progress in this respect. His most pressing problem is concerned with the marketing of his products at a price which will enable him to live and go on producing.

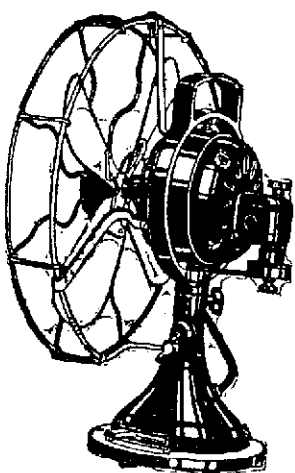

"On every hand we learn of farm abandonment. If we should avoid this ruin, the farmer must organize. Co-operative farm marketing associations no longer are an experiment. Wherever they are employed you will find agriculture in its best estate. Those who oppose the principle seem to think that in some way these

"I Have Nothing to Wear" Won't Do As An Excuse With This Invention

SOME OF THE "ONE-HOUR" DRESSES CREATED BY MISS GERTRUDE BARNETT OF SAN FRANCISCO

By N.E.A. Service
SAN FRANCISCO, June 19. Women's lamentation of "I have nothing to wear" is out of date with the advent of one-hour dresses.
They are the handwork of Miss Gertrude Barnett of this city and can be created in one hour from yard-fittings in that time.
Miss Lane Tenell, at the left of the picture, wears an evening dress of satin trimmed with eschelle fabric. Miss Barnett is an hour, and are to simple, according to their inventor, that any woman, at all handy with a needle, can make them in as short a time.
A popular fashion album is blasted with this new sort of dressmaking speed.
"I have nothing to wear" won't do. The answer will be, "Just you can make something in an hour."

FOR BENEFIT OF XAVIERIAN JUNIORATE

A successful whist party and dance was held in A.O.H. hall for the benefit of the Xavierian Juniorate in Peabody last night. The prize winners were as follows: Mrs. Mary Bourque, first; Miss Margaret Crowe, second. The consolation prize went to Miss Anna Miskell. The winners in the men's division were Frank Sullivan and Howard Williamson, while the consolation prize went to Frank Riley. The holder of the lucky number on the admission ticket was Mrs. McNeerney.
Entertainment numbers were supplied by Miss Mary McNeerney and Master Edward McNeerney.
The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Mary V. Ryan and members of the Ladies' auxiliary, A.O.H. Miss Riley will be chairman of the Lowell table at the Juniorate on June 28.
The Chinese are believed to be the hardest working farmers.

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.
Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not, as some believe, to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food soured, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.
Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck-Brown and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and thereby the sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck-Brown (in powder or tablet form) never liquid or oily is harmless to the stomach. It is the most efficient for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Adv.

"FLOWER GIRL"
Every noon child before them flowers. Or at least it will be if it is Bismarck-Brown's job to see that they are decorated the proper way of women delicate to the stomach and a great deal.

BANQUET FOR REVIEW STAFF OF 1925

Members of the retiring Review staff of the High School gathered at a dinner at the staff recently chosen for next year, at North's restaurant last evening. The guests of honor were Headmaster and Mrs. Henry H. Harris, Miss Mary Tobin, student adviser, Miss Sawyer and Miss Stevens, literary editors, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Fouchier.
Mr. Fouchier acted as toastmaster following the dinner and introduced Mr. Harris and Miss Tobin as speakers. A splendid entertainment program followed, Miss Sally Mason giving several songs and Miss Helen Fouchier and Gertrude Bonduelle singing a duet of songs.
The retiring Review staff follows: Editor-in-Chief, Frank Barrett, business manager, Louis Wolff and Merrill C. Fouchier, literary editors, Thomas Sullivan and Alice Sheehan, exchange editors, L. H. Stuart and Sarah Macdonald, society editor, Helen Beardon, sports editor, George Sheehan, reporter, Edith Griffin.
The staff for the term of 1924-25 is made up of the following: Editor-in-Chief, George Sheehan, business manager, John Whalen and George Leach, literary editors, Frances McArdle and Irene Pollock, exchange editors, Rita Flynn and Margaret Ryan, society editor, Gertrude Bonduelle, sports editor, Frank Henson, reporter, Elizabeth Phelan.

LAWN PARTY AT DRACUT CHURCH

Dracut citizens, young and old, in large numbers packed early to the Dracut church grounds last evening, to attend the much advertised June lawn party, sponsored by members of the local congregational church ladies. Aid society. It was a huge success. From every corner, early decorated lawns and with attractive articles of food and household utility articles, drawing a throng of people, filling the grounds of the church grounds to overflowing.
A feature of the lawn party was the presence of Lowell High School orchestra. A varied program of old and new songs, musical numbers, was given during the evening, delighting all who heard the exceptionally fine music.

20 PUPILS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

BAR MILLS, Me., June 20.—Twenty-seven boys and girls, pupils of the Locke school, Saco, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when the big passenger bus in which they were riding began to back down the steep hill near the West Buxton power station when part of the mechanism gave way. The hill is one of the worst in the county.
The driver, Harry Hutcherson of Saco, when he saw the brakes would not hold, guided the big car to the side of the highway, where it tipped over. While the children escaped serious injury, all were shaken up and one girl, Ruth Bonaraso, was slightly cut and her shoulder bruised. But for the quick wit of the driver the car might have backed down the hill into the Saco river. The children were on the way to Bonney Eagle pond for their annual outing when the accident occurred. After it was found that none of them was injured, they continued on for the outing.

CIRCUIS TIGER CHEWS MAN'S HAND

LYNN, June 20.—While playing with the tigers at the Sells-Floto circus at Halls field yesterday, a spectator put his hand too near the cage of a Siberian tiger. The animal chewed the hand.
Circus attendants were compelled to use clubs and axes to threaten the animal before it would release the hand. The spectator then ran for a physician.
Police authorities were unable to get his name.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED IN TRAIN COLLISION

ST. ALBANS, Vt., June 20.—In a head-on collision between a freight and passenger train on the Central Vermont railway at 3:12 o'clock this morning at Sharon, 104 miles south of here, Fireman William Forbes received injuries which proved fatal while Engineer P. W. Chapman and Fireman Charles McKinley were injured. The Albans and were members of the crew of the passenger train. None of the passengers were injured and none of the passenger cars left the rails, although the baggage car was somewhat damaged. The railroad is not making any official statement previous to an investigation but the indications are that the south bound freight extra, which was on a siding, was allowed to drift for three car lengths out onto the main line in front of the passenger train. Three freight cars were derailed and both engines were damaged. After a delay of about four hours, the passenger train proceeded on its way to Canadian Point.

WINDSOR POSTOFFICE

DETROIT, June 20.—With mail covering the floor of the Windsor, Ont., postoffice, six bags deep, a handful of non-union employees sought vainly to sort it, business and industrial leaders of Canadian border cities sent scores of telegrams to postal authorities protesting against the strike of postal employees that began Wednesday.

Had Detroit sent its usual amount of mail, the Windsor office would have been literally swamped. Not one of five daily shipments was sent from Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo and other cities thus were cut off from mail communication with Ontario points.

COL. EWELL, G.O.P. LEADER, DEAD
ALBANY, N. Y., June 20.—Col. Joseph Emerson Ewell, republican leader of a decade ago and former commandant of the Soldiers' Home at Bath is dead at his home here after a brief illness. He was 85 years old. Col. Ewell was born in Alden, N. Y., a descendant of Benjamin Ewell, a pioneer who settled in Scituate, Mass., in 1634.

FOUR KILLED BY CHINESE BOMB

Attempt to Assassinate Gov.

Gen. Merlin of French-
Indo-China at BanquetUnknown Chinese Hurling Bag Containing Explosive—Room Strewn With Bodies

HONG KONG, June 20. (By the Associated Press).—The death list resulting from the attempt of an unknown Chinese to assassinate Gov. Gen. Merlin of French Indo-China at a banquet in Canton, last night, now stands at four. H. G. Gerin, a silk merchant, died today of injuries.

It has developed that the governor-general probably owes his life to the fact that the would-be assassin mistook Gerin for him.

Just as the soup was being served, the Chinese, who was armed, appeared and flung a black hand bag containing the explosive at the end of the table where Gerin was seated. In a moment the dining room was strewn with bodies and wounded persons on the floor, or, in the case of one of the dead, still seated at the table. Dr. Casablanca, acting French consul, had his left arm torn off. Two or three Chinese waiters were struck in the head by flying fragments.

Alarmed by the explosion and the cries of the survivors, American sailors from the gunboat Panganga, British sailors and residents hurried to the scene, the first contingents arriving in time to chase the bomber toward the river. He fired several shots at his pursuers before plunging into the stream, where all traces were lost.

Report Not Confirmed

NEW YORK, June 20.—Officials of the General Silk Co. said they had received no word concerning the reported death of their Canton manager, J. Demaretz and his wife as a result of yesterday's bomb attack on the governor-general of French Indo-China, at Canton.

Demaretz had represented them as their Canton manager for several years after having spent a short time in the New York office. Mr. and Mrs. Demaretz came here from Switzerland.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 20.—The financial district understands that the International and Great Northern railroad will be taken over tomorrow by the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico at a price of about $30 a share. In the event that the interstate commerce commission withholds final approval of the merger, it was reported the bankers who would buy the International were Blair, E. & Co., and W. A. Harriman & Co., who control a majority interest in the New Orleans road.

Net income of $1,557,294 for 1923 is reported by the U. S. Playing Card Co., equal to $9.52 on the capital stock compared with $1,585,277 or $9.10 a share in 1922. Gross earnings were $2,655,251. Profit and loss surplus totalled $5,624,687, an increase of more than $700,000.

News print production in the United States in May totalled 124,219 tons, against 128,243 in April. Shipments were 131,380 tons compared with 127,500 tons. The Canadian output was 117,833 tons against 115,572 in April and shipments of 115,572 tons compared with 113,931.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Co. has sold to J. P. Morgan & Co. an $18,000,000 issue of 5 per cent. equipment bonds, maturing from 1924 to 1929. The bonds are being placed privately at par and interest.

Stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad reached a new high record of $45.00 on June 1, an increase of 420 over May, and a gain of 15.72 over the former record of 145.25 in April.

The unexpected reduction in tire prices by the Piska Rubber Co., which other manufacturers are expected to meet, will force most of the companies to rebate to dealers a substantial percentage of their purchases in the last month. Under agreements generally in the tire industry, prices to dealers virtually are guaranteed for a period of 30 days.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM TRUCK

Douglas Davis, of 4 Mapleview avenue, fell from a truck in Kenwood on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard, late yesterday afternoon and sustained serious injuries. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Corporation hospital, where he regained consciousness shortly before noon today.

No report of the accident was made at local police headquarters until noon today when John J. McFermont of 30 Pleasant street reported that it was from his truck the boy fell. According to his report, the boy had asked him for a ride and rode on the running board of the truck. When in Kenwood, the boy either was frightened and jumped or lost his hold and fell to the ground.

The Indians believed that a fish buried in the corn hill gave a better yield of corn.

THIS new kind of laundry soap makes a thick soap-suds solution. Pour this into your tubs, boiler or washing machine. Use it instead of bar soap.

USE enough Rinsol to get good lasting suds that stand up after the clothes are put in. These rich soap-suds SOAK dirt out. No more harmful rubbing!

SOAK clothes an hour—overnight if you wish. Then rinse. Because Rinsol dissolves completely, it rinses out thoroughly leaving clothes snowy white.

Rinsol is made by the makers of Lux to do the family wash as perfectly as Lux does all fine things. Get Rinsol from your grocer today.

J. PAUL DOHERTY, A. G. Pollard Co.

HOW TO WIN:

Purchase CheX to take the place of ordinary toilet and bath soaps—(Drug and Department Stores sell CheX). Use it a few days, then you will know what a super necessity it is—you will know how much more delightful it is to use than ordinary soap. Then solve the Rebus Puzzle and write a sentence telling why you like CheX. You can compete in the Slogan Contest, sending the answer to Rebus Puzzle, if desired. Mail separately if you enter both contests. Each box of CheX contains a pamphlet describing the uses and qualities of CheX. You may get some good ideas by reading it. Remember! a simple, catchy idea may afford the best Slogan and you have 20 prizes to compete for. The local judges will pass on all answers and award prizes, which will be paid by The Pioneer Products Co.

NEW COURT HOUSE PLANS

Architect's Drawings to Be Ready for Discussion Early Next Week

Lowell's proposed new $200,000 district courthouse is fast assuming shape in the official architect's plans. Within a few days, the great array of individual scale blue-prints will have received the "finishing touches," the architect will arrange them in proper order for inspection and study, and then will come the informal presentation of the charts to the Middlesex county commissioners for final decision that will precede the official advertising for competitive bids for construction.

Commissioner Barlow told The Sun today that Architect Charles R. Greco, of Winchester, has been working diligently upon the blue-prints without a let-up, ever since the job went to the Winchester expert. From time to time, Mr. Greco has had to consult with the county commissioner, not for advice as to the physical structure, outside or within, but as to certain unusual features affecting the arrangement of quarters for court and legal proceedings.

The architect's work is practically completed, with the exception of plan embellishments emphasizing construction parts here and there. Mr. Barlow expects the plans may be ready at the end of the present week. If so, then early next week—either Monday or Tuesday, possibly—there will be held at the Barlow or regular county commissioners' offices, whichever may be preferred and selected, an informal meeting of persons directly interested in the physical aspects of the proposed new district court building.

Police Court Justice Enright and Clerk of the District Court Edward Trull, will be among those invited to look over the finished blue-prints at this informal conference with Commissioner Barlow. The latter is prepared to explain every feature of the new district courthouse plan that will possibly cost the county close to $200,000 before it would be ready for dedication and occupancy. The Sun is informed. Those examining the plans will be allowed to make any criticisms they desire, and honest approval where approval is called for, will, of course, be welcomed by the county commissioners who are taking a deeply solicitous interest in Lowell's new district courthouse proposition beyond a doubt.

Mr. Barlow said today that the plans or Architect Greco show something to the people of the city and county, that he believes will be a revelation if the building proposed is constructed according to original plan. In many respects Lowell's new courthouse will follow the general scheme of the broad-new building constructed for similar purposes in Malden. While the grounds in Malden are more spacious, Lowell will have practically the same building form so far as frame construction is concerned. Malden citizens are very proud and happy over their new courthouse pile.

Mr. Barlow thought it possible that bids for the erection of Lowell's new district court building would be advertised early next month.

NEW YORK, June 20.—(Wireless) Theresa Quinn Minet, beaming at you with her best Al-Smith-for-president smile, is the official greeting to all arrivals to the democratic convention.

She has digested dozens of timetables and boat schedules, and has worked out a plan whereby she or one of her 54 assistants will be on hand to meet and glad-hand every delegate and his wife as they step from the boat or train.

"Back in Main street, you always meet the trains," she explains. "It gives one a comfortable feeling to be greeted after a long, tiresome journey and escorted to a hotel."

"Too many people have the idea that New York is cold and heartless and that all neighborhood and hospitality have been crushed out of it. If we don't do anything else at this convention we're going to show the rest of the country New Yorkers are not half as hard-boiled as they are alleged to be."

"We are going to dispense Main street hospitality on a Fifth avenue scale. Garden parties, breakfasts, receptions and teas will be presided over by women who have been hostesses at the White House, cabinet functions and the leading centers of Europe."

"Visitors who have been coming to New York year after year and who have found cabarets and supper clubs will have the opportunity this time to get into New York's most beautiful homes and in her exclusive clubs, and meet the sort of people they know back home."

When she isn't absorbed in being chairman of the delegation committee, Mrs. Minet holds a responsible position as manager of the women's department of a New York bank.

Here are a few rules to follow when reaching New York. They will save you argument and money.

If possible, take a taxi cab with a green meter. They are the cheapest and the best in the city. If you can't get one with a green meter, take one with a blue meter. They are next cheapest. Avoid cabs with red or white meters. They charge a "double tariff" for more than two passengers, and are higher in price for one passenger.

These hotels are either across the street from the station mentioned or less than two minutes walk away.

Subways may be had at either station.

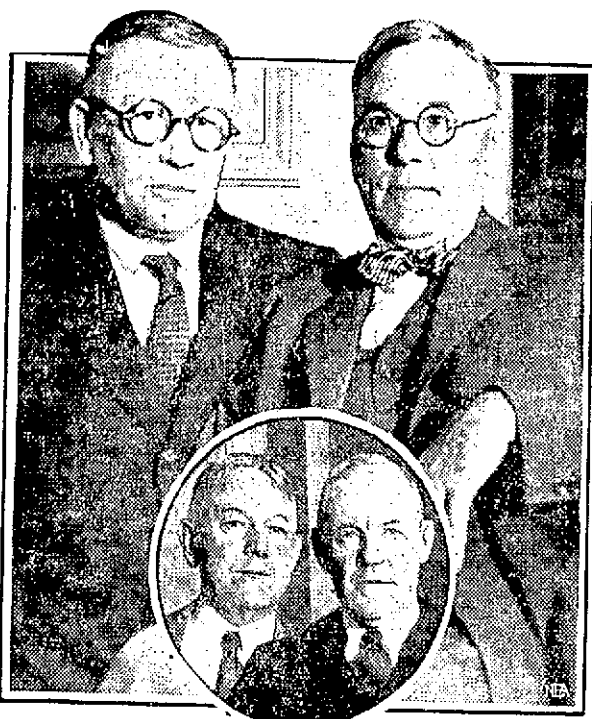

If you fail to get accommodations at your favorite hotel, get in touch with the Hotel Association of New York, 234 Fifth avenue, telephone 6500. This organization will maintain a room bureau, and will do its best to help you.

TRUCK LOADED WITH ALCOHOL SEIZED

BEVERLY, June 20.—The police early today captured a motor truck loaded with alcohol which had come from the water front and chased another truck. One of its tires with a pistol shot and brought it to a halt. Four men were arrested here but the two aboard the truck in North Andover escaped.

ANOTHER SETBACK FOR MORSE BROTHERS

NEW YORK, June 20.—The fall of Harry F. and Benjamin Morse, sons of Charles W. Morse, to be freed of charges here by the federal government of using the mails to defraud, has received another setback.

Federal Judge Winslow, yesterday dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings brought in their behalf. In their petition they contended that their arrest while on a train bound for Washington to be tried on charges of defrauding the federal government was illegal because they were on their way to appear before another court.

Delegates Pour Into N. Y.

Cummings busy on platform

Work already has been started by Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut on the party platform.

It is generally conceded that the main test of strength between the McAdoo and Smith forces will be on the question of the Ku Klux Klan, League of Nations and prohibition.

George E. Brennan, Illinois, leader and known as a Smith supporter, has been bitter in his attitude against the hooded organization and insists that the democratic platform must definitely denounce the Klan. Managers of the McAdoo campaign have reiterated the stand taken by their candidate in his southern speech on Americanism and religious tolerance.

Sen. Pittman frames planks

To Senator Pittman of Nevada, has been designated the duty of framing the fundamental planks in the platform. Senator Pittman, who conferred on the tentative draft of a platform, with congressmen in Washington, conferred with Mr. Cummings.

The women blossomed forth today and became active in both the Smith and McAdoo camps while parliamentarians setting forth the feminine strength of both candidates began to appear in the hotel lobbies and on the streets.

Among the latest arrivals are Thomas Taggart of Indiana, whose support is pledged to Senator Baldwin.

William Jennings Bryan, who has promised to do "plenty of talking" to the party leaders once he gets into town, is due today.

Davis willing to run

Mr. Davis presented his attitude on the presidency in a letter made public yesterday after a luncheon of a number of his friends who have been here recently in organizing the John W. Davis for president club.

The letter, dated April 7 and written in New York, was addressed to Herbert L. Burch, secretary of the club, who had written the former ambassador for a definition of his attitude.

The text of Mr. Davis' letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Burch,

"I have your very kind letter of March 25 and regret my delay in replying to it. Please believe that I sincerely appreciate your offer of support. If I were in any sense a candidate I should be delighted to send to the club of which you speak a few words of greeting. I have taken, however, in good faith, the position that I am not a candidate for the nomination and that any decision to the contrary must come from the party and desire is that the party shall choose the man best calculated to lead it to success, for I sincerely believe that the national situation imperatively demands the return of the democratic party to power."

"Elections turn, or should turn, upon the question of confidence, or want of confidence in those who have been intrusted with the administration of the government."

"With the record of the last three years before them, it is inconceivable that the people should vote their approval of those now in power."

"Believe me with kindest regards,

"Sincerely yours,

(Signed) JOHN W. DAVIS"

Draft Tentative Platform

NEW YORK, June 20. (By the Associated Press)—Scandal in the administration affairs as disclosed by senate investigations occupies the dominant place in a tentative democratic platform in process of drafting by a group of party leaders for submission to the platform committee.

Foreign relations, with particular reference to the world court; agricultural aid, and economy in government expenditure coupled with tax reduction, are subjects to be dealt with in other principal planks.

Prohibition, the Ku Klux Klan issue and foreign affairs probably will form the main fighting points before the resolutions committee. The present tentative draft of the platform omits specific mention of prohibition, but contains a plank with a strong declaration for enforcement. There is no mention of the Ku Klux Klan.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti Saloon league, and representatives of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, already are on the ground and promise to make a strong fight for specific declarations by the party. Leaders do not hesitate to say, however, that there is little probability for success for either organization.

CONVENTION NOTES

NEW YORK, June 20.—Howard Everett, democratic national committee-man from Minnesota, said that in his state there is a very robust Smith sentiment and that of the 24 delegates, 19 showed leanings toward Smith.

Mr. Everett said the big issue in Minnesota is "agricultural relief," the farmer seeking a candidate who will help him out of his troubles—and in this connection, he called attention to the number of banks which had gone to the wall in the agricultural sections of the west.

C. C. Carlin, manager of Senator Underwood's campaign, has announced that he and his backers would join with George E. Brennan, leader of the old guard, in forcing the Klan fight to the front. There will be no "pussy-footing" on the question, Carlin said, declaring that the demand will be presented to the convention to mention the Klan by name and demanding its extermination.

Members of the National League of Women Voters have arrived here to petition the democratic party to recognize in its platform humanitarian planks sought by women. The delegation is headed by Mrs. Solon R. Jacobs of Birmingham, Ala., a former vice president of the league and a former member of the democratic national committee. Other delegation members include Mrs. Larue Brown of Boston, former child welfare chairman for the National league, and Miss Gertrude Ely of Bryn Mawr, Pa. Miss Ely is the daughter of Cleveland, president, will come from Washington today to join the delegation.

J. T. Crawford, democratic national committee-man from Florida, and most of the members of that delegation, will arrive this morning. Their headquarters will be at the Madison Square hotel. The delegation, of which William Jennings Bryan is a member, is instructed for McAdoo.

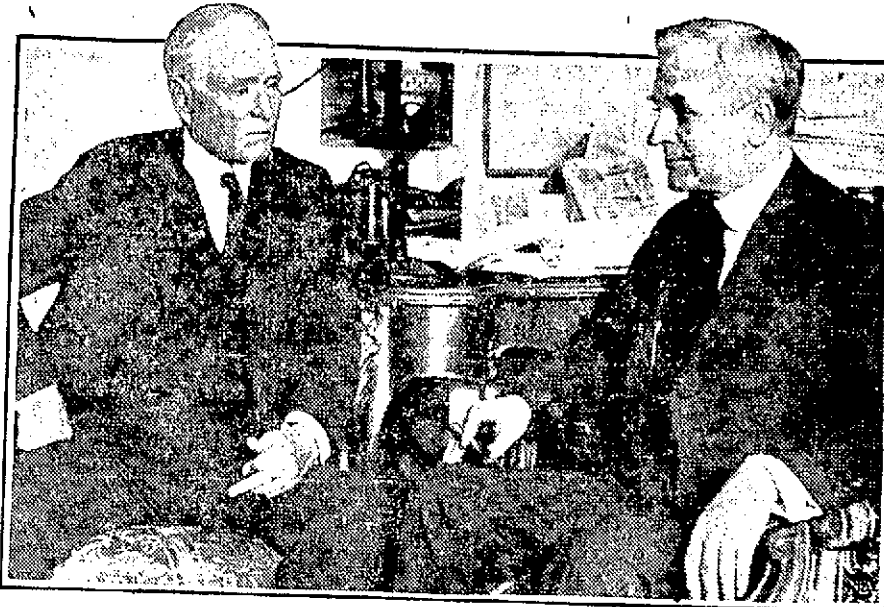

Newton D. Baker is scheduled to make the nominating speech for former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio.

Headquarters of Gov. George S. Miller of New Jersey for the presidential nomination were opened yesterday.

JURY ACQUITS GREER IN DINES SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—What happened at the gay party here last New Year's night in the course of which Courtland S. Dines, Denver oil man, was shot and seriously wounded, today remained food for the imagination of those who hopefully attended the session after session of the trial of Horace A. Greer on a charge of attempting to murder Dines. The defendant was acquitted by a jury of 10 women and two men, in the superior court yesterday without having said a word from the stand.

If they were disappointed, so was confused with stones.

Greer, he had scarcely finished shaking hands with the jurors when he was arrested on a charge of violating the state prohibition enforcement act. Pending preliminary hearing on this charge he was released on $250 bail.

Neither Miss Normand, Greer's former employer, or Edna Purviance, the other motion picture actress, with whom he was not entirely satisfied with the way the trial turned out, "I wish," she said, "that the impression had never been created that a lot of things about that party were hushed up. I didn't want anybody to shield me. I wish they had told everything; there certainly was not anything for me to be afraid to have told."

CLEVELAND INDIANS AND DETROIT TIGERS SPLIT IN TWIN BILL

Speaker's Charges Continue to Throw Tomahawks Into Skirmishes at Top of League—Win 10 of Last 14 Games—National League Leaders Win

NEW YORK, June 20.—Tris Speaker's Indians continue to throw tomahawks with telling effect from their dugout in seventh place into the skirmishes at the top of the league. Detroit, maintaining an endless vigil at the door to first place, had one hand on the knob as the Yankees slept yesterday, but a shower of hatchets buried them under a 16-5 score in the first game. Color rushed out a collection for the second contest to face the rampaging team which had taken ten of 14 games from the east. While the Indians laughed, Weiss of the Yankees and Birmingham, held them to six hits and won, 3 to 2.

No eastern teams played in the American yesterday, but the Yankees and Red Sox will be at it in the stadium today. Detroit, ten points behind New York, moved into the lead if they are able to paralyze the arms of the hatchet throwers. The St. Louis Browns stepped back in the first division, coming from behind to beat the White Sox, 6 to 2, after the latter had baited Van Gilder for four runs in the final session. Eight hurlers served, Ken Interesting Figures by Internal Revenue Dept.

Internal Revenue Department statistics published by the Bulletin of the U. S. Tobacco Merchants' Association show that sales of cigars made to sell for from 8 to 15 cents showed a decrease of 14 1-3 per cent. in March. The sales of the Elcho Cigar, made in Boston, increased more than 100 per cent. in March, and Elcho sales for the first four months of this year showed the same big increase over 1923.

These figures prove that cigar smokers have been quick to appreciate the expensive long Havana filler used in the Elcho, and have insisted on this cigar.—Adv.

ANNUAL REGATTA OF HARVARD AND YALE ON PICTURESQUE THAMES

Rivals of More Than Half a Century Meet Today for the 57th Time—Yale Has Edge With 29 Victories to 27 Defeats

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 20 (By the Associated Press).—Tradition that has come through more than a half century of rivalry will surround the annual regatta of Harvard and Yale crews today, on the picturesque Thames river.

The universities have met 56 times since 1852 on the water and Yale, due to the supremacy it has asserted in the past few seasons, now has the edge in the series with 29 victories to 27 for the Crimson.

The first Harvard-Yale regatta was rowed in barges. Three years later, on the Connecticut river, Harvard's eight and four-oared barges defeated Yale six-oared boats. In 1852, the events were rowed on Lake Quinsigamond. The regattas were suspended during the Civil war until 1864, when they were resumed on Quinsigamond, continuing their history. Harvard and Yale then entered the Rowing Association of American Colleges and suspended the dual event until 1870, when the four-mile event was resumed at Springfield, Mass. Yale and Harvard each won a race on that course and the first regatta was held here in 1875, Harvard winning. With one exception the event has been held on the Thames ever since. In 1918, the event was rowed on the Housatonic river at Derby at two miles. The race was not held in 1917 because of the World war.

The complete record follows:

FINALS IN GREAT LAKES FAIR WEATHER FOR YALE-TENNIS TOURNAMENT HARVARD BOAT RACE

RUFFALO, N. Y., June 20.—Finals in the Great Lakes singles tennis tournament will be played today. In the open championship, William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, national titleholder, will engage A. H. Chapin, Jr. of Springfield, Mass.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 20.—Two college worlds centered today on a four-mile strip of dark-marked water on the Thames river here, where Yale and Harvard crews prepared to contest the 57th regatta between the Blue and the Crimson. From the four corners of the country, men of Harvard and Yale were flocking to New London by rail, yacht and automobile, the prospect of fair weather for the races attracting a throng which bade fair to break records of recent years. A slight fog of the early morning hours had cleared as the sun made itself felt and the prospects became favorable for racing.

FINNISH RUNNER LOWERS TWO WORLD'S RECORDS

HELSINKI, Finland.—Oiva Nurmi, Finnish runner, lowered two of his own world records—the 1500 and the 5000 meters.

In the 1500 metres he ran the distance in 3 minutes 52.5 seconds, the mark he established last year of 3:55. In the 5000 metres Nurmi's time was 15 minutes 25.5 seconds. His previous record was 14 minutes 25.40 seconds.

MISS M'KANE PRAISES MISS HELEN WILLS

LONDON, June 20.—There is good prospect of Miss Wills reaching the final in the International tournament, if combined with luck in the draw, she can avoid the strenuous play of the English atmosphere and revert to her old triumphant style.

This is the opinion of the American champion, expressed in the Daily Express by Miss Kathleen McKane, who defeated her at Wimbledon yesterday.

Recalling how Miss Wills defeated her in 1923, McKane said that the British star says she then felt the same uneasiness which she assumes the American champion felt at Wimbledon, and of many of the same things.

It has been a long while since the middle west produced a galaxy of notable hurdlers, as showed their wares on the cinders this season.

The Big Ten universities boasted such champions as Brookings and Crawford, Indiana, and John Johnson, Illinois, Snyder and Guthrie, Ohio State, and Hubbard and Leomis, Michigan.

Here were eight timber-toppers who could cover the barriers in close record time. Then there was Kral, Missouri star, another real steeple-chaser.

In Brookings, Iowa had the best low hurdler yet developed in the west. The Hawk is the present holder of the world's record for the event—25.1-5 seconds. He had run that mark in 1923, breaking the old record established by Kraenzlein in 1920. Brookings is also a good quarter-mile, and has won the distance in 50 flat.

Crawford, a champion, is a high hurdler who confines his activities to the 120-yard event. In the season just closed he has won Iowa many points.

Kinsley, Illinois, was the best high hurdler performer in the middle west this campaign. From the ranks of the unknown Kinsley stepped into the limelight to defeat the great Johnson, a teammate, who in 1923 was considered a world-beater.

Snyder and Guthrie, Ohio State, were both stellar men. The former topped the high hurdles or the Penn relay team, but could only place third in the eastern conference meet. Guthrie placed in the low barriers.

Questions

1. There are two out, a man on third base and one strike on the batter. The batsman is of the opinion that the strike has been called on him on the next pitch the man on third starts to steal home. The latter struck at the ball, missed it, and heaved to the first. The catcher dropped the ball but recovered and threw to first ahead of the runner. In the meantime the runner from third had slid over the plate in safety. What about this play? N. T. L.

2. Can a batsman for any reason step out of the batter's box after the pitcher has started his delivery. If so does the pitched ball count? T. M.

3. Is it legal for a pitcher to walk into the box facing the second base, and then throw the ball to the first base?

Answers

1. The runner must face the batsman to make his delivery legal. He really did slide over the plate and delivered the ball from that position without any hesitation as he faced the batter. —T. M.

PRESENTS PLANS FOR ZONING

City Planner Submits His First Suggestions to Planning Board

Call for Restricted Residential Sections and Downtown Building Heights

City Planner Arthur C. Conroy appeared before the planning board at a meeting held yesterday in the mayor's reception room at city hall and presented his first tentative plans for the zoning of Lowell. As he told the board, the plans given are all temporary and subject to endorsement or change, being given for the double purpose of showing progress attained and paying the way for suggestions from the members of the board.

Chairman Patrick O'Hearn called the meeting promptly at 1 o'clock. Mr. Conroy presented two incomplete maps of sections of the city, the scale being 500 feet to one inch, and these maps showed the present complexion of various sections as to the types of structures at present located thereon.

For Residential Restriction
Most important of his recommendations was that land out Andover street in the vicinity of Douglas road be included in a restricted section in which only the building of one-family houses would be permitted. That portion of the Highlands south and west of Parker street he would also have placed in the same category.

He recommended that definite industrial general business, local business, wholesale business, and residential districts be established even though it is necessary to establish two or more of each description because of the present locations. He said there is nothing in his plans as roughly outlined which should be construed as intending to eliminate or hinder any industrial pursuits now here.

In the districts recommended for one-family houses exclusively he added that of course the districts would be open as usual to schools, churches and farming.

For Limiting Building Heights
Because of the narrowness of many downtown streets Mr. Conroy recommended that the height of all buildings should be limited, suggesting that 100 feet be established as the maximum. In the strictly residential districts he would set the height limit at thirty feet, thus eliminating the possibility of three-story tenements being erected.

He would have other districts with a 40-foot height maximum. In limited areas, in the downtown districts and near industrial plants he would permit higher structures for use for residential purposes. He would not allow garages with a capacity of more than two cars erected in any residential district.

Asked regarding stores in residential districts the planner said that in his opinion stores should only be permitted on main arteries in residential districts, or the so-called "main streets." Even then he would limit them to corner locations and also as to height.

He came out strongly favoring yard requirements in the residential districts and urged that regulations be recommended requiring a minimum set-back from the property line in all building in residential districts.

Clarence M. Wood wanted to know when the zoning ordinance would be ready for presentation to the city council. Mr. Conroy answered that the purpose was to submit the plan in full to the planning board on or about Dec. 1, and that it would be ready for the council before the first of the year.

It was suggested to Mr. Conroy that he view that section of Westford street lying between Monandoc and Pratt streets, with a view to limiting residence construction there to dwellings of the one-family type.

Inspector of Buildings John E. Moynihan was present at the conference. It was voted to adjourn until July 7.

SACO-LOWELL TO CLOSE

Will Shut Down for Three Weeks in July Beginning on the Third

Saco-Lowell management announces that the entire Lowell plant will be closed for a vacation of three weeks, from Thursday, July 2, to Monday morning, July 21, for all employees working on an hourly basis.

All employees on a salary, will report Saturday morning, July 6, and then take a vacation from noon, July 5, until Monday morning, July 21. This shut-down, according to Agent E. R. Foster, is for the purpose of allowing all employees to take their vacations at the same time, as well as to allow the corporation executives to take inventories of plant, equipment, stock, etc.

Minute notices giving the information as above, have been posted in all departments of the Saco-Lowell shops, old and new, and in the Kilson departments and foundry.

The vacation period at the Putnam street plants last year consisted of two weeks, and most of the employees welcomed it at that time. The new plant on Putnam street is now fully equipped with machinery for future activities and regular runs are the rule there today on the usual regular weekly-running schedules.

DAUGHERTY INQUIRY

Mrs. Willebrandt Says Price of Liquor Along Seaboard Will Be a Lot Higher

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, promised the Senate Daugherty investigating committee today that the "price of liquor along the Atlantic seaboard will be a lot higher pretty soon."

Recalled for a brief period just before the committee adjourned its sessions today for the summer, Mrs. Willebrandt said measures now in preparation including additions to the coast guard, enable the government to cope with the smuggling situation effectively.

PRES. COOLIDGE UNABLE TO VISIT BOWDOIN

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 19.—President Coolidge, in connection with the 125th commencement today, disclosed the fact that President Coolidge had been asked to attend.

Such invitations ordinarily are in pursuance of plans to confer honorary degrees on the person invited.

In expressing his regret at inability to accept, President Coolidge commented on the fact this was the 100th anniversary of the graduation from Bowdoin of President Franklin Pierce, who was New England's last previous occupant of the White House.

The degrees to members of the senior class numbered 45 bachelors of arts and 32 bachelors of science.

SMITH FROWNS ON VICE PRESIDENCY
NEW YORK, June 19.—Gov. Smith declared today that he would not accept should the democratic convention seek to nominate him for vice-president. Told by newspapermen that there had been some talk of his nomination for the lesser candidate, he said:

"I will not be a second choice. I won't even acknowledge the existence of a second choice."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

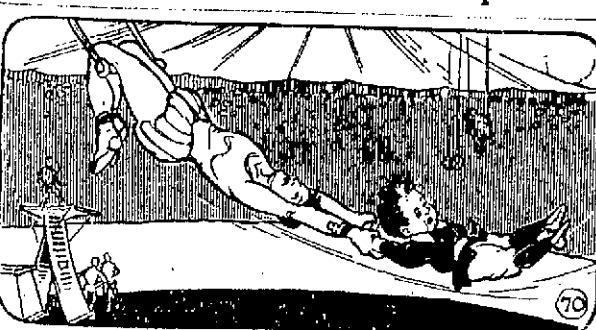

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally composed a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

EVERETT TRUE

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

The acrobat decided, however, that Jack had best wait until the act was over before he fell. Then he asked Jack if he'd like to be thrown over to the next swing. "Sure," came the reply. And in an instant Jack was swinging out into the air from the acrobat's hands.

"Next time I swing forward I'll let you go," said the acrobat. "The man on the next swing will catch you if you'll hold out your hands." Jack did as he was told and the trick was done perfectly. It was a great thrill for the little adventurer. Then a horn blared forth loudly.

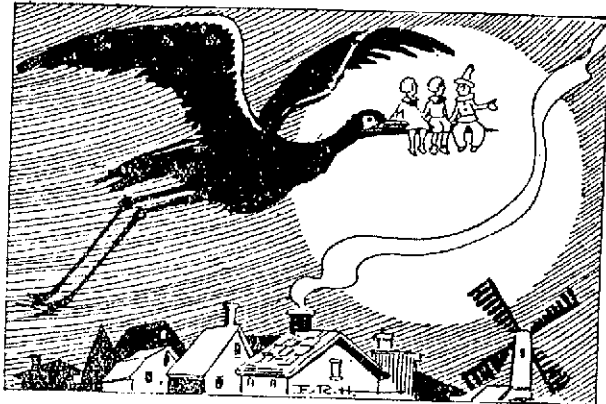

"Time for us to drop into the net," said the acrobat. "You go first." Jack hung by his hands and then let go. He dropped into the net and his circus adventure was over. The circus crowd was already leaving the big tent. Jack Daw's next adventure will be "In the Frozen North."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP WITH THE STORK.

"HOLLAND LOOKS LIKE A PICTURE, DOESN'T IT?"

Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up, the fairy, held tightly to the stork's long, sharp beak while he carried them away from the tulip field over a lovely country with grass as green as it looked like paint in a picture.

And the sky above was as blue and the clouds so big and white and fluffy, they too, looked like paint.

"Holland looks like a picture, doesn't it?" remarked Nancy, looking down at the scene through the air high above the tree tops.

"Yes," answered the stork. "When I leave my other home in Africa to fly north for the summer, you can't blame me for picking out such a lovely country as Holland. And the people are so happy and never throw stones at us, the children don't."

"Oh, look," cried Nick. "What are those big things with wheels on top?"

"Those are wind-mills," said the stork.

"And what are all those creeks for?" asked Nancy, pointing downward.

"They're so straight they look as though they had been drawn with a ruler, and they cross each other like the marks on a checkboard."

"Those are canals," explained the stork. "Holland is low and very watery. The people dig canals to let the water run away, then their fields are dry enough to farm."

"I see a lot of cows," said Nick next. "There seems to be cows everywhere."

"Of course," answered the stork. "Cows give milk and milk makes cheese. The people of Holland make enough cheese to feed the whole world almost—and still have enough left over for the mice. Those houses yonder are dairies where they make the cheese."

"Say," said Johnny Jump Up admiringly, "you know a lot, don't you, Mister Stork? Why, you are better than a geography book."

"Seeing the world is always better than studying a book," said the stork wisely. "And I am a much-traveled person."

"Are we much-traveled persons?" asked Nancy curiously.

"Well," said the stork thoughtfully, "I should say you were. And by the time my friend the timoness takes you to some more countries you ought to know enough to get into college. Or high school, anyway."

"What's the wall for?" asked Nick, pointing down to a place where the land stopped and the sea began.

"A high wall ran along the shore as far as they could see."

"What's at the seashore, and that's a dyke," said the stork. "The sea came up and spoiled the land some time, and the people couldn't make the water run away, then their fields are dry enough to farm."

"I see a lot of cows," said Nick next. "There seems to be cows everywhere."

"Of course," answered the stork. "Cows give milk and milk makes cheese. The people of Holland make enough cheese to feed the whole world almost—and still have enough left over for the mice. Those houses yonder are dairies where they make the cheese."

"Say," said Johnny Jump Up admiringly, "you know a lot, don't you, Mister Stork? Why, you are better than a geography book."

GENERAL INVESTIGATION OF TELEPHONE RATES

BOSTON, June 20.—A general investigation of the rates of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company will be directed by the Public Utilities commission, according to Chairman H. C. Atwell. Mr. Atwell was speaking yesterday afternoon at the hearing on the company's petition for authority to increase its charges for private switch boards and tolls. The petition is opposed by Mayor Curley who has asked for an investigation of the company's rates.

Chairman Atwell stated at the same time that some of the increases sought by the company in its present petition would probably be allowed pending the general investigation.

If the commission felt the general investigation would be prolonged they might allow some of the rates to become effective. He said if the commission felt satisfied at a deficit, they doubted the justification of further suspension of the proposed rates.

In some cases where rate increases have been requested, the commission has allowed the rates to become effective pending an investigation and then had a possible further adjustment, Chairman Atwell said.

Corporation Counsel R. Mark Sullivan said he did not believe the company has made out a prima facie case and he believes that when all the evidence was in, the commission would follow the action of other states in finding that the 4 1/2 per cent engineering cost paid the American company is not justifiable and should be reduced.

Chairman Atwell said the commission would want from the books of the company for the first five months of the year 1923, which showed that in May, 1923, there was a profit of $531,697, and that in May, 1924, there was a profit of $573,293, while there was a deficit of $665,975 on May 31, this year.

The investigation in Worcester covered 253 private branch exchanges and disclosed that outward calls averaged 3.7 cents per minute, while there was a profit of $665,975 on May 31, this year.

In reply to questions from the commission, Mr. Pierce said the deficit is due partly to poor general business conditions in the state.

The stork said he has increased during the past few years, he said, and the revenue from the storks must be increased to maintain such service.

It was agreed between counsel that the hearing will be resumed next Thursday morning at 10:30.

Things grow. So they built this dyke many years ago to keep the sea out. You'll never see another one anywhere just like it. But we must go. The timoness will be waiting for you on the roof to take you home."

"Your ticket said there and back," he remarked, "so we must be returning to the magic garden."

"Goodbye," she said to the stork, hopping, all three of them, on the plump little bird's back.

Way they flew over the ocean toward the sunset, leaving Holland and the stork far behind.

TO LAY WILSON'S LAST POLITICAL WILL BEFORE PLATFORM COMMITTEE

Baltimore Sun Says Group of Former President's Followers Plan to Lay "Memorandum" Before Members of Resolutions Committee at New York

BALTIMORE, June 20.—A copyrighted dispatch from a staff correspondent at New York to the Baltimore Sun today says:

"Woodrow Wilson's last political will and testament—a document of party principle and policy—is to be laid by a group of his followers before the members of the resolutions committee when the time comes to write the democratic platform."

The "memorandum," as it is called, the dispatch says, takes this position on foreign relationships:

1. S. Membership in League

"Straight out and straight forward membership of the United States in the League of Nations and an abandonment of a farcical policy of unofficial observation."

"Adherence of this nation to the permanent international court of justice under the auspices of the league and with no nullifying reservations."

"On domestic matters, the former president and his political associates agreed upon these policies:

Liberal Toward Prohibition

"A liberal attitude toward prohibition, but with law enforcement, whatever the law may be."

"Revision downward of federal taxation as radically and as rapidly as the state of treasury will permit."

"A careful and scientific revision downward of the tariff to promote foreign trade and to prevent the exploitation of the many for the aggrandizement of the few."

"Relief for the farmer by granting to him additional credit when needed."

"Re-examination of the whole transportation problem by congress looking toward lower rates and with the possible creation of a new department of transportation having representation in the cabinet."

"A direct declaration for religious freedom, the separation of church and state, and the condemnation of any sector which would openly or covertly impair any religious rights."

The document, the correspondent says, was drafted by Mr. Wilson a few months before his death in collaboration with eight or nine of his closest friends. In the group were: Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas; Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former secretary of war; Senator Carter Glass of Virginia; Senator Claude A. Swanson of Virginia; Norman H. Davis, former under-secretary of state; Bernard M. Baruch, of New York; David F. Houston, former secretary of agriculture and later secretary of the treasury; and Frank J. Cobb, now dead, for many years editor of the New York World.

SUBPOENAS FOR SEC. MELLON AND SECRETARY

NEW YORK, June 20.—Subpoenas were issued today requiring the presence of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his secretary, Arthur Sixsmith, at the trial of Gaston B. Means and Elmer W. Jarnecke, in federal court next Tuesday.

Means, former agent of the department of justice, and Jarnecke, his secretary, are being tried before Federal Judge Wolverton and a jury on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law through the withdrawal of liquor.

The names of Secretary Mellon and Sixsmith were brought into the testimony on Wednesday by John W. Hubbard, of Trenton, N. J. He testified that he had had an opportunity to buy whiskey obtainable through special government connections from the Thompson Distillery Warehouses at Brownsville, Pa. Through Frank D. Saupp, an automobile dealer, Hubbard said he had paid $15,000 to Charles W. Johnson, who was negotiating directly with Means.

Hubbard testified that the man said that he did not get his money back. He said he then had lunch with Sixsmith, who urged him to complain to Secretary Mellon. He said he did so telling Mellon of the part played by Means in the attempted transaction. The secretary replied Hubbard said, that he was "surprised" a government official would do anything like that.

At Mr. Mellon's suggestion, the witness said affidavits to charges were made before Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair. The government rested its case against Means and Jarnecke after Special Prosecutor Tiedt had called as witnesses, three telephone operators who furnished wire covering telephone calls by Jarnecke to Means from a Pittsburgh hotel to one in this city.

Before opening the defense Thomas W. Felder, Means' counsel, announced that he had obtained subpoenas for Secretary Mellon and Sixsmith. Mr. Felder said he desired to question them concerning Hubbard's testimony.

After Judge Wolverton had denied a motion to dismiss the indictment, Felder made his opening address, asserting that he expected to prove that all the acts attributed to Means and Jarnecke, were in the line of their duty as department of justice investigators and that the indictment of Means and his dismissal from the government's service was instigated by a high government official.

"We expect to show," Felder said, "that gigantic liquor deals were uncovered by them in this country and that some of the most distinguished men in this country were connected either directly or indirectly with these violations."

NEW PARTY TO ORGANIZE TODAY

Party Nominated Ticket and Adopted Platform at Convention Yesterday

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20.—(By the Associated Press.) The national committee of the new national farmer-labor party which adjourned its three days' convention last night after nominating a provisional ticket and adopting a platform, met here today to organize and discuss methods for continuing its work.

The committee, which is composed of two delegates from each state and one from each national and economic and political party, was to elect an executive committee and a chairman, in addition to drawing up plans for negotiating with the conference for progressive political action to be held at Cleveland, July 4. The committee, who filled the convention just closed, have control of the committee, which includes William Z. Foster and C. E. Ruthenberg of the Workers' party; C. A. Hathaway, and Joseph Manley of the federated farmer-labor party; Alexander Howatt, Kansas; Duncan McDonald, Illinois; William Bonick, Washington; Charles E. Taylor, Montana; and William Mahoney and Louis Engstrom, Minnesota.

McDonald, whose home is at Springfield, Ill., was nominated by acclamation as the party's candidate for president. Bouck, who is a Puget Sound rancher, was chosen as the vice-presidential standard-bearer.

Their nominations came after farmer delegates had attempted to get the convention to endorse Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, for president. The national committee was instructed to negotiate with the Cleveland gathering in an effort to have Senator La Follette endorse the St. Paul convention.

McDonald's candidacy was pressed only in the event that Senator La Follette refused the communists' endorsement. The senator previously had repudiated the St. Paul convention. High spots in the platform included: Recognition of soviet Russia called for nationalization of large industries with participation in the management by workers; government ownership of banks; public ownership of railroads and marketing institutions; compensation for the unemployed and employment of the unemployed on public works such as road building, swamp reclamation, and a federal minimum wage law for all workers.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Edward Connors and Miss Margaret Ennis were united in marriage Monday afternoon at St. Margaret's rectory by Rev. Andrew O'Brien. Mr. Daniel Connors and Miss Margaret Ennis attended. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with hat to match and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a yellow gown with hat to match and carried pink carnations. The bride's gift to the bride was a silver wash bag, while the best man was presented a pair of white golf club mitts. Mr. and Mrs. Connors left on a wedding tour to Canada.

Cheetham-Sullivan

Mr. George Cheetham and Miss Helen Sullivan were married Wednesday at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. James Lynch. Mr. Henry Cheetham and Miss Helen Sullivan attended. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with hat to match and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a yellow gown with hat to match and carried pink carnations. The bride's gift to the bride was a silver wash bag, while the best man was presented a pair of white golf club mitts. Mr. and Mrs. Cheetham left on a wedding tour to Washington, D. C.

SUMMER CLASSES

Special Instruction Will Begin at High School on Monday, July 7

The second annual summer review session of the high school will open at the local school on Monday, July 7, and will continue for a period of six weeks.

The review school is arranged for the purpose of providing an opportunity for first and second year pupils who have unsatisfactory standing in any subject to improve their records by extra study during six weeks of the summer vacation.

Last year the first session of the summer review school was held and proved very successful. Over 150 students obtained advantage of the opportunity offered them, and a very large proportion of this number were successful at the close of the school session in passing examinations which permitted them to go ahead with their regular classes—rather than have to repeat the subject as was formerly the case or drop it completely.

The session will be from 8.30 to 11.30 a. m., five days in the week and will be divided into three periods of one hour each. The work will be intensive and will be planned to give each pupil what he most needs to enable him to pass a make-up examination given by regular day school teachers at the close of the session or during the first week of the fall term.

The subjects will be taught by regular high school teachers and the spirit that will permeate the school will be that of helpfulness. The teaching will be more individual and tutorial in character than that obtained in the regular school and will aim to teach the pupil how to study and work independently. Pupils who are ambitious to make up defective records, who failed because of sickness or absence or because of inattention and are now anxious to work are the ones whom the school is designed to serve.

No pupil will be accepted for less than two hours, one of which must be spent in study. The school will be a comfortable place to spend the mornings of the week and the days when the school is designed to serve.

All applicants must have the approval of the head master, and those from junior high schools must receive the recommendations of their principals.

TODAY'S CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

James A. McArdle, Clara McFarland and Mary Lauphey, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Samuel May, were arraigned in district court this morning charged with drunkenness. McArdle was sentenced to the house of correction for three months. The McFarland woman was sentenced to the state farm, and the Lauphey woman was continued until tomorrow.

Michael A. Tanous, charged with operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and also with driving without license or registration, was continued to next Tuesday with a fine of $200 on each complaint. He was arrested in Middlesex street by Officer Clyde Aldrich about 8 o'clock this morning.

Virginia Bettencourt was found guilty of the larceny of an art square and three pictures in the total value of $60, and was ordered to pay a fine of $25. The complainant, Annie McCouhey, stated on the witness stand that the property was stolen while she was preparing to move from the same house as occupied by defendant.

John Petrofsky pleaded not guilty to operating an automobile recklessly, and guilty to operating without a license and violating a city ordinance by impeding pedestrian way street. He was continued to July 7.

DISTRIBUTION OF BONUS BLANKS

Maj. Gen. Davis Begins Work of Mailing Six Million Application Blanks

First Consignment Despatched to Most Remote Geographical Districts

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Distribution of application blanks for adjusted world war service compensation provided for the soldier bonus act has been started by Major General Robert C. Davis, adjutant general of the army and will be completed by June 25. The distribution consists of six million blank application forms and is made possible through co-operation of American Legion posts, Red Cross chapters, veterans of foreign wars and the disabled American Veterans' organization.

In a statement today describing the method of distribution, General Davis said the blanks are being mailed as rapidly as they can be delivered by the public printer, the first consignments being despatched to the more remote geographical districts. Consignments for those points six days or so distant from Washington, were mailed last Monday. Those for points five days distant were mailed Tuesday and nearby points will receive the papers by Saturday, June 21.

Actual distribution of the papers to veterans will begin next Monday, the schedule calling for the completion of that task by June 28.

LOWELL DELEGATES TO GO ON MONDAY

Local delegates to the national democratic convention in New York will meet with other delegates from the state districts in Boston on Monday. Present plans call for making the trip to New York Monday night. The Lowell delegation will include Humphrey O'Sullivan and Andrew E. Barrett, delegates, and John J. Mullany and Michael Hoar, alternates.

Lawrence Narcotic Cases In District Court

was Dr. John McArdle of Lawrence, who stated that he has treated Buckley for various ailments for a number of years. He did not know, he said, that his patient was addicted to the drug habit until three years ago, when Mrs. Buckley, who told him she had been a nurse before her marriage, informed him that her husband had become a pronounced addict, and that he was in the habit of taking two and three grains of morphine in one dose. This amount, said Dr. McArdle, would kill an ordinary man not accustomed to its usage, the average dose being one-quarter grain. The physiological effect of the drug wears off in about eight hours, he added, and then the craving returns, the only way to cure this craving is to increase the patient and gradually reduce the dose. The habit is curable, he believed, in six months or a year, but often requires longer treatment. Dr. McArdle said he has known Mr. Buckley for about 40 years and always regarded him as a man of high character. He is a master-plumber in Lawrence.

Dr. Fred N. Taylor of Dr. Taylor's sanitarium in Roxbury, a specialist in narcotic treatment, was the medical expert called. He testified to treating Mr. and Mrs. Buckley for a month in his private institution. He said Mr. Buckley was very sick when he came to him, but that Mrs. Buckley did not appear to be suffering to any great extent, although she confessed to him that she was slightly addicted to morphine. The couple left his care in the middle of May apparently much improved.

Dr. Albert Stearns, physician in the state prison at Charlestown, where the Buckleys underwent treatment after their arrest, stated that Mr. Buckley was feeble, weak and tremulous when he first saw him on May 28.

Recess was taken following Dr. Stearns' testimony. Samuel Buckley is charged with falsely altering prescriptions for narcotic drugs, and uttering false prescriptions for narcotics, while his wife faces a charge of unlawfully possessing hypodermic instruments.

Main Test Between Smith and McAdoo on K. K. K. League and Prohibition

NEW YORK, June 20.—The distinction of nominating Governor Alfred E. Smith as the democratic party's candidate for the presidency probably will go to his campaign manager, Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy under President Wilson.

"It looks that way," said Smith today, when asked to comment on unofficial reports that Roosevelt had been chosen his nominator.

Two separate movements to groom John W. Davis of West Virginia, former ambassador to Great Britain, for the nomination developed in Washington and Chicago and were proving stronger every minute, when it arrived here after Davis let it be known that he was in a receptive mood.

Party chieftains admittedly against McAdoo and neutral regarding Smith, immediately began sounding out state leaders on Davis as a possible compromise candidate in the event that the Smith-McAdoo contest developed a deadlock.

SISTER OF SLAIN FRANKS BOY THREATENED

CHICAGO, June 20.—A letter threatening Josephine Franks, sister of the kidnapped and slain Robert Franks, to whose murder Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb confessed, has been received by Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court.

The letter is regarded by Chief Justice Caverly as the work of a crank. It was signed "George Johnson," the name used in the ransom note sent by Leopold and Loeb. It is only one of 100 letters received by Chief Justice Caverly concerning the Franks case and was turned over to the police with the others.

Because the latest letter came so soon after a note threatening to kidnap the son of Irvin H. Hartman, wealthy furniture dealer, who has sent his two children to Baltimore, the police believe a number of cranks and mischievous persons are spending their spare time writing such notes.

Republican Senators Declare They Will Leave the State Today

Attack Follows Gas Attack Which Caused Collapse of Five Members

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 20.—(By Associated Press) As a result of the flooding with poisonous gas of the senate chamber yesterday and the collapse of five senators, the republican senators announced through the State Central committee today that they were leaving the state and would not sit in the senate chamber until means were taken to protect them. The senate is scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. In the formal statement of the central committee, Mr. Pelkey, as its chairman declared that "well known thugs" were constantly circulating among the spectators at the sessions. Examination of King by the state alienists was conducted yesterday, and although their report is not final, it is expected that a second examination to be made by Dr. Utley, Middlesex County alienist, will substantiate their finding. If such is the case, King will be confined to a state insane hospital, probably the one at Bridgewater.

The report of the alienists means that King will not go to trial on either the murder charge or the assault charge. Grand jury indictments in both have been returned and preliminary arraignments were made a week or so ago. Yesterday, in this city, Judge Pickman held an inquest on the death of Fr. Gilbride, several witnesses being heard.

Dudley L. Page was elected honorary president of the Lowell Council, Welfare Workers, at an outing and meeting held at the State School for Girls at Lancaster yesterday. About 150 friends and members of the Lowell council, including representatives from every social and welfare organization in the city, together with a delegation of the members of the Lawrence conference of St. Vincent de Paul society, attended the outing.

The party left the South common about 11 o'clock for Lancaster in automobiles. The arrival luncheon was served in the dining room of the school, under the supervision of Miss Catherine Campbell, school superintendent.

Following the luncheon the guests repaired to the chapel on the school grounds where a short business session was held. Edward Cheney of the state department of correction and president of the Lowell council opened the meeting. "This is one of three outings to be held at the various institutions of

Physicians Testify Samuel Buckley and Wife Are Addicts to Narcotics

Case Against Lawrence Couple Is Heard in District Court Here

Samuel Buckley, of 43 Bartlett street, Lawrence, and his wife, Anna Buckley, were found guilty of narcotic law violations in district court today, and were ordered committed to a private sanitarium for treatment. Both are confessed drug addicts, their penchant for the use of drugs being attested to by three prominent physicians.

An enlightening expose of the treatment accorded drug addicts was introduced by prominent medical men summoned by defendants' counsel, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson. Among these

In New York

NEW YORK, June 20—Richard Gimble, 25-year-old son of the famous wealthy department store family, just returned from his European honeymoon.

Tanned with the suns of two continents, he flitted refused to pose for ships news photographers.

They were surrounded. The wealthy Philadelphia had given him so graciously accommodation.

Kindly, but firmly, they asked for an explanation. He gave it.

Last year when he returned from abroad he was single. There was a beautiful Chicago girl on board. They had struck up a ship's acquaintance during the homeward voyage.

Photographers induced her to pose with the gay Gimble—as delightful atmosphere to an important picture.

By the time the innocent picture was printed in Chicago an enthusiastic caption writer had engaged the girl to young Gimble.

Two days later she appeared in his office in a reign of terror, following a frantic trip from the west.

She explained that she had been in love, engaged to be married. But when her fiancé had seen the picture and mislaid it in the home town newspaper, he had snapped the love strings and gone his broken-hearted way.

Gimble patched up the fragments of the love disaster over long-distance telephone immediately, and all was well—with the Chicago couple.

But as for himself—he was through with newspaper photos.

Gimble was reminded that conditions were different this year. He was married; and his wife was with him.

As though he had forgotten all about his marriage, his face brightened at this ready argument of the crafty photographers.

"Sure," he said to his wife as they smiled within range of the camera. "It doesn't make any trouble if they do say we are engaged—they may even write that we are married."

Every tattered beggar woman who pounds the streets in quest of small coins has snags teeth.

There must be some beggar's deniable that they could all grow so accommodatingly in the months of log-gars.

The most luxurious office I have seen in New York is the executive suite of the United States custom house, downtown in Bowling Green.

The ceiling is artistically done in gold leaf. Oil paintings depicting every part of the world adorn the side walls. The furniture is as staunch and stable as the government that owns it.

This one suite, occupied by the collector of the port, cost $35,000.

—STEPHEN HANNAGAN.

REFERENDUM FAILURE G. O. P. NEEDED DAWES

Few Votes Cast by Lynn Shoe Workers—Ballots Burned in Church Furnace

LYNN, June 20.—Votes cast in the referendum sponsored by Rev. Chester J. Underhill, pastor of the Washington Street Baptist church, during the past few days, were so few that they were burned this forenoon by the officers in the church furnace without being counted.

Only several hundred of the 16,000 shoe workers in the city saw fit to express their preference for one of the four propositions, appearing on the ballots printed in the newspapers, which were the Best and Shoe Workers' union, Amalgamated Shoe Workers, open shop and plan of shop representation.

The others followed the advice of their labor leaders and Rev. Joseph I. Wheeler, a local pastor, and declined to vote. Members of the Lynn Interchurch union failed to endorse the referendum idea.

Rev. Mr. Underhill stated today that he interpreted the failure of the shoe workers to vote to mean that they were satisfied to remain with the Amalgamated Shoe Workers.

He had previously stated that this was an organization with a good purpose, which had been handicapped by radicals. He will give a post mortem talk on the referendum at his church Sunday evening and believes that his labor talks have been effective.

TO STIR THINGS UP

MONTECLAIR, N. J., June 20—That the republican party has been helped by the nomination of Gen. Dawes for vice president, was the keynote of an address by Senator Edge before the Montclair branch of the Essex county republican committee last night.

"We are going to have a pretty warm campaign," he declared after a resume of the administration of President Coolidge—the man "who could sit in the White House and without effort receive the overwhelming vote of Congress that he did."

"We need to have in this campaign a stir things up, and on this ticket he is an asset. He will be more than an asset with a little of his bell and Marston before the campaign is over."

CANDLER ASKS DIVORCE

Atlanta Capitalist Sues Wife on Grounds of Cruel Treatment

ATLANTA, Ga., June 20.—Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta capitalist, has brought suit for a divorce from Mrs. May Little Candler, on the grounds of cruel treatment. The divorce petition was filed in the Fulton county superior court last yesterday and was disclosed today.

Mrs. Candler, the millionaire founder of Coca-Cola, was married to Mrs. May Little Candler, a public stenographer, in the Candler building, one year ago. After a honeymoon trip to northern cities, the capitalist installed his bride in the palatial Candler home in the exclusive Druid Hills residential section of Atlanta.

Before his second marriage Mr. Candler was sued for $500,000 for breach of promise by Mrs. Onezima De House of New Orleans. This case resulted in a verdict for Mr. Candler, the trial taking place after his marriage to Mrs. Ragin.

STEVENS STREET TO BE PAVED WITHOUT WIDENING

Protests of Abutters Heard By Public Service Board, While Those in Favor of Additional Width Fail to Appear—Hearing Held Last Night at City Hall

The Stevens street widening project met its death in the board of public service last night when, following a conference with residents of the street, two members of the board announced they would vote to disapprove the proposed widening. Chairman Dennis J. Murphy and Frederick E. Meloy made their statements as favoring the abutters following over an hour and a half of argument on the merits and advantages of the plan.

Former Mayor James B. Casey and Councilor Arthur B. Chadwick both stepped into the breach when it was seen the abutters were having things pretty much their own way. Both favored widening the street. They did not receive, however, the burst of applause that marked the end of speeches against the widening. Not one person owning property in that portion of Stevens street which would be affected, and occupying that property as their home, spoke in favor of the plan.

In stating that he would vote against widening, Chairman Murphy roundly scolded those who, he said, had come to him and favored the street widening privately but were lacking in the courage to "come down and stand up to be counted." Mr. Murphy said he believes every street in the city, if less than 40 feet in width, should be widened if feasible, and added that a car line in any narrow street is a detriment. After adding that the movement for the street widening did not originate in the board of public service, Mr. Murphy stated that he would vote against widening.

Mr. Meloy said he was responsible for the conference called last night, a public hearing having already been held, and that he had hoped some amicable and equitable agreement might be reached. He agreed with Mr. Murphy that several residents of Stevens street had spoken to him privately in favor of the widening, said that his opinion that the street should be widened is unchanged, but, he added, he would bow to the wishes of the majority of those who had the interest and courage to attend and be counted. Fred G. Leary, the third member of the board, made no statement.

Final Action Next Week

No official vote was taken by the board. Messrs. Murphy and Meloy simply making public statements of their attitude. The official intention of the widening project will undoubtedly be at the next regular meeting of the board on next Thursday afternoon. Many other matters on which public hearings were held last night will also come up for action next Thursday afternoon.

Bernard C. O'Neill, 608 Stevens st., was the first to speak against the widening plan. He said he did not care to lose any land and that the majority of neighbors feel the same way. To cut two feet off the front of his lawn would depreciate his property to the extent of $1,500 in valuation, he said.

"If I were you I'd keep quiet about that—the assessors might hear you," said Mr. Murphy. Mr. Meloy and Mr. Murphy produced the engineer's drawing of Stevens street and stated that Mr. O'Neill would be one of the least affected should the widening go through.

Would Need Side Door

Mrs. Ethel Webster, 658 Stevens street, said her property is only three feet from the sidewalk now and that should the widening project be approved, it would be necessary to close the front porch and build a side entrance to the house. She suggested a standing vote of those present to show the board how sentiment stood.

Fred Harrison, 653 Stevens street, said he'd be willing to take up the statement of Mr. Meloy, made earlier in the evening, to the effect that he stand by the majority.

"If I didn't say that," said Chairman Murphy, "I'd say he wanted to do what was best for the majority." Mr. Harrison also suggested a standing vote.

Mrs. Webster said that if the board would straighten the line of telephone poles, define the sidewalk lines and repair the present street, that the most good for the greatest number would be done.

Frank R. Hull, 606 Stevens street, said his front steps are right on the sidewalk now and the widening would

Would Be Third Slice

A Mr. Durrell, who said he lives at Parker and Stevens street, said that if this project went through it would be the third time the city had chopped a slice of his land there for one purpose or another. He said he objected to continued invasion of his home rights. He was roundly applauded. The applause which greeted each speaker who was against the widening apparently was beginning to irritate Mr. Murphy for he said sharply:

"Gentlemen, there is no sentiment in this. Applause will not affect the board at all. What we want is sound, logical, convincing arguments, pro and con, on this question."

Chadwick Takes Blame

Councilor Arthur B. Chadwick introduced himself as "the party who started all this trouble." He said that he realized the wrath of the abutters will fall on him, he wished to continue to recommend the widening of the street. While he was convinced, he said, that a five foot widening on either side might be too damaging to some, he wished to favor a widening of at least two feet on each side.

Mrs. Webster and Mr. Hull both said they wished they knew earlier of this plan and they would certainly have tried to sell their properties while they were marketable. They doubted very much if they would be marketable after the proposed improvement was carried out. Two others got up to say that they had just bought property in the street and feel that somebody must have known something about it for they are commencing to feel afraid that the widening would pass and they'd find themselves "holding the bag."

Says Imperative

James B. Casey said he was speaking for Rev. Fr. Galligan of St. Margaret's church who wished to say he would abide by whatever the board decided. "He wishes to take a public-spirited attitude," said Mr. Casey, "and would be more greatly affected than any other abutter."

Mr. Casey said his personal hope is for an amicable arrangement with the abutters which would permit the improvement of the street as desired. "There is no question but the widening is imperative," he said. "I dare say that if widened and improved as contemplated, the abutters one year hence will be pleased. If the attitude of these abutters was followed out everywhere no improvements would be made—we'd still be paving streets with cobblestones."

Statement Is Doubtful

Mrs. Webster took exception to the former mayor's statement that the widening is imperative, stating that it is not necessary but simply desirable.

"The tendency of all cities is for wider thoroughfares," said Mr. Murphy. "The wider the street the better street it is."

John Kilpatrick spoke in favor of the widening. He owns land in Stevens street, but does not live there. He asked the board if it were true that the board had decided that should there be no widening there would be no improvements in the street.

"I'm not so sure that I'll vote in favor of widening," said Mr. Murphy. Mr. Chadwick urged the board to take a vote before leaving so that the residents would have a definite answer.

The statements by Messrs. Murphy and Meloy, stating they would vote against the widening of the street, followed. There was no attitude taken on the matter of improving the street, but this may follow at the meeting of the board next Thursday afternoon.

Hearings on Petitions

The following hearings were concluded and action will follow at next Thursday's meeting:

Petition of Christos Nevous for a sidewalk in front of the premises numbered 119 Washington street. No one appeared to speak for or against the petition.

Petition of Edward T. Goward that 117 feet of edgestones be laid in front of the premises at 183 Buttram road. No one appeared.

Petition of Thomas W. Johnson, et al. that Barasford avenue be accepted as a public street and that a sidewalk be laid there. No one appeared.

Petition of Arthur J. Roux that Crawford street be accepted, between Sixth and Seventh avenues. No one appeared.

Petition of Morris Schullman for a sidewalk in front of the premises numbered 145 Bellevue street. No one appeared.

Petition of Marie Turcotte that a sidewalk be laid in front of the premises numbered 149 Bellevue street. No one appeared.

Petition of William W. Greene et al. that a portion of Holbrook avenue extending from Andover street to beyond what is known as Lot 117, be accepted as a public street. No one appeared.

Petition of Patrick F. Mahoney for approximately 200 feet of sewer at 188-298 Parkview avenue. The board expressed approval of this petition. No one being opposed, the hearing was closed.

Petition of Nellie F. Murphy for a sewer to drain the premises numbered 138 Parker street. One protest. Taken under consideration.

Petition of Charles O. Silkeney that the unaccepted portion of Warren st. be taken over by the city for use as a public way. Hearing postponed and action deferred at request of Arthur C. Spaulding, counsel for the Middlesex Co. owners of the land.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

"ONE-EYED" CONNELLY READY FOR WORK

NEW YORK, June 20.—"One-Eyed" Connelly, famous gate-crashing character of the sporting world, is ready to go to work.

After 30 years of roaming the world, outwitting promoters of sporting events out of admission fees, railroad companies of fares and cafe owners of food, he is ready to quit—the recognized champion of his art.

He had one dollar—less the price of a package of cigarettes—when I talked with him yesterday.

James—for that is his name—is 42 years old and was born in Lowell, Mass. His left eye was put out with the strings of a boxing glove, when, as a boy, he was performing as a preliminary fighter. He is single.

Connelly has made eight trips in Europe, two to Australia, 20 to the Pacific coast, eight to New Orleans and two to Cuba. His journeys haven't cost him a cent. He rode 213 inches below the floor of Pullman's on boards, placed on the curbs, and did odd jobs on steamers.

"ONE-EYED" CONNELLY

"But what has it gotten me?" he pleaded. "Pages of publicity, an international acquaintanceship, a fund of romantic experiences—but I can't sell them for a dime."

His ingenious efforts devoted along productive lines would have made him wealthy.

Though Connelly is dissatisfied with his plight, there is many a man of wealth who would pay well for his experiences, adventures and acquaintances.

Connelly says he is through as an itinerant gate-crasher.

Our guess is the newspapers will tell of his attendance at the next championship prize fight, whenever and wherever it is held.

But today his one sincere ambition is to get a job—and of his thousands of acquaintances not one will take him seriously.

postpone his third attempt to fly from coast to coast between dawn and dusk. The flight may be attempted tomorrow morning, he announced.

Clear weather obtained along the entire route to San Francisco, except at the very beginning of the flight, according to meteorological reports, and Maughan was anxious to take the extra chances caused by the heavy fog. He was dissuaded by Major Davenport Johnson, commandant of the field and Captain John Platt, Jr., meteorological officer.

They opposed the trial because of the dangerous possibilities in flying over the Alleghenies without the light of the moon and stars and the probability of Maughan losing his bearings on the first leg of the trip, which was to have ended at Dayton, Ohio.

AT THE THEATRES

RIALTO THEATRE

Rex (Snowy) Baker, said to be the world's greatest athlete and who is also making himself just as famous as a movie star, is now appearing at the Rialto Theatre in his very latest film sensation, "The Empire Builders." Local theatregoers will recall Baker's splendid work in both "His Last Race" and "The White Panther" which were shown recently on local screens.

Baker is the "Snowy" Baker, who won world applause by capturing the individual honors at the Olympic games, the youthful amateur boxer who was one of the last opponents to face Champion Fitzsimmons, the holder of six world titles, in as many different sports and known everywhere as the exponent of clean and strenuous living.

As Baker's ancestors were among the first colonists of the barbaric New Zealand, it is fitting that he plays his part in a drama of civilization's conquest over savagery. "The Empire Builders" tells a thrilling dramatic story of West Africa today.

If you can't go to Paris, the nearest you can approach it is to see "A Man's Mate" with John Gilbert, which is the companion feature. In addition to John Gilbert, the star, there is Louis Allen, who portrays the role of an Apache girl of Paris.

The seventh round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood" and a Fox News conclude the picture program.

An added attraction especially suited for the kiddies and that is equally as entertaining for the grown-ups is "Chief Tom," a full blooded Indian chief who appears in person at both afternoon and evening performances. He has arranged a special program for Saturday afternoon for the children who will be admitted for 10 cents at all performances.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Emory Johnson's latest production, "The Mail Man," is proving even more successful in its run at the Merrimack Square theatre than that director's former attractions, "The Third Alarm," "In the Name of the Law" and "Westbound Limited." Ralph Lewis' popularity in "The Mail Man" is even greater than that in previous vehicles. The veteran actor carries the house by storm at every performance in his interpretation of the most dramatic of all characters—the mail man. The picture will close his engagement Saturday night.

The companion picture is "The Grail," starring Rustin Farnum in one of his typically virile productions. A comedy and the latest International News complete the bill.

BOSTON MAN PAYS
$1500 FOR TEN STAMPS

PARIS, June 20.—At the continuation of the sale of the famous stamp collection of Count Ferrand de La Jonquiere yesterday the highest price paid was by a London dealer for a set of Arthur Hinds of Africa, N. Y. This was $4000 for a block of six eight-penny new South Wales stamps of 1850. W. H. Colson of Boston paid $1500 for a block of 10-penny stamps of new South Wales of 1850. The aggregate sales of yesterday were nearly $40,000.

LACE INSERTS

Silk stockings with lace inserts or with beaded medallions are introduced to vary the monotony of plain nude or chiton hose.

Raw lined oil, applied once or twice daily, may remove warts or corns in a few days.

NIFTY REVIEW AT MERRIMACK PARK

Jack Sheehan and his Pretty Nifty Revue, America's gayest girlie show comes to the Merrimack park for the first three days' engagement starting next Monday, June 23.

Jack Sheehan's Pretty Nifty Revue represents the very newest type of musical show combining musical comedy with vaudeville, not a so-called tab show but a big singing and dancing musical comedy revue with a talented cast of artists.

Each individual performer of the cast of Pretty Nifty Revue has been carefully selected for his or her own particular talents and the result is as fine an array of talent as was ever assembled to entertain the patrons of musical comedy.

The cast is headed by Jack Sheehan, comedian. Mr. Sheehan is a performer of years of experience in musical comedy and vaudeville and in his inimitable light comedy character in Pretty Nifty Revue proves himself the born comedian, entering into the routine of his work as though he thoroughly enjoyed the performance himself.

Miss Nita Dunfrey, the leading lady of the company, is pleasing to look at and delightful to hear. Frank Soper, straight man, handles his lines in an easy, unaffected manner and is instantly a favorite with audiences. Ann Owens, ingenue, is a vivacious little personality whose numbers with the girls are a delight to hear. Frankie Wheeler, juvenile, Bob Akerman, comedian, Jack Taylor, specialty dancer and Bob Baby and Ed. Soper, complete the big cast of principals.

In its repertoire of plays are included "Hello, 1923," "Scandals of Broadway," "Listening In," "Follies of Pleasure," "Midnight Frolics" and many of the later New York successes.

YOUNGEST

The youngest woman on the democratic committee is Mrs. Florence Farley, Wichita, Kas., referred to as the "baby committee-woman" though she is serving a second term. She is among those busily engaged preparing for the convention.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED
BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

Dodge Brothers Motor Car retains its basic design year after year.

Improvements are made constantly, but there are no radical, annual changes.

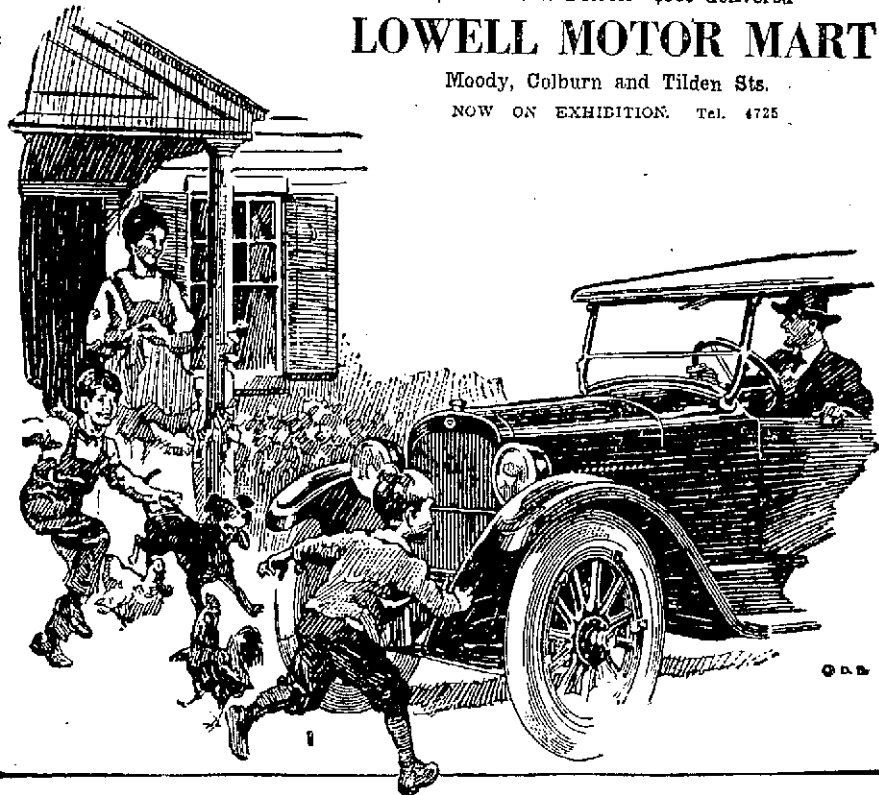

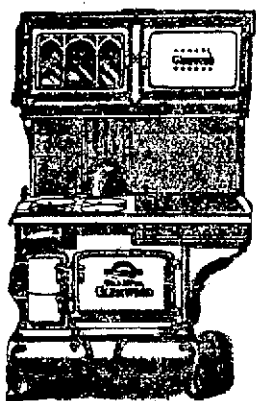

This policy protects owners from the rapid depreciation-loss which invariably attends the periodic announcement of new types.

It also enables Dodge Brothers to effect an appreciable saving in manufacture; and this saving is faithfully returned to the buyer in the form of surplus value.

considerable part of it, during the summer months. These persons, the commission says, "complete the economic chain controlling the industry, other factors in that control being the complete monopolization of the anthracite industry, and the fact that the known deposits of anthracite are somewhat limited. Because of these factors, the commission declares, those owning the mines are able to insist upon high prices for their product."

On April first of this year Massachusetts dealers had on hand 723,575 tons of anthracite, as compared with only 183,982 at the same date last year. Receipts since that time, however, have been only 355,000 tons, compared with 1,020,277 last year; deliveries the past two months have amounted to 804,578, compared with 579,168 in the same period of 1923, leaving supplies on hand, June 1 last, of 804,578, as against 879,168 tons June 1, 1923.

"If the receipts of this fuel in Massachusetts for the balance of the year are at about the same rate as in April and May," the commission says, "there will probably be little or no trouble. But representative dealers have advised the commission that during April and May a large number of small orders were received, probably due to the cool spring, and that orders from householders who usually put in their winter's supply of coal in the spring and summer months are much less this year than in other years."

"When consumers of anthracite do not take a proportionate share of their supply in the summer the receipts are restricted, and with an accumulated demand in the fall and winter, the market manipulators are enabled to boost prices."

Many householders, the commission finds, are demanding steam sizes to mix with the larger sizes of anthracite for heating purposes. These cost about $6 per ton less than anthracite, and can be profitably used for one-quarter or more of total requirements. Still others are effecting even greater savings by purchasing low volatile bituminous coal, containing more heat units than anthracite, which can be bought for from $7 to $15.00 per ton.

He Gets "Hooched" Each Week in Cause of Science

"JIMMO," THIS TACITURN APE, GETS ALL HE WANTS TO DRINK. AND IT'S "OLD STUFF" BOYS, FOR THE MONKEY IS USED IN EXPERIMENTS BY THE U. S. CIVIL HEALTH SERVICE IN TESTING THE EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL.

"Jimmo," peering from behind the bars of his cage, is frankly puzzled. Doubtless he wonders why he gets all he wants to drink, without question, when everyone else has at least some little difficulty. Furthermore, "Jimmo" gets his supply direct from the government and, hence, is assured that it is "the real old stuff."

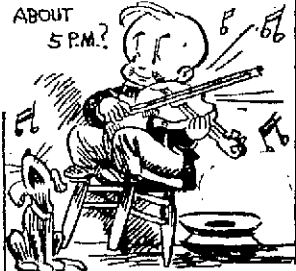

"Jimmo" goes on juke as often as three times a week—but it's purely in the cause of scientific research, for Jimmo's family drink nothing stronger than coconut milk centuries before the modernists and fundamentalists began arguing over the progress of the ape family.

The monkey is subject of an experiment—such an experiment as costs humans large sums—concerning the effect of liquor upon the body. The United States public health service specialists have been getting him

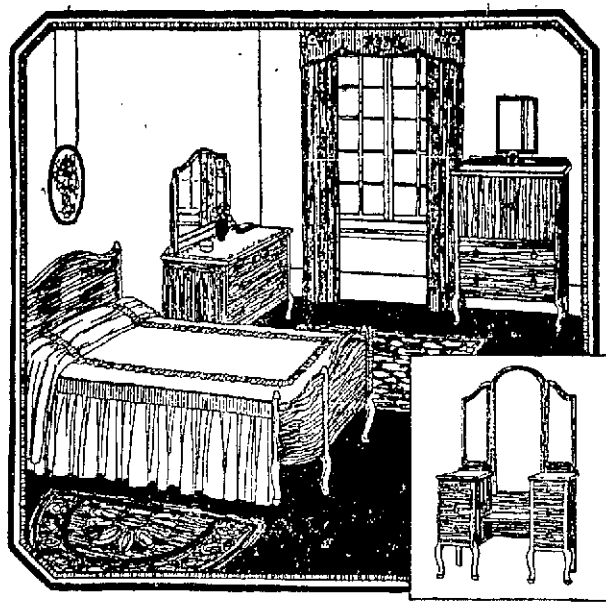

"stowed" at regular intervals and noting the effects. Just now, however, Jimmo's taste for liquor is said to have reached the point where doctors are worried. He sobers up quite quickly and it seems impossible to keep him "lit."

HOW FIRST BALLOT MAY AFFECT M'ADOO

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN, N.E.A. Service Staff Writer. Copyright, 1924 by N.E.A. Service.

NEW YORK, June 20.—McAdoo may get less than 270 votes on the first ballot of the democratic convention—even though the group of Al Smith, his closest opponent, concede some 100 votes to him, and his own managers claim that they have close to 100.

The strategists of the McAdoo drive want to hold back their full strength and increase it gradually to create that "land wagon" psychology which plays so important a part in the political convention.

At the same time, they believe that this move will check the momentum of any other drive—either of a dark horse or of Smith. For the latter is favored by the very setting of the convention hall in the very front yard of his own East Side.

With the blaze of the brass bands and the singing of "East Side, West Side," and other Tammany hits, unwary delegates may find themselves swept into the Smith spirit—particularly if the full McAdoo strength is shown on the first ballot, and losses are noted on the subsequent roll calls.

So the McAdoo directors have issued strong warning against this mob psychology—even going to the extent of hiring their own leather-lunged ensembles who will lead the demonstrations at the desired moments. And they have decided to "sort pedal" an early display of strength and increase slowly their vote—ballot by ballot, developing a crescendo that will, they hope, roll into a full note of triumph.

Whether they succeed with this psychology is problematic. No one, not even the most hopeful, can say definitely.

But the strategists seem set for any emergency. If McAdoo decides to make a fight against the two-thirds rule, his workers are ready to modify their tactics without slowing up their machine.

They claim more than 30 members of the committee on rules—composed of one delegate from each state—will have to decide this two-thirds issue. If they get a majority report and succeed in carrying it on the convention floor, they may increase the tempo of their delegates' vote—sounding their candidate's fullest note on the second or third ballot.

But the soft pedal will be kept on the vote until the psychological strategists give the word.

DAWES' FAMILY

"Hurray! We can roll eggs on the White House lawn on Easter Sunday." That is the way Dana and Virginia Dawes, adopted children of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, received the news of their "dad's" nomination for the vice presidency. The children, both pupils of Miller public school in Evanston, were adopted by the general and his wife following the death of the Dawes' only son, Rufus F. Dawes, several years ago. The Dawes also have a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Ericson.

press open hostility to the system of admitt it is not wholly satisfactory in its present form.

Senator Frank G. Farrington of Augusta, apparently has been ambushed as republican candidate for governor, the margin of 300 in a total of 55,000 votes being so slender that an examination of all these ballots, a prodigious task, might change it. Ralph O. Brewster, who is defeated on the face of unofficial returns, may undertake to win a recount.

Great mischief is possible in a primary which would not be tolerated in a party convention. Any voter can enroll as a member of any party and not change that enrollment within six months of any election. A voter not enrolled, may enroll on election day in a voting precinct. In Portland, Monday, 1900 did so. More than 10,000 votes were cast, a little more than 300 democratic. A single contest, nomination of the legislative ticket, featured the democratic ballot.

More than 500 republican ballots were cast in ward 2, which is overwhelmingly democratic in every election, nearly 22 votes in excess of the normal republican vote there. In ward 4, nearly 500 similar ballots were cast, double the real republican vote of the ward. Democrats, it is declared, enrolled as republicans to vote for Farrington because of the utterances of Brewster against appropriating state funds for sectarian schools and because of the Ku Klux Klan's espousal of his cause.

ROSE FESTIVAL OPENS AT ST. MICHAEL'S

Favored by clear warm weather, the two-day rose festival of St. Michael's parish opened auspiciously last evening with hundreds of parishioners in attendance.

The festival grounds are in the school yard, which has been gaily decorated within which are a number of booths where ice cream, tonic, candy and other articles of refreshment are for sale. Last evening the booths did a very satisfactory business and it is expected that with the closing of the festival this evening everything will have been sold out.

Last night's entertainment was given in the school and consisted of a sketch entitled, "The Graduate's Chorus." This was given under the direction of Sister Constance. An entirely different program of entertainment will be given this evening.

POSTAL SERVICE BADLY DEMORALIZED IN CANADA

TORONTO, June 20.—Postal service was reported badly demoralized in several cities and towns of eastern Canada today, as negotiations between representatives of the striking members of the Federation of Postal Employees and Dominion officials remained in a deadlock.

In several places a skeleton service is being maintained, largely through the employment of men who have taken the places of the strikers. The province of Ontario is the hardest hit in the Dominion. In most cities and towns in this province the strike had disrupted business. The railway mail clerks had night joined the strike, compelling the group. Montreal also was hard hit.

Indications early last night were that an agreement soon would be reached between the strikers and the government but at midnight members of the Federation announced they had determined to continue the strike.

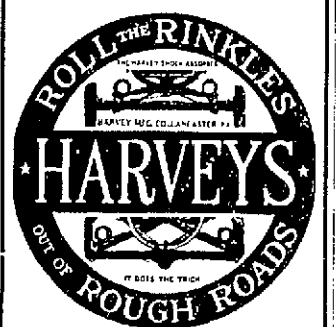

Postoffice and other government officials have reiterated their stand that none of the men on strike would be rehired, declaring that the substitutes will be kept in the service.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

TWO MONTHS' TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST

Superior Court Officer George H. Stevens of Lowell will leave shortly on a two-months' trip across the country, accompanied by his wife. Such an event could not go by unnoticed on the part of his fellow officers of Cambridge and accordingly a surprise was arranged for him yesterday noon, when in behalf of the members of the Deputy Sheriffs and Court Officers' association of Middlesex county, Chief Deputy Sheriff William R. Davis presented him a handsome bouquet of roses as well as numerous valuable articles, which will come in handy on the tour.

The presentation was made in the officers' room and in presenting the gifts Mr. Davis extended to Mr. Stevens the best wishes of the organization. "While we feel sorry that you will not be with us at the outing at Wellfleet on the 28th," he said, "still we rejoice near the fact that you and Mrs. Stevens will enjoy a cross country trip. You may take along with you to the Pacific coast the best wishes of your fellow officers and may you come back to us as healthy and jovial as you leave us."

Although taken wholly by surprise Mr. Stevens thanked his fellow officers for their thoughtfulness and briefly outlined his trip, stating he and his wife will leave Lowell on June 25 and journey to Montreal, from the Canadian metropolis they will go across Canada to Vancouver and as far as Alaska, they will return by way of the states, stopping at San Francisco, and other points of interest in California. They will visit Mr. Stevens' brother at Portland, Ore., and will also make a brief stop at Cleveland, where they will be guests of their son, Frederick Stevens, who last week received his degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They expect to return to their home in the early part of September.

There were also brief remarks yesterday by Sheriff Charles A. Rueloth, Court Officers J. Willard Jones of Somerville, Charles Robinson of Concord, and Deputy Sheriff Henry H. Walker of Medford.

CLASS SPIRIT "BABY" BORN AT HIGH SCHOOL

Members of the high school graduating class, proud of their success collectively and individually in studies, social affairs and sports, at a recent meeting decided that a new "baby" had been born to the school during the past year and the baby's name was "school spirit."

As such events are rare at the school, in their opinion, they decided to commemorate the occasion by purchasing a silver loving cup, having it engraved suitably, and placing it in the trophy cabinet, which they will present in the school at graduation.

The cup was placed in the cabinet this morning and it is entrusted, "The birth of a Class Spirit—1924," and the names of the class officers.

Stevens Street to Be Paved

the afternoon making views in localities which would be affected by proposed public improvements, most of the time being spent with the city engineer and superintendent of streets in Stevens street.

The board in session withheld approval to the award by Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly of the annual contract for asphalt oil, used for sealing, at 17 cents per gallon. It was and would be a formal contract. This the board is only paying 12 1/2 cents per gallon and it was voted to ask the purchasing agent to explain the proposed change to the board, action being deferred until the next meeting.

Vote for Roof Repairs
Supt. Gardner of the water department was authorized to make necessary expenditures for the repair of the roof of the pumping station in West Sixth street.

Complaints as to the condition of Vernon street, Andrews street, and Alken avenue were referred to the superintendent of streets, Frank A. Blaney, who is supplying recent paving blocks to the city, appeared and said he has been doing the work for some time now with a contract and would like a formal contract. This matter was taken under advisement.

Seeks More Time Off

Complaints as to the condition of sidewalks in Myette street were referred to the superintendent of streets. A letter from Joseph Davidson, a blacksmith, was received. The letter asks a variation. The writer, aged 25 of the past 32 weeks and during the other 24 loaded under the provisions and benefits of the workmen's compensation act. The matter was referred to the city solicitor for opinion and action deferred until the legal department is heard from.

$650 to Fix Crusher

It was called to the attention of the board that the crusher at the city lodge is out of commission. The Good Roads Machinery company was authorized to repair same at estimated cost of $650. A letter from the city solicitor relative to the proposed expenditure of $650 for the renewal of the Alken street bridge was referred to Messrs. Miley and Kearney as a committee and those two will confer with the solicitor at a date to be arranged later.

TRAIN RUNS INTO OPEN SWITCH; TWO INJURED

DENVER, Colo., June 20.—The third section of Union Pacific train No. 21, known as the Pacific Coast Limited, carrying Pacific coast delegates to the International Kiwanis club convention here back to their homes, ran into an open switch at LaSalle, 50 miles from here, late last night. Two dining car porters received slight injuries and were removed to a hospital here.

The engineer, Zahner Moore, did not know the train was on a sidetrack until it struck three freight cars, which were thrown from the track. The train was running slowly through the little town but the impact put the engine out of commission. Another engine was obtained after a delay of half an hour and the train then proceeded.

REAL INDIAN AT THE RIALTO

Chief Tom, who is now appearing at the Rialto Theatre today and tomorrow where he is presenting a novelty Indian act, is a very interesting character study and is internationally known.

One of the most powerful of the old Indian tribes was the Sioux, an brilliant and unquelled by nature that they readily accepted the opportunities of embracing education, and even the opportunity of the greatest institutions for the education of the Indian in the celebrated University of Carlisle. Here it was that Chief Tom was sent by his father to qualify in the modern world for supremacy. At his graduation he was selected, because of his brilliant attainments, to pursue his studies in the leading schools of Europe. At the completion of his education abroad he returned to the soil which rightfully was his, and possessing a voice unexcelled even by many of the white man's leading character singers, fought his way to the pinnacle of success. He appears in his native dress, wearing the chief's war bonnet, which is his hereditary right.

DE LONG FINED $100 IN SUPERIOR COURT

Harold M. DeLong of this city was fined $100 in superior criminal court at East Cambridge yesterday for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. In the local district court several months ago, DeLong was fined $200 and sentenced to one year in the house of correction, the automobile which struck a tree in Westford street last winter and resulted in serious injury to two Lowell men.

CASE POSTPONED

Joseph J. Fleming of 648 Broadway appeared before U. S. Commissioner R. H. Walsh in the Gorham street court-house this morning to answer a complaint charging illegal gain. The case was postponed for hearing to July 9.

HOUSING SCHEME FAILS IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, June 20.—Various Irish local bodies have carried out schemes for the housing of workers. In Tralee, however, ten houses have been erected at a cost to the ratepayers of about $15,000. Applicants were sought at a rent of $1.50 weekly, but they refused to pay more than 50 cents and threatened that they would permit nobody to pay a higher rent. The council refused to let for less, and has asked permission of the government to sell the houses at public auction.

Attends Convention At Providence

The most part to be men well along in life.

The convention opened at the Rialto hotel in the Rhode Island capital on Monday morning, the address of welcome being given by Governor William S. Flynn of Rhode Island. Mayor Joseph H. Gainer of Providence, followed, after which Albert G. Preston, president of the association, named the regular committees.

The afternoon session was devoted to three business talks. W. M. Stewart, director of the United States census, and Hon. C. C. Tashby of Memphis, former president of the association, spoke on "Financial Statistics of Cities." C. E. Higgins of the Rochester Bureau of Municipal Research, read an interesting paper on "The Problem of Financing the Increasing Costs in Municipalities." The final talk of the day, on "Progress in Municipal Accounting," was given by George M. Rex of Providence. During the evening session, George D. Begole, auditor of the city and county of Denver, addressed the convention on "Fundamental Principles of Public Business."

The next day was devoted to the main part to recreation. The various accounting officers left early in the morning aboard ship for Newport. There they took a 10-mile auto trip around Ocean Drive and enjoyed the usual shore dinner.

Memorial services were held at the grave of John M. Taylor, former city treasurer of Newport, and a visit to the United States Naval Training station followed. Here the entire personnel, several Lowell boys among them, were turned out for an hour and a half of maneuvers, for the edification of the visitors. An old-fashioned clambake, on Newport beach ended the day's session and the party returned to Providence for the convention business of the evening. During the evening there was a general discussion from the floor on "The Proposed Amendment to the Federal Constitution Authorizing Tax on Income from State and Municipal Securities," and Walter H. Barker, commissioner of municipal accounts for the state of New Jersey, spoke on "The Advantages of Uniform Municipal Accounting."

The final day of the convention, Wednesday, was devoted to reports of committees and a series of beneficial talks. Joseph T. Tracy, state auditor for Ohio, spoke on "State Limitation of Municipal Tax Levies" and was followed by City Auditor Clifford E. Cook of Springfield, who discussed the purposes and aims of the association. H. E. Akery, member of the Rochester board of education, spoke on "School Finance" and Zenas W. Bliss of the Rhode Island State Tax commission, read a paper on "Taxation." The convention ended with a dinner given by the City of Providence.

Mr. Martin met at the convention the association treasurer, Richard P. N. Dooley of New Rochelle, N. Y., deputy controller in that city. Mr. Dooley has been in that position for several decades and is an intimate friend of William J. McAlbion, former Lowell man, who served for several years in New Rochelle as deputy city clerk.

PETS AT WEDDING

The four pet terriers of Miss Grace Virginia Headrick will attend her wedding at Bunsbury, Conn., to George W. Patterson, an assistant dean at the University of Michigan. It has been announced. The terriers will occupy a special pew during the ceremony, which is to be a fashionable society affair.

SPORTS BRING LATINS AND AMERICANS CLOSER

BY CHARLES E. STEWART.
NRA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—In some respects the United States and Latin America have each its own peculiar sports, in which the other never can be expected to develop a great deal of interest except occasionally as a mere matter of curiosity.

For instance, bull fighting—which, by the way, is frowned on as cruel in the more advanced even of the Latin republics—never can be expected to attract much popularity among Americans of the north, though as Americans they do frequently attend sports in cities like Mexico, Lima and Caracas.

On the other hand, outside Cuba and some of the small Central American states, where North American influence is strong, baseball doesn't promise particularly well. Just why it is hard to say. The game simply doesn't seem to appeal to the Latin temperament.

But there are other sports on which Anglo-Saxon and Latin Americans remarkably well. South America is full of box fight fans. Every South American is crazy over racing. By the tens of thousands they were born on horseback and some of the great polo players in the world. Along the coasts they swim as naturally as they breathe. At target shooting, with the pistol and as sports in cities like Mexico, Lima and Caracas. They have to possess these accomplishments, for the dual flourishing in the south and it isn't as harmless as in some other parts of the world, quite frequently somebody is killed.

Wrestling is in a class with boxing, immensely popular. Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay are strong on soccer. They have an international league among themselves and the games are tremendous drawing cards.

The Paraguayans think they have the best long-distance runners on earth and the best to the right. Paraguay is about 50 per cent Spanish. The rest is Guarani and Matico Indian, as tough and enduring as rawhide and the marathon runs at Asuncion are events throughout the whole region of the River Plate, which is as big a territory as New York and the New England states.

Golf is not more popular in South America than among the well-to-do of cities like Buenos Aires, Montevideo and Rio de Janeiro, and all the east coast attends the annual tournaments at Mar del Plata, the famous Argentine links.

"The idea now," says Counselor Franklin Adams of the Pan American union, "is to get these South American sports enthusiasts to coming to the United States and to send entire teams of their own south, to compete with them on their own ground. There's no way of getting the countries together on a more friendly footing."

Some sports hold water longer than others because of the smaller soil particles.

Sinking Liner Arrives Safely

lously, loss of life had been averted in the crash.

Cool Heads Avert Panic
Cool-headed action on the part of the Metagama's officers averted a panic aboard the craft when the passengers rushed for the decks after the force of the collision had sent the craft reeling. Further cool-headed action, under the supervision of the officers, while the water poured in to the forward cockpit, prevented the filling of the port side ballast tanks and the consequent lifting of the injured starboard side high out of the water.

The sinking 20 degree list to port resulted in reducing the flow of water into the hold and made it possible for the pumps to keep up the unequal struggle until the liner was safely beached.

Passengers Praise Crew
Passengers highly praised captain, officers and seamen for their handling of the situation as they found their way ashore. During the long race, one seaman, a skilled paper had provided music with a set of bagpipes, the ships' string band played continuously, impromptu concerts and photographs had been pressed into service on the vessel's tilted decks to help maintain the courage of those aboard.

Although within a few hours of the collision, other ships had appeared, among them the steamer Roseland, and all had been made ready for launching lifeboats and transferring passengers. Had the occasion required, the captain did not try to attempt a transfer in the dense fog.

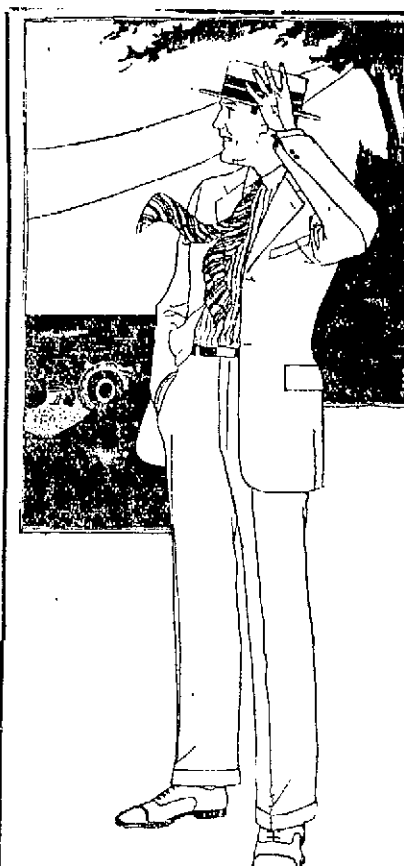

Stories which are at a variance were told by the crews of the two vessels. Members of the crew of the Metagama stated their ship had been stopped when the crash occurred, owing to the dense fog.

Beached on Mud Banks
According to the crew of the Metagama, she was running slowly through the fog about nine o'clock in the morning, sounding her whistle every minute, when another craft crashed into her, then whistled thrice and backed away.

There was a sudden rush of passengers to the decks but through the exertions of stewards and officers, order was restored, and measures taken to insure their safety as the race to port was begun. Boats were made ready and arrangements for transfer made when, hours later, other vessels reached the crippled vessel.

As the ship came to anchor in St. John's harbor, she appeared in a critical condition and passengers implored boats and tugs to take them off. But with time apparently too short for safe transfer, her captain rushed the Metagama toward a shoal, where she was beached on a mud bank.

The Montreal arrived this morning to embark the passengers and convey them to Quebec.

phones are printed in a telephone directory for use in making calls. "When you fail to find the number you want in the directory, you ask 'Information' for it. She gives it to you promptly, for that's her job. "Frequently 'Information' is asked to give numbers which appear in the directory. She is a very busy person and when you take her time to find a number which you know you can get yourself, it is hardly fair to her or other subscribers. "It seemed desirable a few years ago to discontinue telling people the location of a fire. Some time later, during the time of day and acting as a clearing house for 'no school' information was generally discontinued. Such calls checked our wires, placed an unnecessary burden on our information operators and resulted in delayed service on proper information calls. "If you now find that information operators ask you to look in your own book for numbers listed there, it is for the same reason—keeping information lines and operators free for prompt handling of calls on which the information operator's services are a necessity. It is a change making for the greatest good of the greatest number."

ANNUAL RECITAL IS MUCH ENJOYED

The pupils of William C. Heller gave a most entertaining program of piano selections in Edison hall of St. Anne's parish house last evening assisted by Alessandro Niccoli, violinist of Boston. The program, including interpretations from Nivini, Ungemiller, Fontaine, Chopin, Saint-Saens, Smith, Lucas, Godard, Irdia and Kreisler, was excellently given by the participants without the assistance of manuscript.

Among those taking part were Evelyn Morris, Joan Quinn, Rhea Cohen, Shirley Cohen, Eleanor Robins, Marjorie Robins, Mary Willey, Priscilla Fox, Ida Lorange, Sadie Loshinsky, William Pearson, Greta Melberson, Helen Jew, Lillian Appleault, Sarah Gardner, H. Wolford, Ruth, Marjorie Robins and Eleason Robins.

To Protect Convention Visitors From Crooks

DON'T FORGET

MRS. MARY HAMILTON, ATOP OF A NEW YORK SKYSCRAPER, OVERLOOKING THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION DISTRICT, WITH HER WARNING FOR DELEGATES.

By N.E.A. Service

NEW YORK, June 20.—Here are the latest tips from the democratic convention. They come not from any of the many political camps and, therefore, may be accepted with the utmost reliability.

They are inside steers for delegates, given by the convention's chief watcher—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, leading politician of New York, whose special job it is to shield the visitors from the onslaughts of the city bunco artists.

These tips are good for any visitor to New York at any time.

"Don't forget your wife—when packing and after. And if married, don't forget your wife. She is always a good stabilizer."

"Don't think you know it all, and don't believe everything. Not everything that sounds well ends well."

"Remember not to depend upon all public porters and taxicab drivers. If at any time you feel that you have not been treated fairly by either a porter or taxi driver, report it to the police."

"Be careful of hotel runners. There are many unscrupulous ones who will take advantage of you. There is not the best way to secure accommodations."

"Because New York has long been a Mecca for con men and film-fam artists, Mrs. Hamilton issues a special warning against the lost uncle, the flapper's jester, and the con man."

"Many of these plans—sounding tales," she says, "are developed from remarks overheard in public places."

"Remember conversations in hotel lobbies are public property. They can be turned against you any time."

"Don't be surprised if what you mentioned to a friend is brought up by a total stranger. Such a play for your good graces, is simply a scheme against you."

"Don't fall for beautiful and flirtatious women or suave men."

"Don't buy tickets for Central park. Don't squander money on worthless relics or antiques with questionable backgrounds."

"Don't take a chance on the fabled Minerva which ornaments the tower of Madison Square Garden. It is not going to be raffled off at the end of the democratic convention."

Under Mrs. Hamilton's charge, a women's bureau of information has been organized at police headquarters. At it all kinds of questions are being answered.

"The other morning," she says, "a prominent minister called at 1.30. 'What shall I do?' he asked. 'There's a stranded girl here in my house. I'm a bachelor. I can't turn her out in the street.'"

"Of course we took care of her."

"Another time a man called excitedly. 'My servant has erysipelas. What shall I do?'"

"There is a ward at Bellevue for such cases, and we took his servant to the ward."

Before the convention's over, there even may be hectic queries from delegates waiting a tip for whom they should cast their ballot.

"And that will be about the only thing we will not be able to give them," concludes Mrs. Hamilton.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS STILL AT POSTS

OTTAWA, Ont., June 20.—The rumored general walkout of railway mail clerks in Toronto and Quebec city has failed to materialize, and all mail trains leaving those cities were manned, according to a statement issued by the postoffice today. Charles Stewart, acting postmaster general said that all mail trains throughout the Dominion were now manned, and that there was practically no strike in this part of the system. An official communication issued from the department declared that the strike is "nearing out," according to telegraphic advices received.

increased by using a stronger and steadier stroke. Harvard never threatened her opponent. After the first mile Yale pushed out ahead and soon had four lengths of open water between her and the Harvard crew.

The official time was: Yale 10.33; Harvard 10.45 2-5.

Yale also captured the two-mile junior varsity race, nosing out Harvard by one length.

Yale grit won the race after Harvard had taken a slight lead after the start. Harvard carried the lead to nearly the half way flag, when Yale successfully challenged the crimson crew and swept into the lead which she increased to a length. Harvard tried to cut the lead down but to no purpose and Yale captured the contest by one length. Both crews finished in good shape.

The official times were: Yale 10.41; Harvard 10.45.

presiding officer of the senate, agreed to have all unauthorized persons ejected from the chamber and corridors.

"This is an honest to goodness fight against mob rule and mob violence," William C. Pelkey, chairman of the republican state central committee told an Associated Press representative. "We are not going to give in until we are assured that the republican senators will not have their lives endangered. Until the executive head of this state and the lieutenant governor are willing to carry out their duties and preserve order in the state house, the republican senators will refuse to attend sessions there."

It would seem for any statement read in part by any of the republican senators to return to the senate today. The result would almost undoubtedly be that many would be injured and perhaps some persons killed, particularly if the republican senators attempted in any way to participate in the proceedings. The senate has been deadlocked since last January on the refusal of the republican majority to vote favorably upon a measure for a popular referendum on a constitutional convention. The lieutenant governor, a democrat, refrained from recognizing republicans from the floor and the democratic minority has ill-naturedly used other obstructive tactics. There are 17 democrats in the senate, as against 22 republicans and as twenty constitutes a quorum, it was considered probable that the democratic minority would be unable to do more today than constitute the recess in which the senate now is.

COMPLETE LISBON TO MACAO FLIGHT

HONG KONG, June 20.—(By the Associated Press) The two Portuguese aviators, Luis Beiroa and Paer, virtually completed their Lisbon to Macao flight this afternoon when they passed over Macao and at 2 o'clock landed at Sanchuan, on the frontier of the British new leased territory.

The landing was a forced one, however, Lieut. Paer being bruised and the machine slightly damaged. The aviators, finding a landing at Macao impracticable because of the bad weather, had intended to continue to Canton, but the trouble, however, caused a sudden change in their plans.

RADIO IN THE CAMPAIGN

Radio will play a very important part in the coming campaign of both political parties. Already President Coolidge has availed himself of the radio outlet to let his voice be heard to millions of people throughout the country. In past campaigns several presidential candidates followed the custom of having porch parties at which they delivered addresses heard only by a comparatively small number and then printed in the newspapers. In the coming campaign, however, the speeches of the leading candidates will be broadcasted throughout the country on special wave lengths that will be made known to the possessors of radio sets and they are numbered by millions throughout the country.

The radio service from the Cleveland convention was quite satisfactory, some of the speeches and even the jeering of La Follette and his adherents, were heard quite distinctly. The keynote speech especially was very clearly carried by the wireless and most of it was heard as plainly as if the speaker were in the room where the receiver was located.

It is understood that plans have been made for even better service during the democratic convention, opening at New York on the 24th instant. The Cleveland convention, however, was a three-day affair, but it is quite likely that the convention in New York will last from four to six days. It will not be well, therefore, for the radio fans to tire themselves out listening to the preliminary speeches, although these will doubtless be well worth hearing. The balloting will furnish the main feature of the convention and this over, there will be the usual hurrahs in the interest of the victorious candidates. Through the medium of the radio, therefore, those who listen in on the convention will be able to enjoy the oratorical and intellectual phases without suffering any of the inconveniences due to crowding and to the difficulty of getting past the doorkeepers, with or without a ticket. The interference of static which is possible on all occasions, will be the chief trouble; but it is expected that the other broadcasting stations and the amateurs as well, will not try to monopolize the air during the convention.

CONVENTION TALK

Interest in the coming democratic convention in New York is becoming more intense as the date for the opening of the big post-war approaches. The most aggressive candidate, according to all reports, is Mr. William C. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury. He is making very sweeping claims as to the number of delegates, and it is announced by newspaper correspondents familiar with the situation, that he and his managers have planned a psychological scheme for restraining their forces so as to let them loose gradually, and thus indicate a growing movement in the convention toward the standard of Mr. McAdoo.

This psychological business is all very well, but it recalls that very sensible maxim penned by Robert Burns that:—
"The best laid plans of mice and men, Gang a-gley."

We surmise that Mr. McAdoo will have a forcible illustration of the truth of this maxim as the convention gets under way. His support comes chiefly from the south, which would be carried by any democrat, and a section of the west which, even if carried in addition to the south, would not be sufficient to give him the necessary number of votes in the electoral college nor in the New York convention.

It is plain, therefore, that Mr. McAdoo has not "cinched" the convention and that it will be an open fight on the convention floor for who will secure the nomination.

The candidacy of Gov. Smith still gathers momentum and it will probably be a positively deciding factor in the convention. The McAdoo forces have put out a proposition that a ticket made up of McAdoo and Smith would be a sure winner; but the New York delegates do not like McAdoo, and if they cannot nominate Gov. Smith, they will probably throw their strength to some other candidate than McAdoo. Among the candidates on which it is predicted the nomination may fall are John W. Davis of West Virginia, Senator Carter Glass, Senator Underwood, Senator Ralston and Senator Campbell.

One of the amusing rumors that persist is, that William Jennings Bryan is quietly maneuvering for second place on the ticket. Mr. Bryan may realize that this is his last chance to secure any such honor from the democratic party, and it is not improbable that the report of his candidacy for vice president is authentic. He would aspire to the higher place if he thought there was a chance of his success; but he is a back number. He led the party to defeat in 1896 and although he backed a head in many reforms since that time, he does not appeal to the country at the present time as the man most likely to win a sweeping victory. As secretary of state under President Wilson, he resigned his office just as soon as it became apparent that war with Germany was inevitable. No, we do not believe that Bryan will be seriously considered by the democratic convention.

BUTLER VS. SLEEP

Nobody is obliged to believe that there is any trouble between Sleep and Butler in reference to the management of the presidential campaign. Those who believe that the talk of a clash is all camouflage, may not be far astray. The alleged incident made the pretext for the declaration from the White House that the campaign will be in charge of the chairman of the republican national committee, who previously had been appointed by the party.

Mr. Sleep will be close to the president as private secretary, which should satisfy his ambitions, although in certain cases, he may act as "the man behind," whereas he evidently prefers to pose in the limelight.

REPLY TO JAPAN

In his reply to Japan relative to the exclusion clause of the new immigration law, Secretary Hughes is courteous and diplomatic, but firm in asserting that congress was entirely within its rights in passing such a law, and that nothing is left to executive discretion in the matter. That is the stand that becomes the United States.

A Thought

Individuals may perish, but truth is eternal.—Joseph G. Caldwell.

Swearing On That One

Two small boys once halted before a brass plate, fixed on the front of a house, whereon was inscribed in bold characters the word "Chimpodist." "Chimpodist?" remarked one of them perplexedly. "What's that?" the other replied his companion, "a chimpodist is a chap who swears on that one."

Plea

In the parlor, O my darling,
Then the lights dim and low,
That your face is so lovely,
How am I, sweetheart, to know?
Every week I have to carry
Every card that I possess
To the cleaners—Went you, darling,
Love me more, and powder less?

Sufficient Nerve

A business man directed one of his clerks to hang up a sign, "Buy Wanted." Five minutes later a red-headed youngster appeared in the office with the sign under his arm. "Mister," he demanded, "did you hang this out?" "Oh, yes," was the stern reply. "Why did you hang it there?" "Why, he replied, "I'm the boy."

Modesty a Virtue

It was the rule at the vicarage that every one should repeat a chosen text of Scripture before breakfast every Sunday morning. It came to the turn of a very timid little housemaid to repeat the chosen text, which was, "I am fearful and wonderfully made."

Vain Ignorance

Leonard Bacon, who was one of the best-known theologians in New England a half century ago, was attending a conference in one of the New England cities, and some assertions he made in his address were vehemently objected to by a member of the opposition. "Why," he exclaimed, "I never heard of such a thing in all my life!" "Mr. Moderator," rejoined Bacon, calmly, "I cannot allow my opponent's ignorance, however vast, to offset my knowledge, however small."

Will He Well Shot

A temperance lecturer once addressed an unconvinced audience in Kentucky, and when he made the announcement that the effect of alcohol is to shorten life, he was attacked by an old man who sat at the back of the hall and shouted, "You're a liar!" "Why," inquired the advocate of Abolition, "do you say I'm drinking?" "No," replied the old man, "I'm not and am likely to live to be 100. I am strong enough to kick you, if you'll stop outside." "No, don't, sir," the lecturer replied, "I am a doctor and a doctor's duty is to keep an old man like you from drinking." "What?" asked the old man, "if you keep on drinking, you'll have to be shot on the judgment day."

To Mr. T. H. H.

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my untroubled soul,
For the touch of a vine, a leaf, a bud,
Under the blood-red coverings of chance,
My head is bloody but unbowed,
Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the Shade,
And yet the minutes of this life
Find me still unshaken by the gate,
Flow charged with punishment the sword,
And yet the minutes of this life
Find me still unshaken by the gate,<
Flow charged with punishment the sword.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Some drivers of big trucks occasionally have their vehicles on the street in such a way as to block the passage of the slower cars. This is unpardonable, and frequently a carload of passengers is held up for some time to the inconvenience of the carloaders. In search of the driver of the truck, the passengers are often annoyed.

How is it now to work a car into a small space and to get near a wall or a curb when it is necessary to make a turn in two or three cars not more than 20 to 30 feet apart. As a general rule one will attempt to get into such a space head first, whereas it will be practically impossible to work into a place by this method, particularly if the space is limited. No amount of wheeling and turning the wheels will avail unless there is ample room, and then it will take a good deal of maneuvering.

The proper method of parking in such a space is to swing to the left and then back into the position leading directly into the space. This is a very tricky maneuver and the driver must be very careful. The proper method of parking in such a space is to swing to the left and then back into the position leading directly into the space. This is a very tricky maneuver and the driver must be very careful.

The final step is to straighten the car in its position, as close to the curb as possible, yet allowing room for swerving out. The wheels should not be turned more than six inches from the curb, or it will be difficult to extract the car from a close space. The parking process is exactly the opposite.

In the popular issue of the L.N.S. (Boston) placed on the table last Thursday, the role of the school teaching forms were of such a light weight class, written by the salutatorian, that they were as cool as could be had.

Outing of Welfare Workers

the state," said Mr. Cheney. "It is very fortunate that we have been able through the kindness of the state commission of welfare work, to be able to visit this fine institution today. These outings give us an opportunity to meet a large number of people and to interest ourselves in social service work. They afford us a clearer understanding of what the state is doing for us. During the year we have had numerous talks by members of the departments of social welfare work, but outings at the institutions will make it possible for us to see for ourselves the work of the state in its numerous departments. The average person has little idea of the fine institutions in the state. This one is one of the finest. Juvenile establishments for female delinquents in this section of the country. If workers will study the institutions thoroughly they will be better equipped to go out and work among their people."

"It is our aim to visit the Shirley school for boys and the Lyman school in Westboro at some future date and in this way interest our workers and provide for them a better equipped field of knowledge in which to work."

Miss Marion Wilson, a visiting staff of the state parole department, was the next speaker. She gave a clear explanation of the difference between probation and parole. Speaking of the work of the members of the council Miss Wilson referred to Miss Emily Skilton of Lowell as the dean of social service workers, stating that she had accomplished much in the social service field.

Miss Catherine Campbell, superintendent of the Lancaster school then gave an interesting talk on the school and its functioning. She spoke in part as follows:

"The children are received here from the ages of 7 to 15 years inclusive. When they come they are sent to a pre-school cottage where they are taught personal cleanliness, and cared for physically, spiritually and mentally. They remain with us from 18 months to two years, depending largely upon their behavior. We have two trained nurses in attendance regularly, a house physician and a dental and throat specialist. We also have a hospital building. When the child is sent here she is immediately sent to the central school, she is taught by a special teacher in the grade in which she is capable of learning. In which she is capable of learning. For the last two years we have been teaching typewriting to a first year commercial class. This year stenography was taught. We have a music course, a physical training department, and a domestic science class. Elementary sewing and dressmaking are also taught. After eight months of attendance the girls are taught the kitchen course which comprises from six to ten months' study."

"At the conclusion of their term, Miss Campbell, superintendent of the parole department, finds a position for the girls and they are under her guidance until the age of 21 years."

"We have 10 cottages and one for those who fall in parole, and at present have 28 girls, although our population is a floating one."

"Religion here is one of the most important studies on our program, and is regarded as most important in the training of the young ladies. We have no religious training for the religious training in this institution."

Following the business session, the graduation exercises were held. The young women of the commercial class marched in and formed an arch of flowers through which the graduates marched and filed to their seats. Miss Thorndike Trull, of which I quote a stanza.

"The future is beckoning the wide world calls us,
And no one can tell what for each is in store,
But let us determine whatever befalls us,
Our dear Lowell High School we'll love evermore."

Miss Trull is the daughter of Edward W. Trull, clerk of the local district court and treasurer of the High School Alumni association. Truly there is no harder worker for the high school than Mr. Trull and if his daughter follows in his footsteps, the last line of the stanza quoted above will be an actuality.

One of the local traffic officers, good-looking under the hot sun which beat down upon him all day long recently, put up a strong case for a lightweight khaki uniform for the summer months. These things, he said, pointing to the heavy "summer" blues worn by the officers, are as furnaces—they warm up quickly and hold the heat all day long.

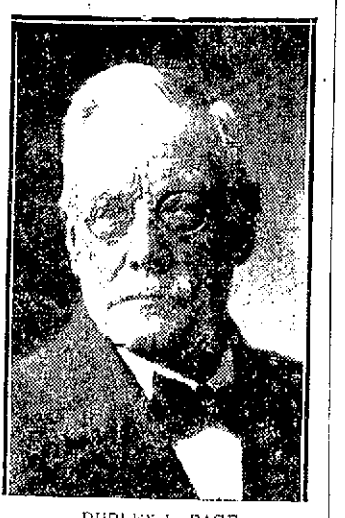

His appeal seemed reasonable enough and I usually question several other traffic officers concerning their uniforms. All questioned said their uniforms were too warm and several favored the first officer's suggestion as to a light khaki uniform. The officers certainly have a "hot" job for they must stand during the heat of the day in the middle of smooth-paved streets. I have often pitied them but, up recently, they have been the line and the school teaching forms were of such a light weight class, written by the salutatorian, that they were as cool as could be had.

alcal selections were then given, followed by a debate on the following question: Resolved, That life in the modern home makes for better citizenship than life in the home of the olden days. The graduates supported the affirmative side, while the commercial held the negative. William Thornton, South J. Adams and Dr. Drummond of Lawrence were chosen as judges of the debate and awarded the honors to the commercial class.

A cantata, "Fays of the Floating Islands," by Paul Bliss, was then given. The girl participants danced merrily to the song of the beauties of the island. At the conclusion of the program a visit was made to the various cottages on the grounds and the functioning of each department was seen. On the grounds was an exhibition of the work done by the pupils.

The committee in charge of the outing was as follows: General director, Edward P. Cheney, president Lowell council; Miss Marion Wilson, C. E. Gilmore, Edward Boyle, Maurice Lam-bert, Joseph Fravotto, publicity, Mrs. Sarah Hunt.

Those attending the outing were: Mr. and Mrs. John T. McNamee, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Handley, Mrs. May L. Pinder, Miss Marion C. Will-

And Phoebus 'gins arise,

FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

The trials of poor mother run rampant all day and the kids, it seems are to blame. With mud-covered sandals they'll come in from play and the answer is always the same.

Some imprints from shoes travel all through the place from the kitchen way up to the front. It's always the youngsters whom mother can trace as the ones who are pulling this stunt.

They'll scuff through the parlor and mess up the floor and they'll scrape off their feet on a chair. Mom clears up the house; then she cleans it some more, but the footprints will always be there.

At the end of the day, with the kids still at play, they are called to the supper-time meal. They come with a romp, leaving mud as they stomp, and you know how their mother must feel.

Then Daddy comes home and his wife makes it clear that her rule over the kids is waning. He listens quite patiently; lends her an ear, but he can't see just why she's complaining.

"Why, listen here, Mother," Dad finally will say, "I member when I was a kid. And it seems that the stunts of the youngsters today are the very same things that I did."

WANTS ALL TO KNOW MERITS OF TANLAC

Matthew Gramm Says
Medicine Has Overcome
Stomach Trouble and Nervousness

"If anybody wants to know what Tanlac will do, just let them write me." Is the hearty suggestion of Matthew J. Gramm, 172 Union St., Leominster, Mass.

"I will gladly tell anybody about Tanlac for it has made me feel like my old self once more. Stomach trouble and nervousness had been pulling me down for two years and I was just about worn-out. My appetite was mighty weak, what little I did eat made me miserable, and many a night I would be awake until day-break.

"But I now eat good and hearty, sleep like a top and haven't a complaint. In fact, Tanlac has given me new life and energy and from now on I am going to keep a bottle handy. My wife also used Tanlac with fine results."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute.

LOWDEN SPEAKER AT ROTARY CONVENTION

TORONTO, June 20 (By the Associated Press).—The several spasmodic movements toward general prosperity in the post-war years have started when agricultural products had sufficiently advanced in price relatively, but the movement was halted because prices of other products began to advance again, thus destroying the improved position of the farmer, Frank O. Lowden of Illinois declared in an address before Rotary International here today.

There can be no permanent general prosperity until the disproportion between the prices of farm products and services and other commodities and services are wiped out, he asserted, and how to "rid ourselves of this disparity is not the farmer's problem alone but the problem of all."

"The disparity between prices of the things the farmer has to sell and the prices of those things he must buy is the main cause of placing agriculture in the hardest times it has had in the present lifetime of the generation," Mr. Lowden declared. "I am speaking ever they are employed you will find more particularly of the United States, agriculture in its best estate, but I imagine they are not far different in Canada or in other countries seem to think that in some way these where agriculture is still thought to be the basic industry.

"When the depression of 1920 set in there was a large accumulation of goods of all kinds on hand but industry, being highly organized, was able to resist more successfully than the farmer the pressure for lower prices. If the farmers are to put themselves upon terms of equality with the great industries they too must organize. Agriculture now finds itself freely competing among themselves while it is obliged to sell its products in a highly organized industrial and commercial world.

"It is not desirable that farmers should imitate the great industries, adopt the corporate form of organization and operate their farms through corporate management. It would weaken our whole social structure if our millions of farmers would surrender their individualism in this way. Nor is it necessary. While much improved efficiency in production is still possible, the farmer has made constant progress in this respect. His most pressing problem is concerned with the marketing of his products at a price which will enable him to live and go on producing.

"On every hand we learn of farm abandonment. If we should avoid this ruin, the farmer must organize. Co-operative farm marketing associations no longer are an experiment. Where more particularly of the United States, agriculture in its best estate, but I imagine they are not far different in Canada or in other countries seem to think that in some way these associations are seeking to avoid the operation of the law of supply and demand. Quite the reverse is true. The purpose is not to defy the law but only to make the law serve the farmer fairly.

LOTS OF SWANK—EH WOT?

Some style setter is the prince, who here is shown in the proper sartorial get-up for the races. It may look like the musical comedy pattern, but it's "correct." With the Duke of York, the Prince of Wales is seen going to the Derby, England's race classic.

"Coordination is possible only through co-operation. Co-operation is one of the watchwords of Rotary. You were among the first to recognize the interdependence of all business and industry. If you were to become the instrument of effecting a complete coordination between the farm and business generally, it would be a mighty accomplishment for good. The farmer's difficulties can only be overcome promptly if the merchants, manufacturers, bankers, and civic groups wholeheartedly co-operate with the farmers."

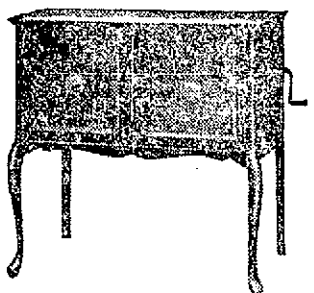

Several houses in Lisbon, England, collapsed during violent rain storms recently.

PLENTY OF DASH

An enormous bow and long ends of black satin ribbon add a certain dash to what would regularly be only a very simple frock of black chiffon, embroidered in white. It is worn over a sheath slip of black satin and there is no extra fullness or trimming to mar the silhouette Paris approved so thoroughly. Almost any straight line frock can be given a festive touch by the clever use of a sash or a bow, and the ribbons of this season are so beautiful in themselves that they can make any costume.

"I Have Nothing to Wear" Won't Do As An Excuse With This Invention

SOME OF THE "ONE-HOUR" DRESSES CREATED BY MISS GERTRUDE BARNETT OF SAN FRANCISCO

By N.E.A. Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Women's immemorial excuse of "I have nothing to wear" is out of date with the advent of one-hour dresses.
They are the handwork of Miss Gertrude Barnett of this city and can be created in one hour from yard fittings in that time.
Miss Lena Tognoli, at the left of the picture, wears an evening dress of satin trimmed with ermine feathers. Miss Mildred Mooney, center, wears a street dress made from three yards of Scotch silk and three yards of two-tone ribbon.
The other gown worn by Miss Lucy Varney, is an afternoon dress, all over silk with a full of ornamental down the front.
Each of the creations was completed by Miss Barnett in an hour, and are so simple, according to their inventor, that any woman, at all handy with a needle, can finish them in as short a time.
A popular feminine ailment is blamed for this new feat of dressmaking.
"I have nothing to wear" won't do. The wonder will be, that you can make something in an hour."

FOR BENEFIT OF XAVIERIAN JUNIORATE.

A successful whist party and dance was held in A.O.H. hall for the benefit of the Xavierian Juniorate in Peabody last night. The prize winners were as follows: Mrs. Mary Bourgeois, first; Miss Margaret Crooks, second. The consolation prize went to Miss Anne Mikell. The winners in the men's division were Frank Sullivan and Howard Williamson, while the consolation prize went to Frank Riley. The holder of the lucky number on the admission ticket was Mrs. McNamara.
Entertainment numbers were supplied by Miss Mary McInerney and Master Edward McInerney.
The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Mary X. Ryan and members of the Ladies auxiliary, A.O.H. Miss Riley will be chairman of the Lowell table at the lawn party and field day to be held at the juniorate on June 28.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not, as some believe, to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.
Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Disrupted Mucosin and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Disrupted Mucosin (in powder or tablet form) never irritates the stomach, is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of mucosin for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

BANQUET FOR REVIEW STAFF OF 1925

Members of the retiring Review staff of the high school rendered a dinner to the staff recently chosen for next year, at Marie's restaurant last evening. The guests of honor were: Headmaster and Mrs. Henry H. Harris; Miss Mary Tobin, student editor; Miss Sawyer and Miss Stevens, literary editors, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Donohue.

Mr. Donohue acted as toastmaster following the dinner and introduced Mr. Harris and Miss Tobin as speakers. A splendid entertainment program followed. Miss Sally Mason giving several piano solos and Misses Helen Leonard and Gertrude Popoline singing a group of songs.
The retiring Review staff follows: Editor-in-chief, Frank Barrett; business managers, Louis Wolf and Merrill Calkins; literary editors, Thomas Sullivan and Alice Sheehan; exchange editors, Esther Shatt and Sarah Mason; sports editor, Helen Leonard; sporting editor, George Sheehan; reporter, Edith Griffin.

The staff for the term of 1925-26 is made up of the following: Editor-in-chief, George Strickley; business managers, John Warden and George Lewis; literary editors, Francis Stearns and Irene Hallway; exchange editors, Rita Flynn and Margaret Ryan; sports editor, Gertrude Leonard; sporting editor, Frank Moran; reporter, Elizabeth Flannigan.

LAWN PARTY AT DRACUT CHURCH

Dracut citizens, young and old, in large numbers looked early to the Dracut church grounds last evening, to attend the much advertised June lawn party conducted by members of the Dracut Church Ladies' Aid society. It was a huge success from every angle. Really decorated booths filled with attractive articles of food and household utility articles drew the gaze of the guests, filling the corners of the society property to overflowing.
A feature of the lawn party was the presence of Lowell high school orchestra. A varied program of old and new popular musical numbers was given during the evening, delighting all who heard the exceptionally fine music.

20 PUPILS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

BAR MILLS, Me., June 20.—Twenty-seven boys and girls, pupils of the Locke school, Saco, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when the big passenger bus in which they were riding began to hack down the steep hill near the West Buxton power station when part of the mechanism gave way. The hill is one of the worst in the country.

The driver, Harry Hutcherson of Saco, when he saw the brakes would not hold, guided the big car to the side of the highway, where it tipped over. While the children escaped serious injury, all were shaken up and one girl, Ruth Bourasso, was slightly cut and her shoulder bruised. But for the quick wit of the driver the car might have backed down the hill into the Saco river. The children were on the way to Boudry Eagle pond for their annual outing when the accident occurred. After it was found that none of them was injured, they continued on for the outing.

CIRCUS TIGER CHEWS MAN'S HAND

LYNN, June 20.—While playing with the tigers at the Sells-Floto circus at Hills field yesterday, a spectator put his hand too near the cage of a Siberian tiger. The animal chewed the hand.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED IN TRAIN COLLISION

ST. ALBANS, Vt., June 20.—In a head-on collision between a freight and passenger train on the Central Vermont railway at 3.13 o'clock this morning at Sharon, 104 miles south of here, Fireman William Forbes received injuries which proved fatal while Engineer P. W. Chapman and Baggageman Charles McKinney were injured. The dead and injured resided in St. Albans and were members of the crew of the passenger train. None of the passengers were injured and none of the passenger cars left the rails, although the baggage car was somewhat damaged. The railroad is not making any official statement previous to an investigation but the indications are that the south bound freight extra, which was on a siding, was allowed to drift for three car lengths out onto the main line in front of the passenger train. Three freight cars were derailed and both engines were damaged. After a delay of about four hours, the passenger train proceeded on its way to Canadian points.

MAIL COVERS FLOOR OF WINDSOR POSTOFFICE

DETROIT, June 20.—With mail covering the floor of the Windsor, Ont., postoffice, six bags deep, a handful of non-union employees sought vainly to avert it, business and industrial leaders of Canadian border cities sent telegrams to postal authorities protesting against the strike of postal employees that began Wednesday. Had Detroit sent its usual amount of mail, the Windsor postoffice would have been literally swamped. Not one of five daily shipments was sent from Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo and other cities thus were cut off from mail communication with Ontario points.

FOUR KILLED BY CHINESE BOMB

Attempt to Assassinate Gov. Gen. Merlin of French-Indo-China at Banquet Unknown Chinese Hurling Bag Containing Explosive—Room Strawn With Bodies

HONG KONG, June 20. (By the Associated Press.)—The death list resulting from the attempt of an unknown Chinese to assassinate Gov. Gen. Merlin of French Indo-China at a banquet in Canton, last night, now stands at four. H. C. Gerin, a silk merchant, died today of injuries.

It has developed that the governor-general probably owes his life to the fact that the would-be assassin mistook Gerin for him. Just as the soup was being served, the Chinese, who was armed, appeared and flung a black bag containing the explosive at the cur of the table where Gerin was seated. In a moment the dining room was strewn with bodies and wounded persons on the floor, or in the case of one of the dead, still seated at the table. Dr. Casabianca, acting French consul, had his left arm torn off. Two or three Chinese waiters were struck in the head by flying fragments. Alarmed by the explosion and the cries of the survivors, American sailors from the gunboat Pampanua, British sailors and residents hurried to the scene, the first contingents arriving at 11 o'clock. The Chinese tried to escape toward the river. He fired several shots at his pursuers before plunging into the stream, where all trace was lost.

Report Not Confirmed
NEW YORK, June 20.—Officials of the General Silk Co. said they had received no word concerning the reported death of their Canton manager, P. Demaretz and his wife as a result of yesterday's bomb attack on the governor-general of French Indo-China, at Canton.

Demaretz had represented them as their Canton manager for several years after having spent a short time in the New York offices. Mr. and Mrs. Demaretz came here from Switzerland.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM TRUCK

Douglas Davis, of 4 Mapleview avenue, fell from a truck in Kenwood on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard, late yesterday afternoon and sustained serious injuries. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the Corporation hospital, where he regained consciousness shortly before noon today.

No report of the accident was made at local police headquarters until 10 today when John J. McDermott, of 10 Pleasant street reported that it was from his truck the boy fell. According to his report, the boy had asked him for a ride and rode on the running board of the truck. When in Kenwood, the boy either was frightened and jumped or lost his hold and fell to the ground.

URGES FRANCE TO SETTLE DEBT WITH AMERICA

PARIS, June 20.—General Taubrich, senator from Alsace, believes France should hasten settlement of her debt to America. Writing in L'Information today, he declares: "Instead of persisting in our equivocal attitude of debtors hardly in a hurry to settle their scores, we should without delay engage in our payment. Our willingness to pay should manifest itself in tangible fashion by starting an account in our budget, for example, entitled 'Reimbursement of our war debt to the United States,' which we would credit with certain sums, however small they might be."

ELECTIONS OF SHOE WORKERS' UNION

HAVERHILL, June 20.—The first general elections of the Shoe Workers' Protective union, now a national organization of over 25,000 shoe workers, will be held in September. At that time, a general president, a general secretary and general counsel will be elected. Nominations for these offices will be held beginning next week. Candidates must receive the nomination of at least one local to qualify for the elections.

ULTIMATUM TO POSTAL WORKERS

OTTAWA, June 20.—Government officials announced this afternoon the Dominion would give striking employees until 5 o'clock tomorrow morning to return unconditionally, provided jobs are available. After that time, no striking carriers will be re-employed in the service, the statement said.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 20.—The financial district understands that the International and Great Northern railroad will be taken over tomorrow by the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico at a price of about $20 a share. In the event that the interstate commerce commission withholds final approval of the merger, it was reported the bankers who would buy the International were Blair & Co. and W. A. Harriman & Co., who control a majority interest in the New Orleans road.

NEW COURT HOUSE PLANS

Architect's Drawings to Be Ready for Discussion Early Next Week

Lowell's proposed new $200,000 district courthouse is fast assuming shape in the official architect's plans. Within a few days, the great array of individual scale blue-prints will have received the "finishing touches," the architect will arrange them in proper order for inspection and study, and then will come the informal presentation of the charts to the Middlesex county commissioners for final decision that will precede the official advertising for competitive bids for construction.

Commissioner Barlow told The Sun today that Architect Charles R. Greco, of Winchester, has been working diligently upon the blue-prints without a let-up, ever since the job went to the Winchester expert. From time to time, Mr. Greco has had to consult with the county commissioner, not for advice as to the physical structure outside or within, but as to certain unusual features affecting the arrangement of quarters for court and legal proceedings.

The architect's work is practically completed, with the exception of plan embellishments emphasizing construction parts here and there. Mr. Barlow expects the plans may be ready at the end of the present week. If so, then early next week—either Monday or Tuesday, possibly—there will be held at the Barlow or regular county commissioners' offices, which ever may be preferred and selected, an informal meeting of persons directly interested in the physical aspects of the proposed new district court building.

Police Court Justice Enright and Clerk of the District Court Edward Trull, will be among those invited to look over the finished blue-prints at this informal conference with Commissioner Barlow. The latter is prepared to explain every feature of the new district courthouse plan that will possibly cost the county close to $200,000 before it would be ready for dedication and occupancy. The Sun is informed. Those examining the plans will be allowed to make any criticisms they desire, and honest approval where approval is called for, will, of course, be welcomed by the county commissioners who are taking a deeply solicitous interest in Lowell's new district courthouse proposition beyond a doubt.

Mr. Barlow said today that the plans or Architect Greco show something to the people of the city and county, that he believes will be a revelation if the building proposed is constructed according to original plan. In many respects Lowell's new courthouse will follow the general scheme of the brand-new building constructed for similar purposes in Malden. While the grounds in Malden are more spacious, Lowell will have practically the same building form so far as frame construction is concerned. Malden citizens are very proud and happy over their new courthouse plan. Mr. Barlow thought it possible that bids for the erection of Lowell's new district court building would be advertised early next month.

EDW. J. COONEY, Lowell Gas Light Co.
J. PAUL DOHERTY, A. G. Pollard Co.

HOW TO WIN:

Purchase Chex to take the place of ordinary toilet and bath soaps. (Drug and Department Stores sell Chex). Use it a few days, then you will know what a super necessity it is—you will know how much more delightful it is to use than ordinary soap. Then solve the Rebus Puzzle and write a sentence telling why you like Chex. You can compete in the Slogan Contest, omitting the answer to Rebus Puzzle, if desired. Mail separately if you enter both contests. Each box of Chex contains a pamphlet describing the uses and qualities of Chex. You may get some good idea by reading it. Remember! A good catchy idea may afford the best slogan and you have 20 prizes to compete for. The local judges will pass on all answers and award prizes, which will be paid by The Pioneer Products Co.

Platform Fight Over Klan, League and Prohibition Expected at Convention

For Permanent Chairman

SENATOR THOS. J. WALSH OF MONTANA

"Main Street Hand-Shake" in Vogue With Smith's Campaigners

HERESA QUINN MINETTI

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
N.Y.A. Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, June 20.—Here's Theresa Quinn Minetti, beaming at you with her best Al-Smith-for-president smile. It's the official greeting to all arrivals in the democratic convention.

She has digested dozens of times tables and boat schedules, and has worked out a plan whereby she or one of her 54 assistants will be on hand to meet and glad-hand every delegate and his wife as they step from the heat or rain.

"Back in Main street, you always meet the trains," she explains. "It gives one a comfortable feeling to be greeted after a long, tiresome journey and escorted to a hotel."

"Too many people have the idea that New York is cold and heartless and that all neighborliness and hospitality have been crushed out of it. If we don't do anything else at this convention we're going to show the rest of the country New York's are not half as hard-boiled as they are alleged to be."

"We are going to dispense Main street hospitality on a fifth avenue scale. Garden parties, breakfasts, receptions and less will be presided over by women who have been hostesses at the White House, cabinet functions and the leading centers of Europe."

"Visitors who have been coming to New York year after year and who have found their pleasures limited to the theatres, cabarets and supper clubs will have the opportunity this time to get into New York's most beautiful homes and in her exclusive clubs, and meet the sort of people they know back home."

When she isn't absorbed in being chairman of the delegation committee, Mrs. Minetti holds a responsible position as manager of the women's department of a New York bank.

Here are a few rules to follow when reaching New York. They will save you argument and money.

If possible, take a taxi with a green meter. They are the cheapest and the best in the city. If you can't get one with a green meter, take one with a blue meter. They are next cheapest. Avoid cabs with red or white meters. They charge a "double tariff" for more than two passengers, and are higher in price for one passenger.

These hotels are either across the street from the station mentioned or less than two minutes walk away.

Subways may be had at either station.

If you fail to get accommodations at your favorite hotel, get in touch with the Hotel Association of New York, 224 Fifth avenue, telephone 6909. This organization will maintain a room bureau, and will do its best to help you.

REVERLY, June 20.—The police early today captured a motor truck loaded with alcohol which had come from the water front and chased another to North Andover, where they punctured one of its tires with a pistol shot and brought it to a halt. Four men were arrested here but the two aboard the truck in North Andover escaped.

SANDALS

Greathouse, Indiana, secretary (right, above), are shown taking a breathing spell for they will be kept on the run distributing convention badges. ANOTHER SETBACK FOR MORSE BROTHERS

NEW YORK, June 20.—The fight of Harry E. and Benjamin Morse, sons of Charles W. Morse to be freed of charges here by the federal government of using the mails to defraud, has received another setback.

Federal Judge Winslow yesterday dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings brought in their behalf. In their petition they contended that their arrest while on a train bound for Washington to be tried on charges of defrauding the federal government was illegal because they were on their way to appear before another court.

ban, and James M. Cox of Ohio, have opened headquarters.

Cummings busy on platform

Work already has been started by Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut on the party platform.

It is generally conceded that the main test of strength between the McAdoo and Smith forces will be on the question of the Ku Klux Klan, League of Nations and prohibition.

George E. Brennan, Illinois leader and known as a Smith supporter, has been bitter in his attitude against the hooded organization and insists that the democratic platform must definitely denounce the Klan. Managers of the McAdoo campaign have reiterated the stand taken by their candidate in his southern speech on Americanism and religious tolerance.

Sen. Pittman Frames Planks

To Senator Pittman of Nevada, has been designated the duty of framing the fundamental planks in the platform. Senator Pittman, who confers on the tentative draft of a platform, with congressmen in Washington, conferred with Mr. Cummings.

The women blossomed forth today and became active in both the Smith and McAdoo camps while pamphlets setting forth the feminist side of both candidates began to appear in the hotel lobbies and on the streets.

Among the latest arrivals are Thomas Taggart of Indiana, whose support is pledged to Senator Taft.

William Jennings Bryan, who has promised to do "plenty of talking", the party leaders once he gets into form, is due today.

Davis Willing to Run

Mr. Davis presented his attitude on the presidency in a letter made public yesterday after a luncheon of a number of his friends who have been active here recently in organizing the John W. Davis for President club.

The letter, dated April 7 and written in New York, was addressed to Robert L. Burch, secretary of the club, who had written the former ambassador for a definition of his attitude.

The text of Mr. Davis' letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Burch:

"I read your very kind letter of March 25 and regret my delay in replying to it. Please believe that I sincerely appreciate your offer of support. If I were in any sense a candidate I should be delighted to send to the club of which you speak 'a few words of greeting.' I have taken, however, in good faith, the position that I am not a candidate for the nomination and that any decision to the contrary must come from the party and not from myself.

"My only desire is that the party shall choose the man best calculated to lead it to a successful conclusion with you in thinking that the national situation imperatively demands the return of the democratic party to power.

"Elections turn, or should turn, upon the question of confidence, or want of confidence in those who have been entrusted with the administration of the government.

"With the record of the last three years before them, it is inconceivable that the people should voice their approval of those now in power.

"Believe me with kindest regards,

"Sincerely yours,

"JOHN W. DAVIS"

Draft Tentative Platform

NEW YORK, June 20 (By the Associated Press)—Scandal in the administration affairs as disclosed by senate investigations occupies the dominant place in a tentative democratic platform in process of drafting by a group of party leaders for submission to the platform committee.

Foreign relations, with particular reference to the world court; agricultural aid, and economy in government expenditure coupled with tax reduction, are subjects to be dealt with in other principal planks.

Prohibition, the Ku Klux Klan issue and foreign affairs probably will form the main fighting points before the resolutions committee. The present tentative draft of the platform omits specific mention of prohibition, but contains a plank with a strong declaration for enforcement. There is no mention of the Ku Klux Klan.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, and representatives of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, already are on the ground and promise to make a strong fight for specific declarations by the party. Leaders do not hesitate to say, however, that there is little probability for success for either organization.

CONVENTION NOTES

NEW YORK, June 20.—Howard Everett, democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, said that in his state there is a very robust Smith sentiment and that of the 24 delegates, 19 showed leanings toward Smith.

Mr. Everett said the big issue in Minnesota is "agricultural relief," the farmer seeking a candidate who will help him out of his troubles—and in this connection, he called attention to the number of banks which had gone to the wall in the agricultural sections of the west.

C. C. Carlin, manager of Senator Underwood's campaign, has announced that he and his backers would join with George E. Brennan, leader of the old guard, in forcing the Klan fight to the front. There will be no "pussy-footing" on the question, Carlin said, declaring that the demand will be presented to the convention to mention the Klan by name and demanding its extermination.

Members of the National League of Women Voters have arrived here to petition the democratic party to recognize in its platform women's plank sought by women. The delegation is headed by Mrs. Solon R. Jacobs of Birmingham, Ala., a former vice president of the league and a former member of the democratic national committee. Other delegates include Mrs. Lorne Brown of Boston, former child welfare chairman for the National league, and Miss Gertrude Ely of Bryn Mawr, Pa. Miss Belle Sherwin of Cleveland, president, will come from Washington today to join the delegation.

J. T. Crawford, democratic national committeeman from Florida, and most of the members of that delegation, will arrive this morning. Their headquarters will be at the Madison Square hotel. The delegation, of which William Jennings Bryan is a member, is instructed for McAdoo.

Newton D. Baker is scheduled to make the nominating speech for former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio.

JURY ACQUITS GREER IN DINES SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—What happened at the gay party here last New Year's night in the course of which Courtland S. Dines, Denver oil man, was shot and seriously wounded, today remained food for the imagination of those who hopefully attended session after session of the trial of Horace A. Greer on a charge of attempting to murder Dines. The defendant was acquitted by a jury of 10 women and two men, in the superior court yesterday without having said a word from the stand.

He had scarcely finished shaking hands with the jurors when he was arrested on a charge of violating the state prohibition enforcement act. Pending preliminary hearing on this charge, he was released on $250 bail. Neither Miss Norman, Greer's former employer, or Edna Furumace, the other motion picture actress, with Dines when he was shot, were in court to hear the verdict. Miss Norman said she was not entirely satisfied with the way the trial turned out. "I wish," she said, "that the injunction had never been created that a lot of things about that party were hushed up. I didn't want anybody to shield me. I wish they had told everything; there certainly was not anything for me to be afraid to have told."

STARS OF NATIONAL REPUTE RUN HERE TOMORROW

Crowd of 5000 Expected to Attend Track Meet at Alumni Field Tomorrow

MANY COMING FROM BOSTON

Special Busses to Leave
B. A. A. Club House at 12.30 P. M. for Lowell

Entry List Stands as One of Best Ever Secured in New England

Preparations to handle a crowd of 5000 or over are today being made by the committee in charge of the open field to be run off at Alumni Field tomorrow afternoon.

The track property adjoining the park has been arranged for parking spaces and a detail of 15 policemen has been arranged for parking space and a detail of 15 policemen has been arranged to handle parking traffic in front of the park and the crowd inside the park. The interior of the park has been wired off so that sections where spectators will not be allowed are well marked.

A large tent is being erected adjoining the section of the grandstand where are located the shower baths and this will be used as a dressing room for the athletes. Police officers will be on duty inside the tent checking articles of value carried by the athletes so that there will be no danger of anything being lost or stolen.

A number of busses have been engaged, he says in his letter, and in addition to the men from the B. A. A., Manchester Athletic club and the Swedish Athletic club who are entering a large number of spectators will come in the busses.

From Lawrence it is expected that several hundred backers of the downriver high school team will come to the meet and it is believed that at least 1500 persons will come here from out of town, the larger part of this number being members of schools, clubs and colleges which have entered in the various events.

The dedication exercises of the track and field which will precede the meet will be very brief. Students of the school and members of the alumni, led by the high school regiment band, will parade about the field and then line up at a baroque erected in front of the grandstand, where a large alumni flag will be raised, marking the official opening of the new outdoor track. There is also a possibility that a man who has contributed large sums to the alumni association, and whose name has not been disclosed, will be introduced to the gathering and speak a few words on the meaning of the event.

Chairman Conway asks that all officials, every man whose name appeared in the list printed in those columns recently, be at the park at 2 o'clock to get instructions and be in readiness for the opening gun at 3 o'clock. There are 11 events scheduled and the start must be made on time if the meet is to end before darkness sets in.

The new track at Alumni field is having the finishing touches put on today. The track is 15 feet wide and 440 yards long, with a straightaway of 120 yards. The 100-yard dash and 120-yard hurdles will be started at the end of the straightaway and finish near the first curve of the track beyond first base. All other events will start and finish at a point half way down the first base line of the baseball diamond.

The track is without doubt one of the best quarter-mile tracks in a combination athletic field in New England. It is laid out very similarly to the one in the Harvard stadium and all events will be run in the same direction as the stadium, with the runner's right arm toward the outside fence of the park.

The ticket sale at the various stores throughout the city is reported today as good, although it is expected that the majority of tickets will be sold at the gate.

To avoid delays at the park, it is advisable, however, that persons going to the meet procure their tickets downtown for it is certain that there will be a very large crowd about the ticket windows and waits will be inevitable.

Single G

Greatest pacer of all times but records don't show it

The Nut Cracker

by Joe Williams

When you hear that Paddock was beaten you know what the philosopher meant when he said, "The race is not always to the swift."

The great Carpenter will next take on Mr. Gene Tunney and we presume he will do most of his training on a bicycle.

The Athletics are the worst hitting team in the big leagues but not in hitting the clutch.

Someone stole Ruth's glove in Detroit. "Why couldn't it have been his bat?" mused the enemy pitchers.

The big-mouth fish season opens this week in Ohio. . . In many places the big-mouth fish season never closes.

A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Which may merely prove you can't fool all the people all the time.

Of course, when Mr. Rickard announced there would be no outdoor fights this season he had no idea what the Yanks and Tigers planned to do.

While Harry Williams' showing may have been a disappointment to a lot of people, it was a downright relief to Jacques Kearns.

Guess that whittles are to be found

By N.E.A. Service

CLEVELAND, June 20.—A champion without a crown. As strange as it may seem that is the fate and status of Single G, 158½, greatest pacer of all times but none.

The noble pacer will again be featured on the Grand Circuit this season, as well as other points in connection with three-cornered matches with Margaret Dillon and Sir Ruel.

Single G, a four of 1910, is now in his 14th year, having been raced hard and consistently ever since 1912 when he was a two-year-old.

Has Old-Time Speed
Some days ago he turned the Indianapolis track, where he did his training, one trial trip in 2:07 and back in 2:08½. When these are not fast miles for a horse whose record is 1:58½, it indicates that he has all of his old-time speed.

Your after year Single G has raced with the fastest and gained the preference for all and year after year has defeated them time and again.

In Michigan waters. . . There are a couple of 'em around this office, too.

On the other hand, he who laughs last may have heard it before.

A defeat has its solaces. . . Paddock, for instance, knows now that a fourth place gets a better view of the finish than the winner.

Mr. O'Donoghue has no sympathy for Jim Barnes, who was beaten in the 1000 guineas tourney. "It serves him right, playing against all them Eyo-tallans."

yet comb the records and you will find that William Miss Harris M. Margaret Dillon, whom Single G has repeatedly beaten, held individual records—many of them—while Single G holds none.

His Greatest Pacer
This son of Anderson Wilkes and typ has to be content with the somewhat doubtful honor of having traveled the fastest third-beat ever paced in a race, namely 1:55½, in 1923, the fastest three-beat race ever staged, 1:55, 2:00, 2:00½, in 1924. The highest honors, though, are credited to others.

However, it is with records as with Mr. Shakespeare's race, that by any other name would smell as sweet. Why first ever records in your horse can win you a lot of money.

There never has been and perhaps never will be another horse like Single G. He's the greatest pacer in point of continuous, meritorious performance this country ever knew, and at 14 years of age is again ready to tackle the best of 'em.

TO ESTABLISH FUND FOR NEEDY PUGILISTS

NEW YORK, June 20.—Johnny Dundee will defend his 130-pound world's title against Kid Sullivan in a 10 round match in Brooklyn tonight. This is to be the feature bout of a card to be put on under the auspices of the National Sports Alliance. The receipts to be used in establishing a fund for needy pugilists.

There are 66 national bird reservations in the United States.

BARTLETT'S WIN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TITLE

The Bartlett school annexed the junior high baseball title by defeating the Edsons, 4 to 2, on the South common yesterday afternoon. The game was a play-off of a recent protested game, and the Bartletts won by scoring two runs in the final inning of play.

U. S. STARS BID FOR 3000 METRE RACE

ON BOARD S.S. AMERICA (by wireless to the Associated Press), June 20.—The American Olympic team plans to make a strong bid for the 3000 metre race in which keen competition is anticipated, especially from Great Britain and Finland. The team to whom the distance is suited better than the 1000 metres is the race of the squad. Edwin Kirby (Cornell), Leo Larivee (Holy Cross) and W. L. Tibbitts, Jr. (Harvard) are the other main hopes, while two 1500 metre men, probably Ray Butler (Illinois A.C.) and Lloyd Hahn (Boston A.A.) likely will complete the team.

The steamer is now more than half way across and is expected to arrive at Cherbourg early next Tuesday.

GOOD SPORT AT LAFAYETTE OUTING

Yesterday's outing of the Lafayette club at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro was voted the best ever. More than 200 members and friends of the popular French organization participated in the elaborate program during the afternoon. The prize winners were as follows: Plumeau race, first prize, Arthur Dumont; second prize, Joseph Willett. Pat meek's race, Z. A. Normandin took first prize, while Leo Kiroack was second.

The reception committee comprised Z. A. Normandin, J. Gagnon and A. Lambert, while the sports program was in charge of P. N. Labelle as chairman, Willis Pelletier, Gustave Fortier, Zenon Chouinard, Morrell Doyle, George Roucher, Ephraim Parnoff, Arthur Roussier, Maurice Lambert and Andre Bouthillier.

The most severe earthquake in America occurred in the heart of the Mississippi valley in 1811-1812.

AMERICAN HORSES MAY ESTABLISHES RECORD AT LONGMEADOW COURSE

LONDON, June 20.—The chances of the American team carrying off a few blue ribbons in the international horse show which opens today in the Olympia have been improved by the excellent showing of the horses during the preliminary practice yesterday.

The 14 horses which the nine army officers, comprising the American team brought with them to England, have become accustomed to the variable English weather; they are in the best of condition and their performances have been more than satisfactory.

They are entered for all the jumping events, in the light and middle weight hunter class, and the light and heavy hunter class. All have entered for the king's cup, which is the chief event of the show.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

This evening at 6 o'clock the Meadow A. C. will play the well known Pawtucket Blues. The game will be played on the Woodward avenue grounds for the championship of Pawtucketville.

This game will be the first played by the Meadow A. C. this season. Leo Laflamme will be on the mound, Landry, the Graniteville star, will be on the receiving end. The rest of the infield will be taken care of by capable high school stars, including George Normandin, who will play first base; Gerald Brown, who will play the keystone sack; Francis Pearsall, who will play 2nd, and "Jim" Corbett, who will do his stuff at short.

The field will be scouted by three of the following: Constantineau, Lord, Guyette, Gagnon, Pelletier and Johnston.

Local batting order will run in the following order: Corbett ss, Pelletier lf, Cronin 2b, Constantineau lf, Pears-

ESTABLISHES RECORD AT LONGMEADOW COURSE

"Beagle" Maquire, of the B. C. Maquire Co., who is spending a few weeks in the "old home town," set up a record at Long Meadow yesterday afternoon by making No. 9 hole in two strokes for the first time in the history of the links.

A large "gallery" was on hand to witness the stunt and the cheering section led by Ed Smith, accorded the golfer due recognition for his achievement.

Maquire, during his connection with the B. C. Maquire Co., has toured the country several times, playing on various links, including some of the most famous in the United States.

Police Believe Max Greenberg, of "Egan's Rats" Planned Mail Robbery

Federal Authorities Prepared to Demand Indictments on Dozen Counts

CHICAGO, June 20.—Government agents in the search for the four men still wanted in the $2,000,000 bondout, Ill., mail robbery of June 12, have come to Herrin, Ill., storm center of William Greenberg, leader of "Egan's Rats" of St. Louis, who is the man who planned the holdup, is hiding here.

According to Chief of Detectives Hughes, Greenberg left St. Louis in an automobile several days ago. A. E. Gerner, chief postal inspector, received a tip that Greenberg had gone to Herrin, causing him to send officers there last night.

Meanwhile federal authorities are prepared to go before the grand jury today with evidence against the missing suspects, and the four in custody to demand the indictment of the men on a dozen different counts. A quantity of jewelry, including several diamond rings and watches valued at $500 was found yesterday, under a bridge at Channahon, Illinois, and is believed to be a part of a jewelry shipment taken by the robbers from the mail bags.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 20.—Profit-taking and bear selling in various sections of the industrial list failed to halt the general upward movement of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Impressive strength again developed in the public utility and railroad shares, new 1924 highs being recorded by New Haven, Erie common, American Water Works common and 6 per cent. preferred and Schulte Stores, the gains ranging from a fraction to 5 1/2 points. Atlantic Refining preferred dropped 1/2 and Colorado Fuel one.

Buying power showed after the first batch of overnight orders had been executed and the list turned reactionary on the heavy selling of Davison Chemicals which broke three points. American Water Works common which had climbed 7 1/2 points to 41 fell back to 75 while Colorado Fuel, General Electric, U. S. East, Easton, Chandler Motors, Kelle Springfield common and Stewart-Warner sagged 1 to 3 points. Independent strength developed in Matheson Alkali which advanced 3 1/2 points to a new 1924 top at 46 1/2, while Schulte extended its early gain to three points. Foreign exchange opened firm.

Simultaneous establishment of new high and low prices for the year in the different sections of the list reflected the play of opposing speculative forces. Professional attempts to unsettle the market were abandoned just before noon on the renewal of a strong demand for the rails, tobacco, public utilities, southern pacific, West Virginia, American Smelting and Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron being added to the list of stocks to record new peak prices. American Water Works common, which had climbed 7 1/2 points to 41 in the first few minutes of trading then fell back to 75, moved up again to 83 while the 6 per cent. preferred reached another high at 36.

Virginia Railway & Power climbed 4 points. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

Recognized market leaders were relegated to obscurity in the forward swing of the afternoon when many ordinarily obscure shares rose buoyantly on active buying. Universal and Radiator, United Railways and Investment preferred, Market Street Railway prior preferred, National Lead and Gulf, Mobile & Northern preferred climbed 3 to 4 points. Atlantic Refining jumped 2 1/2, but the preferred stock broke, 1 1/2 to 110, a new low.

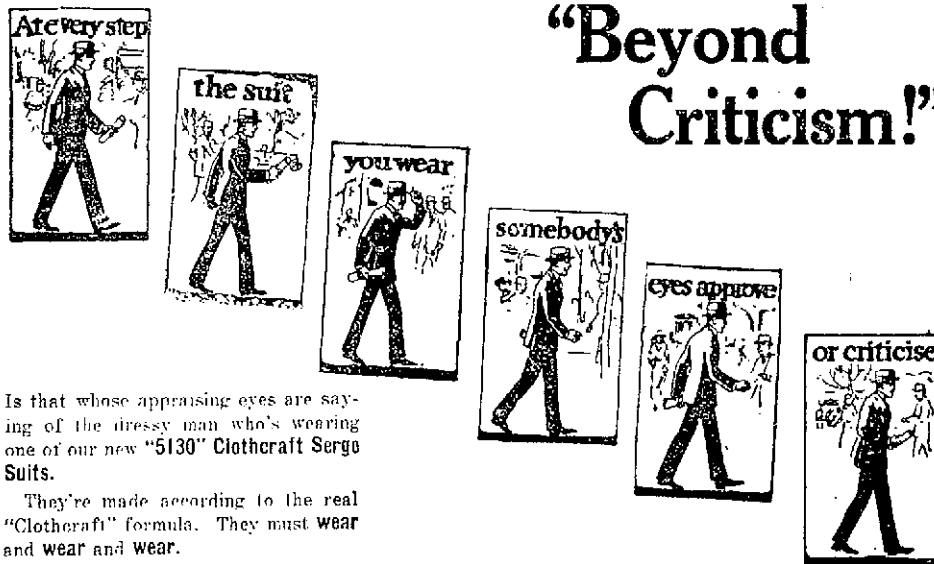

The closing was irregular. American Water Works extended its gain to nearly 12 points in the late dealings, while special strength also developed in Erie, Houston Oil and International Business Machines.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Foreign exchange easy. Great Britain demand 4.33; cables 4.33 1/2; 60-day bills on banks 4.80 1/2; France demand 5.35; cables 5.37; Italy demand 4.2 1/2; cables 4.25 1/2; Belgium demand 4.67; Germany demand 27.42; Holland demand 13.32; Sweden demand 26.55; Denmark demand 15.30; Switzerland demand 17.75; Spain demand 18.41; Greece demand 1.75; Poland demand 80.00; Czechoslovakia demand 2.55; Jugoslavia demand 1.19; Austria demand 80.14; Rumania demand 32.78; Brazil demand 11.00; Tokio demand 41 1/2; Montreal 36 1/2-37.

PLAYERS FINED AND SUSPENDED

Meusel, Cole and Ruth Remanded for Part in Riot at Detroit

CHICAGO, June 20.—Bob Meusel of the Yankkees, was suspended for ten days and fined $100, Pitcher Bert Cole of the Tigers was suspended for ten days and fined $50, and Babe Ruth was fined $50 for their part in the riotous Detroit-New York game at Detroit last Friday. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, announced today.

Fighting and boisterous conduct will not be tolerated in the playing of American League games, Johnson declared.

Johnson was chiefly responsible for the outbreak, he asserted.

Johnson said Ruth's "frenzied efforts to participate in the trouble were reprehensible."

Cook With Gas

and Keep Cool

Now that the warm weather has arrived, with hotter weather in store for us, why not prepare to keep your home as comfortable as possible, by using a modern, clean, efficient Gas Range. Do away with that old cook stove that sizzles with heat and makes so much dust and dirt in the kitchen.

In using a Gas Range, the heat can be turned off just as soon as the cooking is done and will not be forced from the kitchen throughout the other rooms.

A Gas Range cooks quicker and requires less care, therefore you finish your work sooner and get out of the kitchen altogether.

A $2 Payment

A $2.00 Payment will place a Gas Range in your kitchen, the remainder to be paid in easy installments. We can make immediate installations so that you need not fear the hot days that are apt to come most any time.

If you cannot come to our Appliance Store, phone 349 and a salesman will call.

TO LAY WILSON'S LAST POLITICAL WILL BEFORE PLATFORM COMMITTEE

Baltimore Sun Says Group of Former President's Followers Plan to Lay "Memorandum" Before Members of Resolutions Committee at New York

BALTIMORE, June 20.—A copyrighted dispatch from a staff correspondent at New York to the Baltimore Sun today says:

"Woodrow Wilson's last political will and testament—a document of party principle and policy—is to be laid by a group of his followers before the members of the resolutions committee when the time comes to write the democratic platform.

"The 'memorandum' as it is called, the dispatch says, takes this position on foreign relationships:

L. S. Membership in League

"Straight out and straight forward membership of the United States in the League of Nations and an abandonment of a far-sighted policy of un-official observation.

"Adherence of this nation to the permanent international court of justice under the auspices of the league and with an unflinching reservation.

"On domestic matters, the former president and his political associates agreed upon these policies:

Liberal Toward Prohibition

"A liberal attitude toward prohibition, but with law enforcement, whatever the law may be.

"Revision downward of federal taxation as radically and as rapidly as the state of treasury will permit.

"A careful and scientific revision downward of the tariff to promote foreign trade and to prevent the exploitation of the many for the aggrandizement of the few.

"Relief for the farmer by granting to him additional credit when needed.

"Re-examination of the whole transportation problem by congress looking toward lower rates and with the possible creation of a new department of transportation having representation in the cabinet.

"A direct declaration for religious freedom, the separation of church and state, and the condemnation of any power which would openly or covertly impair any religious rights."

The document, the correspondent says, was drafted by Mr. Wilson a few months before his death in collaboration with eight or nine of his closest friends. In the group were: Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas; Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former secretary of war; Senator Carter Glass of Virginia; Senator Claude A. Swanson of Virginia; Norman H. Davis, former under-secretary of state; Bernard M. Baruch of New York; David P. Houston, former secretary of agriculture and later secretary of the treasury; and Frank L. Cobb, now dead, for many years editor of the New York World.

SUBPOENAS FOR SEC. MELLON AND SECRETARY

NEW YORK, June 20.—Subpoenas were issued today requiring the presence of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his secretary, Arthur Sixsmith, at the trial of Captain B. Means and Elmer W. Jarnette, in federal court next Tuesday.

Means, former agent of the department of justice, and Jarnette, his secretary, are being tried before Federal Judge Wolverton on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law through the withdrawal of liquor.

The names of Secretary Mellon and Sixsmith were brought into the testimony on Wednesday by John W. Hubbard, of Trenton, N. J. He testified that he had had an opportunity to buy whiskey obtainable through special government connections from the Thompson distillery, Warhousers at Brownsville, Pa. Through Frank D. Saupp, an automobile dealer, Hubbard said he had paid $15,000 to Charles W. Johnson, who was negotiating directly with Means.

Hubbard testified that the plan, failed, and that he did not get his money back. He said he then had lunch with Sixsmith who urged him to complain to Secretary Mellon. He said he did so telling Mellon of the part played by Means in the attempted transaction. The secretary replied Hubbard said, that he was "surprised a government official would do anything like that."

At Mr. Mellon's suggestion, the witness said officials in charges were made before Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair. The government rested its case against Means and Jarnette after Special Prosecutor Todd had called as witnesses, three telephone operators who identified slips covering telephone calls by Jarnette to Means from a Pittsburgh hotel to one in this city.

Before opening the defense Thomas W. Feller, Means' counsel, announced that he had obtained subpoenas for Secretary Mellon and Sixsmith. Mr. Feller said he desired to question them concerning Hubbard's testimony.

After Judge Wolverton had denied a motion to dismiss the indictment, Feller made his opening address, asserting that he expected to prove that all the acts attributed to Means and Jarnette, were in the line of their duty as department of justice investigators and that the indictment of Means and Jarnette from the government's service was instituted by a high government official.

"We expect to show," Feller said, "that gigantic liquor deals were uncovered by them in this country and that some of the most distinguished men in this country were connected either directly or indirectly with these violations."

NEW PARTY TO ORGANIZE TODAY

Party Nominated Ticket and Adopted Platform at Convention Yesterday

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20.—(By the Associated Press) The national committee of the new national farmer-labor party which adjourned its three days' convention last night after nominating a provisional ticket and adopting a platform, met here today to organize and discuss methods for conducting its work.

The committee, which is composed of two delegates from each state and one from each national and economic and political party, was to elect an executive committee and a chairman. In addition to drawing up plans for negotiating with the conference for progressive political action to be held at Cleveland, July 4. The communists, who filed the convention just closed, have control of the committee, which includes William Z. Foster and C. E. Ruthenberg of the Workers' party; E. A. Hawthorn, and Joseph Manley of the federated farmer-labor party; Alexander Howatt, Kansas; Duncan McDonald, Illinois; William Rouch, Washington; Charles E. Taylor, Montana, and William Mahoney and Louis Enstrom, Minnesota.

McDonald, whose home is at Springfield, Ill., was nominated by acclamation as the party's candidate for president. Rouch, who is a Puget Sound rancher, was chosen as the vice-presidential standard-bearer.

Their nominations came after farmer delegates had attempted to get the convention to endorse Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, for president. The national committee was instructed to negotiate with the Cleveland gathering in an effort to have Senator La Follette endorse the St. Paul convention.

McDonald's candidacy was pressed only in the event that Senator La Follette refused the communists' endorsement. The senator previously had repudiated the St. Paul convention.

High spots in the platform included: Recognition of soviet Russia called for; nationalization of large industries with participation in the management by workers; government ownership of banks; public ownership of railroads and marketing institutions; compensation for the unemployed and employment of the unemployed on public works such as road building and swamp reclamation; and a federal minimum wage law for all workers.

SUMMER CLASSES

Special Instruction Will Begin at High School on Monday, July 7

The second annual summer review session of the high school will open at the local school on Monday, July 7, and will continue for a period of six weeks.

The review school is arranged for the purpose of providing an opportunity for first and second year pupils who have unsatisfactory standing in any subject to improve their records by extra study during six weeks of the summer vacation.

Last year the first session of the summer review school was held and proved very successful, over 150 students taking advantage of the opportunity offered them, and a very large proportion of this number were successful at the close of the school session in passing examinations which permitted them to go ahead with their regular classes—rather than have to repeat the subject as was formerly the case or drop it completely.

The session will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m., five days in the week and will be divided into three periods of one hour each. The work will be intensive and will be planned to give each pupil what he most needs to enable him to pass a make-up examination given by regular day school teachers at the close of the session or during the first week of the fall term.

The subjects will be taught by regular high school teachers and the spirit that will permeate the school will be that of helpfulness. The teaching will be more individual and tutorial in character than that obtained in the regular school and will aim to teach the pupil how to study and work independently. Pupils who are ambitious to make up defective records who failed because of sickness or absence or because of inattention and are now anxious to work are the ones whom the school is designed to serve.

The summer high school does not give diploma credits. It helps ambitious pupils win their credits in the regular school.

No pupil will be accepted for less than two hours, one of which must be spent in study. The school will be a comfortable place to spend the mornings of the warm summer days, and it is designed to be a busy workshop where idlers are not desired and will not be permitted to distract the attention of teachers and pupils who are ambitious and wish to work.

DISTRIBUTION OF BONUS BLANKS

Maj. Gen. Davis Begins Work of Mailing Six Million Application Blanks

First Consignment Despatched to Most Remote Geographical Districts

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Distribution of application blanks for adjusted world war service compensation provided for the soldier bonus act has been started by Major General Robert C. Davis, adjutant general of the army and will be completed by June 28. The distribution consists of six million blank application forms and is made possible through co-operation of American Legion posts, Red Cross chapters, veterans of foreign wars and the disabled American Veterans' organization.

In a statement today describing the method of distribution, General Davis said the blanks are being mailed as rapidly as they can be delivered by the public printer, the first consignments being despatched to the more remote geographical districts. Consignments for those points six days or so distant from Washington, were mailed last Monday, those for points five days distant were mailed Tuesday and nearby points will receive the papers by Saturday, June 21.

Actual distribution of the papers to veterans will begin next Monday, the schedule calling for the completion of that task by June 28.

LOWELL DELEGATES TO GO ON MONDAY

Local delegates to the national democratic convention in New York will meet with other delegates from the state districts in Boston on Monday. Present plans call for making the trip to New York Monday night. The Lowell delegation will include Humphrey O'Sullivan and Andrew E. Barrett, delegates, and John J. Mullaney and Michael Hour, alternates.

CAMPAINING FOR SHERIFF

Prudent citizens learn that a former well known resident of the town, Michael St. Ledger, is campaigning for the office of sheriff in Skowhegan, Me. He is proprietor of a general business concern in the Maine city and has an interest also in a prosperous motion picture theatre there.

with Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City in charge. A meeting of citizens interested in the governor's campaign will be held this afternoon. The governor will not attend the meeting or the convention. It was said at his headquarters.

The deepest dyed dark horse of the convention has been discovered in Franklin D. Roosevelt, Gov. Smith's manager. Mr. Roosevelt has a full count shows defeat. The Herald-Tribune had the following page one heading: "Heard-Smith deal is called day's best joke."

was Dr. John McArdle of Lawrence, who stated that he has treated Buckley for various ailments for a number of years. He did not know, he said, that his patient was addicted to the drug habit until three years ago, when Mrs. Buckley, who told him she had been a nurse before her marriage, informed him that her husband had become a pronounced addict, and that he was in the habit of taking two and three grains of morphine in one dose. This amount, said Dr. McArdle, would kill an ordinary man not accustomed to its usage, the average dose being one-quarter grain. The physiological effect of the drug wears off in about eight hours, he added, and then the craving returns, and the only way to cure this craving is to increase the patient and gradually reduce the dose. The habit is curable, he believed, in six months or a year, but often requires longer treatment. Dr. McArdle said he has known Mr. Buckley for about 40 years and always regarded him as a man of high character. He is a master-plumber in Lawrence.

Dr. Fred N. Taylor of Dr. Taylor's sanitarium in Roxbury, a specialist in narcotic treatment, was the medical expert called. He testified to treating Mr. and Mrs. Buckley for a month in his private institution. He said Mr. Buckley was very sick when he came to him, but that Mrs. Buckley did not appear to be suffering to any great extent, although she confessed to him that she was slightly addicted to morphine. The couple left his care in the middle of May apparently much improved.

Dr. Albert Stearns, physician in the state prison at Charlestown, where the Buckleys underwent treatment after their arrest, stated that Mr. Buckley was feeble, weak and tremulous when he first saw him on May 28.
